BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. WADE, PECHAN, STEVENSON, BLASS, PEELOR, CHAPMAN, DIEHM, HARNEY, LANE, WAGNER, SCOTT and WATKINS read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1045, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 31, 1949 (P. L. 372) entitled "The General State Authority Act of 1949" increasing the power of the Authority to borrow money and issue evidences of indebtedness therefor and allocating the proceeds of the increased borrowing.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, over this past week end, I noted in the newspapers a good many stories quoting, by Governor Leader and his Attorney General, highly indignant statements made in connection with the Governor's veto of House Bill No. 1880. This bill provided for the acceleration of collection of the Capital Stock Tax.

To my mind, Mr. President, the Governor's violent reaction against so sound a bill as House Bill No. 1180 must be attributed either to misunderstanding of the bill, or to a definite bias against the improvement of the business climate in Pennsylvania.

The Governor's denunciation of the bill is the more curious because the clauses to which he particularly objects are to be found in almost identical language in Senate Bill No. 925. This bill, which I introduced on December 20th, was cosponsored at my request by Democratic State Chairman, Senator Joseph M. Barr and Senator Henry Propert. It was reported out by the Senate Finance Committee on January 17, but was recommitted the following day after the failure of House Bill No. 1879.

Now, Mr. President, House Bill No. 1880 as amended to include the provisions of Senate Bill No. 925 and approved by both Houses before being vetoed by the Governor, would have accomplished two very desirable ends:

First, it would have brought into the General Fund of the Commonwealth a total of about $50,000,000 in the biennium.

Second, it would have permitted Pennsylvania corporations to take advantage of the same formula for computing their capital stock taxes that is enjoyed by their out-of-State competitors. This move seems to me to be entirely in keeping with the Governor's avowed intention of developing existing business in Pennsylvania while inviting new business to come in.

Actually, Governor Leader evidently disagrees with both objectives. He declares that under the bill, as passed by Senate and House, the entire $52,000,000 which it was anticipated would be forthcoming to the State as a result of the "step-up" in capital stock tax collections might be lost. How Governor Leader accounts for this statement, I cannot understand. According to the best estimates of business leaders in Pennsylvania, business leaders who are definitely interested in the amount this bill will raise, the use of the out-of-State formula by Pennsylvania concerns could make a difference of about five to six million dollars in tax in the biennium. Let us be generous and assume that the change would come to around $10,000,000.

To counteract this loss, I am convinced on a study of business conditions that the Administration has under estimated the yield from the Capital Stock Tax by at least $10,000,000. Thus, at worst the Commonwealth would lose no money by its fair-play gesture to Pennsylvania business, and it might realize a full five million dollars more than the estimates made by the Administration.

People who are interested in keping and building payrolls in Pennsylvania should certainly be interested in furthering, not in preventing, such forward-looking legislation.

Governor Leader has certainly professed himself to be interested. For instance, he says in his budget message of April 19, 1955 approximately a year ago that was, when the session was only three-and-a-half months old:

"I also suggest to the Legislature that it now begin the job of clearing away some of the brush that has grown up around our tax system in Pennsylvania."

House Bill No. 1880, as amended, clears away a brush pile that had its inception in the term of Governor Leader's most recent Democratic predecessor. Governor George H. Earle. For more than 20 years, the anti-business bias of that Administration, as written into the Capital Stock Tax Law, has been permitted to spread its thorny brush around the companies which support the economic livelihood of this Commonwealth. What better time to uproot it than in the Administration of the first Democratic Governor since Governor Earle?

Furthermore, the Tax Study Committee, of which at least three prominent Democrats were members, namely, Senator Lane, Representative Readinger and G. Franklin McSorley, all associated with Governor Leader in this Administration, recommended in 1933 with respect to this very problem that:

> "Domestic corporations should certainly have the same tax advantages as foreign corporations. Allowing domestic corporations, at their option, to utilize the same allocation formula as foreign corporations would presumably entail some loss of revenue. Nevertheless the equal treatment of domestic and foreign corporations be attained by the best method available."

Again in 1955 the Committee stated:

> "Domestic corporations should have the same tax advantages as foreign corporations. One method to accomplish this result would be that of permitting such corporations to utilize the same allocation formula as foreign corporations. Providing equality of treatment in this manner would involve some loss of revenue, of an amount unknown."

And the same Committee, with these same Democrats as members, stated in their second report in 1955:

> "Pennsylvania is known as a high corporation tax state."
> Because a problem is old is no reason for denying it solution.

I am rather more convinced than ever that Governor Leader doesn't fully understand House Bill No. 1880 when he says: "This situation may well be construed by the Courts as an unconstitutional discrimination."

Now, Mr. President, as everybody knows, I am no lawyer. However, I have had an unusual exposure to tax laws during the past fifteen months, and I think it is fair to say that this limited background, plus a considerable amount of reading and study, qualify me to at least raise a very large doubt, as to the statement of the Governor and also his Attorney General that this bill might violate the Constitution.

These are the same gentlemen, you will remember, who declared that the Classified Income Tax "had been shaped within the limitations of the Constitution." This, no doubt, accounts for the rather fantastic shape of the classified income tax, for to be shaped "within the limitation of the Constitution," it would have had to by-pass four court precedents, an overwhelming accumulation of authoritative legal opinions to the contrary and the stalwart barrier of just plain common sense.

As I see the law of this Commonwealth, the following points are crystal clear:

1. The power to impose taxes for the support of the State belongs to the Legislature. The selections of the subjects of taxation, their description and the methods of collection are also matters of legislative discretion.

2. A corporation, we must all admit, is subject to the taxing power of the State of its creation.

3. And finally, the State may tax every species of property permanently within the limits of this State ,unless otherwise exempt.

Thus, it becomes obvious that the simple matter of a single beneficial change in the manner of collecting the Capital Stock Tax, such as was provided in House Bill No. 1880, represents no constitutional challenge at all.

The Legislature is well within its rights in approving the law. The Governor is merely adding to a mounting volume of evidence that he will oppose legislation beneficial to business, forgetting that he thus injures wage earners and the State's economy as well.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, while Senator Kessler is busy shedding tears and worrying about our corporations, I think he also should think and shed a few tears about some of the people who make up this Commonwealth. I think Senator Kessler, not being a lawyer, may appreciate my pointing out to him that corporations are merely fictitious entities. Many many times, they are used to evade taxes and are many, many times set up to cover individuals who do not wish to act as individuals, but who wish to act through some sort of a fictitious entity that has been created by the State.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, you will forgive me for not having a prepared text. I am sure that most of the lobbyists sitting around here will not nod their heads in agreement about the things I am going to say. However, I still hope they will give it some careful attention and consideration. During the reports from committees, I waited very attentively to find out what was going to happen to House Bill No. 655.

House Bill No. 655 came over from the House and it is merely an enabling act. I think the entire bill takes up a single page and I think there is altogether in the bill perhaps fifty words. However, some how or other, the very same gentlemen who are very anxious to pass bills of the length of 117 pages, dealing with many complex subjects, find themselves constrained to passing a small bill of this type because they find they do not understand it. If they will indulge me for a moment, I will try to explain this simple bill.

Mr. President, this bill merely allows the city of Philadelphia, which incidentally and parenthetically I wish to say takes up and makes up twenty per cent of the persons living in this Commonwealth, to come under the same provisions as the other sixty-six counties. It allows them to have better health facilities and to provide many of the services that persons get all over the world. For the gentlemen of the Senate who are sometimes moved by their prejudice against Philadelphia, I would also like to add that people have come from all over the Country, and all over the world, within the last few years to view our medical system and our public health system because it is one of the finest in the Country.

This bill was reported from the House and came over to the Senate. It even was reported from Senator Pechan's committee, the Commitee on Public Health and Welfare, and was even on our Calendar. It was then sent back to committee because somebody in the Republican Caucus said they did not understand it. I then went to the Chairman of the Committee and tried to discuss the problem with him. I had Doctor Mattison, of the Department of Health, write to Senator Pechan and other members of the committee. Senator Pechan, very fairly, told me he would have the bill reconsidered. At that time, when we discussed it, I said that I thought the proper way would be to bring it before the Republican Caucus, because they are the ones who are passing on these bills and not the committee. Senator Pechan agreed that that would be so. That bill was taken up today and I assume, by the fact that it was not reported from committee, that it has been marked as being dead.

Mr. President, I wish somebody from the other side of the aisle would explain to me why Philadelphia should be excluded while all the other counties are included. If that could be explained to me, I would be most happy to hear it and I feel that it would be very enlightening not only to myself, but to the people who make up this Commonwealth. If they are going to give me the old gimmick that there is not enough money in the budget, I would like to point out to them that this Monev has already been included and is in the budget at present. That is not the problem. If it is a problem of the amount, I am sure we can sort of work something out on that problem if they want to limit cities of the first class or counties of the first class.

I would also like to point out to Senator Kessler, who was so worried about this tax and who was sort of an expert on the other tax, that I have gone over the Conference Report and I have read through this tax thing very carefully. Numerous persons have asked me questions about it. They have limited the words "tangible personal property" to a meaning which I do not understand and which is absolutely foreign to anybody who has ever studied any law or the meaning of those words in Anglo-Saxon. The loopholes in that bill are so large that you can drive ten trucks through it. Most people do not understand who is covered by it, whether it be retailer, wholesaler, distributor or manufacturer. If this bill is enforced along the lines that they say they are going to enforce it, and is handled the way they say they are going to handle it, I do not see how anybody, whether he be a manufacturer or engaged in any other process in our economic or commercial life, is going to be able to evade paying the taxes. Even though the friends—and I use the word "friends" advisedly and in quotes—have been taken care of by exclusion, at the same time, they have included almost everybody. I do not see that even promulgating regulations will straightened out that situation.

The very same thing is true of the bill that Senator Kessler was worried about, and the one he was shedding tears about and the one which was also not very clear. I commend the Governor for being forthright and not signing it, even though it means a loss to the Commonwealth.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I listened to the gentleman from Lancaster, Senator Kessler, and I was torn by conflicting emotions. I was torn between the desire to shed tears for the so-called overtaxed industries and whether to drop a solitary tear for those unfortunates of ours who are faced with the very bleak future of living in mental institutions over the years. Then I thought to myself that I wonder if Senator Kessler has all the facts and whether what he is telling the Senate is the entire truth in the matter. I called upon my limited knowledge of the workings of the capital stock tax in Pennsylvania and, therein. I found the answer to Senator Kessler's plea for industry.

First of all, Mr. President, let us see what happened. Senator Kessler, as part of a group of Members of this Senate, designed a tax program that was to meet a limited budget for this biennium. In this tax program, we had to use certain estimates to arrive at a budget figure because, as you all know, the Governor cannot sign appropriations beyond the revenue estimates. If he does then he certainly can be prosecuted. He cannot put the State of Pennsylvania into a deliberated deficiency. In computing the estimates, we arrive at a figure of $320,000,000—$322,000,000, to be exact—as the yield from the sales tax. We arrived at a figure of $30,000,00 just out of the air, if you please, as the increased revenue from the corporate net income tax. We arrived at a figure of $3,500,000 from the yield to be estimated from the hotel room tax. We arrived at a figure of $52,000,000 on the capital stock tax acceleration.

Mr. President, when I joined in the Conference Committee Reports and stood upon this floor, I gave these estimates to the Members of the Senate as the estimates that we had agreed upon. Senator Kessler gave the same estimates to the newspapers. I have a copy of the newspaper with which to refresh Senator Kessler's memory. The last Conference Report, from the Committee on Conference of which I was a member, deliberately removed $19,000,000 from the sales tax by exempting; at that time, electricity and telephone.

I want to say here and now that the tears that were wasted on the so-called little peoples of this Commonwealth, whom you said you were protecting by taking out electricity and telephone bills, were of no avail. The truth of the matter is that the large electrical consumers are the commercial and industrial users, outside of manufacturing, for their own offices and to carry on the work in the offices of running the many electrical machines that they use. In the commercial field, we have the bright lights on Main Street. Therefore, you were not sending any gift of roses back to the little peoples of this State. You were, however, carrying out the Kessler formula of shifting the tax burden from those able to pay onto the little peoples of this great State. That process has gone on sice 1939, January 2nd. We have watched a process of relieving tax payers who are able to pay taxes and burdening those who are least able to pay. This culminated in an election in 1952.

For the information of Senator Kessler and the other sponsors of special interests, I would like to read you some pertinent facts to show you that the amendments inserted into the capital stock acceleration bill were deliberate and were a steal on the little peoples.

In the 1954 Federal tax bill with the Eisenhower amendments—and I am speaking now of Eisenhower as the President of the United States and not as the General of the United States Army or as an ordinary citizen who is carrying, at this time, the grevious cross of illness. All of us have never hesitated to wish him God-speed in recovery and an early defeat next year. The Eisenhower tax bill gave seventy-three per cent of the relief accorded in that bill, of $11,000,000,000 to corporations; eighteen per cent to higher income groups and nine per cent for the rest of the people and the small businesses of this great Nation. Since 1952 the take-home pay or profit after taxes, if you please, of big corporations has risen thirty-six per cent. The little fellow's take-home pay his risen nine per cent. Farm income declined in the same period twenty-seven per cent. Income for corporation shareholders increased during this period twenty-nine per cent. In fact, in the last half of 1955 corporate shareholders received more dividend income than all of the farm families gross income in the United States for farming in this country. Even the thirty-six per cent increase of corporations does not tell the entire story. United States Steel profits, after taxes, in 1955, were up 178 per cent over 1952. General Motors was up 136 per cent over 1952, or a clear cool $1,000,000,000 after taxes. I remember a man who is in the Eisenhower Cabinet, the former President of General Motors, who said, "What is good for General Motors is good for the United States." I imagine that that story will dog him for many years.

In the first nine months of 1955—and I think these figures are pertinent to the situation we find ourselves in today in discussing House Bill No. 1880—the profit rate of large corporate stockholders' investments rose twenty-seven per cent above the same period of 1952, while the smaller corporations' returns dropped thirty-nine per cent. The number of new businesses every year, since Eisenhower, is only one-eighth of the number of new businesses created every year under Truman. Business failures—and this is according to Dun and Bradstreet, in case you want to know where I got my figures—showed that in 1947 business failures stood at 3,474 failures, but in 1954 there were 11,000 business failures in the United States. In the last ten year period under the Democrats, failures were one-half as many as the total in the three years under the Republicens. Under Truman, 50,000 new businesses were created every year, as I said. Under Eisenhower, last year, there were only 6,500. The Federal Commerce Department has become so disturbed over this that in a recent bulletin it advised any person or groups who were interested in going into business in these United States to take into consideration the calculated risk that they only had a fifty-fifty chance of survival. That is the kind of tampering of big business over little business that the people in these United States are subjected to.

We have all heard a great deal of talk about the 1955 boom. Let us just analyze the boom and see what is in it. Do you know what it is? How many of you have taken time to try to analyze it and to come up with an answer? I will tell you what the boom is about. The boom has been created by the purchase of tangible goods on credit. Your credit and installment buying last year rose to the unheard of figure of $36,-000,000,000. Mortgages rose to the tune of $89,000,000,000. You cannot buy permanent prosperity on borrowed money. Your boom today is a fictitious credit boom. Some day the fiddler will stop the music and demand payment and the dancing will stop.

Let us look up the ecenomy records for the past two years, since 1953. Steel, aluminum and the other metals rose sixteen percent; rent upped thirteen per cent; automobiles upped six per cent. These are in the cost to the peoples. Gas and electricity upped seven per cent. Do you know what the reason is that the over-all picture has not slid out of the screen? I will tell you what it is. It is because farm income is down sixteen per cent, resulting in lower food prices which appear on the surface to balance the little man's budget for him. The farmers in this State and the farmers in the United States are paying for the fictitous boom that we now have.

Now, Senator Kessler, in order that you be given a little more information on the workings of the so-called capital stock tax, I do not profess to be an expert such as you have admitted to be; I am just an ordinary Member of this Senate. However, I can read a little and I can deduct a little. I find that your capital stock tax structure in this State is based upon two separate tax formulas. In the same tax bill you will find that there is a capital stock tax and a foreign franchise tax. These are two separate and distinguishable tax bases. The one is called the domestic corporation capital stock tax and it has been declared to be, by decision, a property tax. In ascertaining the amount of taxes due the Commonwealth, a domestic corporation does use three separate and distinct bases for computation. One is the cash value of the property, tangible and so forth. The second is the assets over liabilities, which gives you your cash value, and then your dividends and your gross earnings. You take all three and after you get the proper equation, you add the three sums and you divided by three to get the equalizer which is used as the base for domestic stock corporations to pay their taxes into the Commonwealth.

Then we move over to the foreign franchise tax. It also has three separate and distinct bases. They are these. One, the tangible property of the foreign corporation in Pennsylvania over the tangible property all over any other ownings of the corporation outside the State. Number two, the wages paid in Pennsylvania over the wages paid all over the corporation outside of the State. Number three, the gross receipts in Pennsylvania over the gross recipts of the entire industry outside of the State of Pennsylvania.

What Senator Kessler has done is that he has said—and I want to state here why this has been done because I was approached, if you please, to do this very thing for a certain company. One individual company is responsible for this amendment. I will prove it because the same company has approached more than one Member of this Senate and House of Representatives to introduce for that company the very amendment that was sneaked into this capital stock tax bill. The Company is the Dresser Company, out of Bradford, Pennsylvania. Let us take the history of this company and bring it out into the open.

This company at Bradford manufactures tool bits and other equipment used in well drilling. We all know that the Pennsylvania oil fields are not the booming oil fields of yesterday. We all know that Texas has become in this generation the great oil happy-hunting grounds. The Dresser Corporation, while keeping its entity as a Pennsylvania corporation, moved lock, stock and barrel its manufacturing end of the business to Texas. While in Pennsylvania and producing in this State, they paid the capital stock tax without one complaint over the years. After they moved their physical plant outside of this Commonwealth, they come into the State of Pennsylvania and want to have the right to figure their tax on the basis of a foreign franchise tax rather than a Pennsylvania domesticated corporation. Incidentally, they were turned down by the Revenue Department and the Attorney General's Office.

I think, Mr. Kessler, because this case is so fresh in the minds of those who administer the laws of this Commonwealth, they were a little suspicious of House Bill No. 1880 when it arrived at the Governor's Office and knew where to look for the gimmick and found it.

Therefore, Mr. President, Dresser Company, being unable to get sponsorship from the Floor Leader in the House and being unable to get sponsorship from this side for their particular bill, had a bill introduced, I believe by Senator Kessler and, if I am not mistaken, I think Senator Barr might have gone along with him. I think that bill would not have been effective immediately and would have been more of a study proposition as to the effect of this kind of legislation. The Dresser Company, having failed in that, somehow or other reached somebody—I will not mention names—and somebody in this Senate was talked to because lo and behold, when the Governor received House Bill No. 1880 there was the Dresser amendment neatly packaged into the bill.

No man on this floor knew of this amendment or had the decency to speak of it. I have to say we were ignorant of it, all of us, because I would hate to think that any Member of this Senate knew about it and did not tell the Senate when I stood on this floor and clamed $52,000,000 worth of revenue this year and next year because of the acceleration of the capital stock tax in the Commonwealth. Whoever put that amendment into the bill knew that we could not get $52,000,000 because he opened a door for reduced payments into the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, the Department of Revenue tells me that every corporation in this State, American Window Glass Company, Alcoa, The Aluminum Company of America, Gulf Oil Company, Bethlehem Steel, Jones and Laughlin Steel and all the big corporations that do a great deal of business outside of Pennsylvania, would now find themselves in this position if your bill were allowed to be law. They would take the year in which they have high income outside of Pennsylvania and pay a capital stock tax in Pennsylvania, based on the property or the number one option of the bill. In a year in which they had a high income in Pennsylvania and a low income outside the State of Pennsylvania, they would elect to take the option on the foreign franchise tax.

Another little insignificant feature of the bill, Mr. President, is that after taking the option and the Department of Revenue works out the equations and comes up with a tax base, then that company, if it worked out contrary to their expectations and they found themselves with a greater tax than they would have if they had exercised the other option, can immediately tear up the papers and start all over on the other option. No State in the Union allows such a darn, silly thing.

We find ourselves with this bill before the Governor. What else does this bill do? Yes, it takes care of the Dresser Corporation which, incidentally, does not do too much employing in Pennsylvania. What does this bill do to the little Pennsylvania corporations in this State of ours that do not have outside interests and do not operate outside the Sate of Pennsylvania? They would find they cannot take an option under this bill, because they have nothing in their corporate setup where they can except the tangible property proposition in Pennsylvania as against their tangible properties outside the State because they have none.

You say you are helping Pennsylvania industry, but let us bring things right out into the open. When this bill came from the House, Mr. President, the Democratic Party had listened long and loudly to the Republican story over the years that when we removed the manufacturers' exemption from the capital stock tax in this Commonwealth, we struck a terrible blow at the basic strength of manufacturing in Pennsylvania. For twenty long years, the Chamber of Commerce has screamed to the high heavens for the manufacturers' exemption in the capital stock tax structure. The Democratic Party, in its first year in power in Pennsylvania, sent over to this Senate House Bill No. 1880 from the House and, therein, was contained an amendment which removed Pennsylvania manufacturing corporations from the payment of the capital stock tax in this great Commonwealth.

Mr. President, what happened over here in the Senate? These great friends of industry, professional friends of industry I call them, what did they do? Were they interested in Pennsylvania being held up as a great State to do business in if you lived here? Oo, no, they took that feature out of the bill and inserted in the bill this little gimmick which favors out-of-State ownership of corporate interests.

I have heard the Chamber of Commerce plead for twenty long years about this franchise business and about the capital stock tax and yet, when we gave them an opportunity to remove the Pennsylvania manufacturer from the capital stock tax, I never heard one word of support from the Chamber of Commerce. Why? What has happened? Well, for the answer to that I would suggest that you go over to the Department of Revenue and look up the tax returns of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Gulf Oil Company. I picked these two corporations because I did not have that much time to look into all of them. You will receive the answer to why the Republican Senate refused to take Pennsylvania corporations out of the capital stock tax and why they took these companies which would benefit from this kind of an amendment and slipped, as I said before, into House Bill No. 1880 a Mickey Finn for the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, just as a passing thought, it might interest all of you to know that although the Pennsylvania Railroad has over fifty per cent of its physical assets in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, fifty per cent of its entire system, they pay in Pennsylvania a half million dollars less tax than they pay in the State of New Jersey, and the State of New Jersey is hardly much bigger than Westmoreland County with Titusville thrown in. The Pennsylvania Railroad also pays less in this State than they pay in New York.

I do not want anyone to get the impression, because we have to bring out these truths, that we in any way want to jeopardize Pennsylvania's chances of growth. I have said on the floor, and I am going to repeat it, that a healthy industry and an unhealthy people do not appeal to me. I believe that the primary duty of government is to see to it that the people come first. I have often given the illustration of the Delaware Valley; how they are a great prosperous valley today, but I do not believe that the people in the Delaware Valley, whose taxes have been increased to the breaking point, ought to be made to subsidize this great wealthy industry and industrial growth.

You, Senator Kessler, said that this would only cost $6,000,000. How do you know? Have you a magic formula which can be worked out without experience? Do you have a crystal ball to tell how many of the corporations in this Commonwealth are going to demand the right to come under the franchise tax act after you pass this bill? How many more Dresser Corporations would we find sitting on the doorstep of the Department of Revenue? Do you know how much it would save the Dresser Corporation alone if your amendment went through? How, under your amendments, can you tell me this would help one particular industry in this State that is totally owned and controlled and operated inside the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania? What right would they have under the foreign franchise tax? Not being a lawyer, but is it not also conceivable, sir, that the court would then say that the minute you allowed a Pennsylvania corporation to take the three fractions, which are computable under the franchise tax, that you then in turn make that a property tax also? Where, in all of the history of this State, would be able to find any precedent for any Supreme Court decision which would uphold that particular tax as a whole to be constitutional?

Mr. President, I do not know what the Supreme Court will do and I have often criticized those who say what it will do because I believe that is a prerogative of the court. However, when I hear someone get up on the floor and state positively that there would be no constitutional problem in this tax as amended, I have to, from the limited knowledge that I have, at least give you what my impression of a probable decision would be.

We find ourselves then with two things to do. I wonder how many people realize that this did not add one cent of tax to industry in this State; that all we were doing was accelerating the collection of the tax so that this Legislature, which has been unable to come up with a tax program of sufficient stature to meet the needs of the Commonwealth, would be able to use moneys in this biennium that properly ought to be collected in the next biennium. More of the credit buying that has made the boom; that is all we are doing.

Mr. President, if this has been such a subject of controversy as Mr. Kessler would lead us to believe and such a great and desired change in the law to benefit Pennsylvania, where were the Republicans for sixteen years when they had absolute control of the House and Senate and the Governor's Office? Why did you wait until the Democrats came in to pull this neat, little legislative trick? Why, under the sixteen years of Republican rule, did you not put this into effect if it was such a great help? I will tell you why; because the Dresser Company just moved recently.

Mr. President, in all of the years that I have been in this Legislature, this is the first year that I ever heard mention of the desire by anybody to allow Pennsylvania domesticated corporations to have an option under the foreign franchise tax in this Commonwealth. Let me go a step further. I want you to refresh your memories back to the year 1953 when I stood upon this floor and offered a bill, closing the loophole in the corporate net income tax law which would have given this State at least $35,000,000 more of income. I explained to you that under a decision rendered here in the Dauphin County Court and, incidentally, it was rendered in this court under a friendly suit and the defense of the Commonwealth's position by the then Republican Attorney General will never be used as a classic example in any law school. After the court, in a very weak decision, handed down this decision which took from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania legitimate revenues and relieved certain big corporations of paying any tax in this State under the corporate net income tax, there was never an appeal by the Attorney General to any higher court. What was this decision? They worked out a cute little gimmick. I say this without casting any reflection upon the companies which I mentioned, for they would be utter fools of they did not take advantage of loopholes which the Legislature might build into an act for them.

How many of you know that the Gulf Oil Company does not pay a corporate net income tax in this State? How many of you know that the Pennsylvania Railroad does not pay corporate net income tax in the Commonwealth and why do they not? I will tell you why Because of the decision I spoke about in the Dauphin County Court. The decision said that a company which is a susidiary, and is owned in toto or fifty-one per cent or more by a Pennsylvania corporation, is exempted from the corporate net income tax if dividends are paid by that company to the parent company. Therefore, we find these big corporate bodies, instead of taking into their own corporation the operations of the various legitimate operations of a corporation, create subsidiary companies and then they lease these companies in toto back to themselves on ninety-nine year leases. The rent that they pay on this lease to their subsidiary is tax exempt because it is a legitimate item of expense. The subsidiary company which is operated through the lease, then takes all of the money they receive in rent and sends it back to the parent company by way of dividends, which, in turn, too, are tax exempt under the court decision.

What has happened, Mr. President, is that between $35,000,000 and $40,000,000 of tax revenue has been denied this Commonwealth of ours every biennium by these legislative tricks. The proposal which Senator Kessler had in House Bill No. 1880 was just another stept in the same direction.

We have a sales tax, and I want to say that Senator Kessler was the greatest proponent of that tax. He felt that everybody ought to pay taxes but I am beginning to discover that he meant everybody but, and you do not need to ask me who the "buts" are. I know who the "buts" are in reality; they are the people.

When I go in to pay the sales tax, Mr. Kessler, and I buy an item which costs one dollar, I have to pay three cents in tax. Now when you go in I presume that you, too, would have to pay three cents on a dollar item. Do you feel that it is proper for me to go in and pay the three cents and you be exempt? I do not think you would want that, would you? Then why do you and the rest of your group allow one corporation, perhaps in my home town, a small corporation with maybe $50,000 or $100,000 capitalization, to pay 100 per cent of a tax duplicate into the Commonwealth and turn around and make loopholes deliberately to allow a competing company in the same field, because it has the stature of grandeur and size, to be tax exempt?

Yes, I have the bill ready to close the loophole, but I am also a very practical man. I know very well that I have no more chance of getting that bill out of the Finance Committee than I have of flying to the moon. In fact, from the last picture I saw on television, I have a better chance of flying to the moon.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, these are serious moments and we have had a very serious decision in this last week by the Governor of this Commonwealth. I do not believe the people are fooled one ;bit by the "Marlarkey," as Mr. Kessler calls it, that has been fed to the people by certain individuals who would misinform the electorate. The people are a peculiar set of animals. We have a very strange knack of determining in our own slow way that which is true and that which is untrue. Although for the moment we can be misled, in the long run we catch up. I think it was a great American who said you can fool some of them some of the time, all of them some of the time but you cannot fool all of them all of the time.

I assure you right now that if you pass that bill again with the same considerations in it that you have given to the out-of-State companies and to the large corporate interests in this State, as against the small individually, locally owned corporations, I will assure you that the Governor will again be asked by me to veto the bill. If we are short $52,000,000, we are just short $52,000,000. If the Governor has to cut some services, the Governor will just have to cut some services. I, for one, am willing to vote for the services required by this Commonwealth and, by the same token, I am willing to vote for the necessary taxes.

You know you fooled the people for almost fourteen months because we had a great, great editorial barrage in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and everytime the people awakened in the morning and picked up their morning paper, or in the evening after dinner sat down and read their evening paper and everytime they turned their radio or television on, someone was giving off the great, great story about how valuable and how wonderful a sales tax was. I told you Members on the other side that the minute you passed that sales tax, the same newspaper editorials would start kicking you around because they found and they know the people do not really want the sales tax which they led you to believe they wanted. They still have to sell newspapers and so the day after you passed the sales tax, they went back onto the side of the people again. I doubt if I have read one editorial since you passed the tax bill complimenting you upon passing it.

Mr. President, we have the sales tax and we will live with it. However, I might say this; that if this sales tax is not amended, if it stays in the condition it is in today, and you cannot amend it by talking but you have to amend it by voting, I will ask the Governor to veto the bill. I will assure all of you on this floor right now that if this sales tax is not amended and the collection starts under the provisions as they are now read into the bill, and under the regulations which can and will be handed out by the Department of Revenue, it will more than make up the $52,000,000 which you are taking from us in the acceleration of the capital stock tax. It is there and you cannot work your stamp plan as it is now written. It does not fit into the bill. Under the severance clause of the act, I am sure that the stamp plan will be thrown out. If it does work, you are going to pay the merchant four per cent. Out of a $300,000,000 tax bill, you are going to give $12,000,000 to the merchants of this State because you have two sections in the stamp plan; one where you give him two per cent as a discount when he buys his stamps and two per cent as a credit when he sends in his reprt of how many stamps he has sold to the people. You have it in that tax plan where every bank in this Commonwealth will use public money for six months and you are going to pay them a half per cent for using it, besides what they will do with it.

Mr. President, I would like to know how you are going to get money in this biennium if the banks can hold that money for six months. I am telling you that we have two problems. I am telling all of you right now that to solve these problems, we have to sit down and talk it over. I am willing to sit down with Senator Mahany or any other man or group of men who are named by the leaders on the other side. I will have as many of the Members on this side as you want to sit with you. In the final analysis, we have to take into consideration two tax laws; the capital stock tax law and the sales tax law. They are jointly sponsored by the Legislature and they will travel together or they will fall apart.

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, in a book know as The Bible there is a section called Ecclesiastes and the third chapter starts something like this: "To everything there is a season and a time for everything under Heaven." It seems to me that the time has come to talk a little plainly

First of all, Mr. President, I know no one personally from the Dresser Manufacturing Company. No one from Dresser has ever talked to me. I have a letter here in my hand which indicates that this movement to put our domestic corporations on a par with foreign corporations doing business in Pennsylvania began in 1952, at the instance of the Joy Manufacturing Company. Dressers has not spoken to me. I have had some correspondence with a man by the name of Vollbrecht, but I do not know him and the correspondence, while it dealt with this matter, was not influencing my opinion so far as that goes.

The second thing I wish to mention, Mr. President, is that I to object to the terminology of Mickey Finns, tricks, deceit, sleepers or whatnot that the Finance Committeed supposedly used in getting this amendment into House Bill No. 1880.

In the first place, Senate Bill No. 925 was on the Calendar. It was in print and people knew what it was. It dealt with the capital stock tax. It was returned to committee with House Bill No. 1880 and instead of having two separate bills when the tax bills were again brought out to the floor, I decided that we may as well combine Senate Bill No. 925 with House Bill No. 1880. If my recollection serves me correctly, and fortunately it is borne out by the Vice-Chairman of the Committee, Senator Propert, who was at the meeting which we held back here in this room, I outlined briefly, not in detail, the amendments that were made to the various bills which we were reporting out. I recall very distinctively that Senator Lane and Senator Barr, I think, voted "no" on reporting this bill out because they objected to some of these amendments. However, the bills were reported out. They were not voted on that day because they had to be printed and the bills were available for everyone to read.

Mr. President, if the people on the other side of the aisle claim ignorance, I can only say that the bills were there to read and it was not done underhanded or with a desire to slip something in which might go by unnoticed.

Mr. President, I would like to read a few paragraphs from a letter. I do not like to quote the source of the letter, but it is from a business analyst in whom I have much confidence and respect. One paragraph starts out this way, in referring to House Bill No. 1880:

"The Governor either does not know, or at least failed to point out in his message, or chose to overlook the fact that the corporations involved could start procedings tomorrow to re-incorporate in another State and the end result would be precisely the same loss of revenue to the State as involved under the Senate amendment. In fact, some corporations are at the point of making such a shift. It seems preposterous that a State would continue a tax system which forces its own companies to drop their Pennsylvania charters in order to get on an equal basis, taxwise, with their competitors who saw fit to incorporate in another State."

I would like to also read from the last paragraph of this letter:

"Recent comments by the Administration, in connection with this measure, represent a clearcut message to concerns in the future that it may not be wise to charter their new corporation in Pennsylvania. In fact, they will be inclined to shy away from this Commonwealth unless they feel they can afford the luxury of paying higher taxes in order to call themselves a Pennsylvania corporation."

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the gentleman says he does not know anyone from the Dresser Corporation. If the representatives from the Dresser Corporation did not see Senator Kessler, he is one of the few they did not see. If he so desires, he can go over and talk to Representative Johnson and he will tell him who they are because they saw him. Representative Johnson was one of the ones they tried to get to sponsor this legislation. Senator Kessler can even ask Mr. Readinger about them. Maybe he did not know who he was talking to. The same men were pointed out to me, and I saw them on the floor of this Senate.

Number two, at the meeting of the Finance Committee this amendment was not discussed, contrary to what Senator Kessler's memory may be, or it could be that maybe I am the one with the faulty memory. The figure of $52,000,000 was discussed in the Finance Committee and Senator Kessler knew very well when he said, "I decided to put this amendment in," that the $52,000,000 figure then was not an honest figure. I am not saying Senator Kessler is a dishonest man. I should probably use another word. I would say he was not accurate or was juggling the figures around which, of course, is not anything new in the legislative halls.

Senator Kessler made one other error in his rebuttal to Senator Dent, when he said the bill was printed and could be read. The bill was not printed at the time we voted on that bill here in this Senate. If you remember correctly, there were a series of bills containing the corporate net income tax being increased to six per cent, the capital stock acceleration bill and last on the program came the sales tax and after that the motel, hotel tax.

Mr. President, the so-called business taxes were voted upon in the Senate prior to the printed bill arriving on our desks and we, in turn, notified the House that these bills had passed and asked them to get the bills over to the Governor as soon as they could and, they, over in the House, did not even see the bill with this gimmick. Perhaps you do not like to call it a gimmick I do not care what you call it but I think if I took a poll on the other side of the aisle, the Members of your Republican Caucus would tell me that they did not know this feature was in the bill.

Another thing you did not take into consideration when you spoke about the Constitution was the fact that we do have a Federal Constitution. I am not a lawyer, but I am convinced in my own mind that most of this litigation would be in the Federal Courts and not in our State Courts because where you favor one corporation against another, one in the State and one with possessions outside the State, that, in turn, would take you into the Federal Courts under the Federal Constitution.

Mr. President, I am convinced, in my own mind, that the House and this Senate will pass the capital stock tax as it originally came over here. However, I am further convinced that the Joint State Government Commission should immediately, through a resolution adopted by both houses, make a sound and very deep study into just this facet which has been talked about here this afternoon.

I, for one, am not scared by the fact that corporations are going to leave this State. I remember when they were going to go to Canada in 1936, but by 1937 there were more new corporations formed in the United States than in any previous year in its history. There may be four or five corporations that will move out of the State. There are representatives of industry sitting here today who may want to move out of the State, but when it comes down to the meeting of the board of directors of those corporations, I think they will say that they are going to stay in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I remember the study which was made back in 1936 by, I think, one of the top insurance companies in this Country and when it came to the reasons why businesses locate in various States, taxation was number thirteen on the list. Therefore, I am not at all concerned that there is going to be a great exit of industry down to New Jersey or to the little State of Delaware by our large corporations.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, there has been a great deal said about House Bill No. 1880 after it is now deceased. I cannot answer each one of the items that was brought up by Senator Barr and Senator Dent. However, I do want to say that according to our History, this amendment, which was put in by the committee, was put in on February 28. It is noted here in the History that the bill was re-reported as amended on February 28. It then passed Second Reading on February 29, which was one day later. It was then recommitted to the Committee on Finance on that same day and re-reported as committed—there was no change made at that particular time by the committee—on March 1. It then passed Third Reading and Final Passage on March 2. There were three days after this amendment was put in and I cannot understand why the printer would not have a printed bill on our desks within three days.

I feel that the printed bill, with this amendment in it, was on our desks when we voted on it. Three days after that, on March 5, the House concurred in the Senate amendments. That was another three days. In other words, there were about six days from the time that the amendment was put in until the House concurred. Certainly, the House must have had the printed bill before it six days after this amendment was placed in the bill by the Finance Committee. I feel that if they had wanted to, any Member of the Senate surely could have found out from the wording of the bill what was in it.

There has been so much said about the effect of this particular wording in the bill as it relates to corporations. I believe that the wording in the bill "outside the State," saying that corporations doing business outside the State, was surplusage. I think those words could have been left out because, obviously, a corporation that wants to take advantage of this particular feature must be doing business outside the State. If it did all of its business within the State, then it could not take advantage of this feature that was placed in the bill by the Finance Committee. As I said, that particular wording could have been eliminated from the bill.

What does this allow a corporation to do that it could not otherwise do? I think a lot of us talk about this and do not quite understand what it is all about. What it would allow a corporation to do would be to allocate its intangibles so that the intangibles, which are located outside the State of Pennsylvania, would not be included in the valuation of the worth of the company in computing the capital stock tax. In other words, suppose they had some intangibles such as stocks, mortgages, indentures, debentures and that sort of thing situate in Chicago and they were doing some of their business in Chicago, then they would not have to include all of the intangibles which are located in Chicago in computing the worth of the corporation which is incorporated in Pennsylvania. That is what an outside or a foreign corporation does. It does not include its intangibles in computing the worth of the corporation in paying the foreign franchise tax.

In the Ford Motor Company case, the court stated very definitely that Pennsylvania does penalize its domestic corporations and it does not give them the same tax break as they give foreign corporations. That certainly is not a very good advertisement for the State of Pennsylvania.

My friend states that the tax consideration is No. 13 on the Hit Parade when it comes to deciding whether or not they are going to locate in Pennsylvania. I think it should be perhaps farther up at the top concerning when most corporations decide whether they are going to locate in Pennsylvania or whether they are going to expand here. I know that one time, about a year or so ago, when we were trying to find some new industry for Titusville, I went to Philadelphia to interview some people who were going to transfer their business from St. Louis, as I remember it, to Pennsylvania. One of the representatives from the Department of Commerce was there also interviewing these people and when he came out, he said, "I am afraid that we cannot get them into Pennsylvania because they are not very satisfied with our tax structure." That is one of the first things that this gentleman talked to me about. He did not see how his corporation could come into our State because of the heavy taxation which we were placing on corporations.

The Senator is always talking about the fact, or the supposition, that we Republicans want to tax the people. I do not know who else you can tax if it is not the people. The corporations do not in themselves pay taxes. They are merely tax collectors, as the gentleman well knows. If Senator Dent, and Senator Kessler, and Senator Barr and I would go into business and not incorporate, we would not have to pay any corporation tax, of course. We do not have any tax on unincorporated associations in this State. In order to obtain the advantage of limited liability, so that if we go busted in this new enterprise the sheriff could not come and take our personal property that we have at home and we would be limited to the amount of the investment which we chose to put into this enterprise, we form a corporation. I presume we would probably call it The Westmoreland Enterprise Company. We would then be in business. For the sake of limiting our liability, we would have to pay all these corporation taxes which the State of Pennsylvania places on us. Who pays the taxes? If we cannot get it from our customers, to whom we sell goods, then this company, Dent and Company, has to pay it. In other words, the stockholders of the company first try to get it out of the price of their merchandise and if they cannot get it there, they have to pay it themselves as individuals. In either case, people, human beings, have to pay the money. I agree with Senator Weiner that this fictitious entity which we set up is certainly that and that only, and people in the end have to pay whatever taxes we put on them, whether they be in the form of a corporate tax or some other tax.

Mr. President, I do not like to see my good friend, Senator Dent, try to use a club with another tax over us in order to get the type of tax through that he would like to get through. Senator Dent knows that the baby that he and I reared in the form of this sales tax, which he helped to rear and others helped, does need some attention. We know that at the time we discussed it in the Conference Committee. We knew that, no doubt, there would have to be some amendments made to it so that it would be a workable plan. We want to make the amendments to that bill so that it will conform with the suggestions of the Attorney General's Office in order that the people of Pennsylvania will know what tax they are paying and on what items, and there then will not be this confusion which Senator Dent says surrounds the present sales tax. I feel that he should be the first one to aid us in trying to get corrective amendments through the Legislature in order to accomplish the purpose of bringing in this much needed revenue to the State coffers and to do it so that there will be a minimum amount of confusion surrounding that tax prgoram. To hook that up with some other tax and say, "We are not going to give you these amendments unless you vote through this tax the way we want it," I do not think it quite fair and I do not believe that Senator Dent would like to use a legislative club over our heads in order to accomplish that purpose.

Mr. President, I would say to Senator Dent that we are trying to do the right thing for the business of Pennsylvania. We feel in that way the people of Pennsylvania will prosper. We feel in that the people working in these plants want us not to, by taxation, drive their employers out of the State of Pennsylvania and leave them on the unemployed list. We feel that the people want us to have industry in Pennsylvania prosper so that they may prosper and buy all the things which industry produces.

I am not so fearful about people buying on credit. I buy on credit myself and I think Senator Dent does. I am not worried too much about that. Most everybody today who buy a house, buys it with a mortgage on it. That helps the lumberman, and it helps the carpenters and it helps everybody else. I feel that if we continue the prosperity that we have enjoyed over the last three years or so, these people will be able to pay back their mortgages, pay off their loans to the banks and continue to be prosperous and happy. The fact of the matter is that the Eisenhower Administration has sought to curb this credit business to a large extent by providing that you must have a certain amount of money before you can borrow to finance purchases, especially in the stock market on which Senator Dent is quite an authority. Before he can buy stock, he must have at least, as I remember it now, seventy-five per cent of the money that you need to buy the stock with before you can buy it. It used to be fifty per cent. By curbing that credit, and your right to purchase stock, we will say on margin, they have held down the stock market inflation considerably. If they had not done that, perhaps the stock market rise would have gone way beyond what it now has.

I hope that we do not have to go back and compare the type of prosperity which we now have with the type of prosperity that we had when the Democrats were in. I do not want to accuse Democratic Administrations for getting us into wartime prosperity. It so happens that when they get in, we seem to be in a war. When we are at war, everybody seems to have a lot of money. I do not want that kind of prosperity to return. If I have to sacrifice my son to go to war in order to have a little more money to jingle in my pockets, I would rather have them a little bit more bare and keep my boy at home.

I hope that we can get along here a little better without putting all this stuff into the record. It just seems to confuse and becloud the issue. To have all these accusations all the time by the Democrats that the Republicans are just thinking about big business and not thinking about the little man, and all that sort of thing, seems to me to be outdated. I think they have as many angels in their Party who are in the millionaire class as we have in our Party. If the Democrats want to throw out some of those millionaires over there, who are contributing pretty good to them, we will be happy to accept them over here. We do not want to burden them with having all those people whom they do not seem to want.

Mr. President, I did want to talk about Hiram Andrews' letter that was sent out to us, but I see the hour is growing late. I will reserve that until tomorrow. There is some stuff that Mr. Andrews put in that last letter to the Legislature which is certainly misleading and which I feel should be corrected.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. CHAPMAN, HARNEY, SILVERT and DENT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1046, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Forests and Waters for redevelopment, improvement and construction of the Port of Philadelphia.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. SCHMIDT and SCOTT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1047, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1333), entitled "Pennsylvania Election Code" extending voting rights to bedridden, hospitalized or otherwise physically incapacitated war veterans not bedridden, hospitalized or physically incapacitated due to military service.

Which was committed to the Committee on Elections.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDEN.T Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. WATKINS and DENT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1048, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1931 (P. L. 1206), entitled "The First Class Township Code," requiring entrance of bond in appeals from board of adjustment rulings effecting zoning regulations.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I think last week we passed a bill increasing the compensation of election officers in first and second class counties. Of course, that was publicized and since that time, I have had a number of letters and telephone calls asking why the election officials in the rest of the State did not receive the same consideration. Being a chairman of the Democratic Party in the city in which I live, I got perhaps more calls than some other people on the subject.

I think we ought to treat the election officials the same all over the State. They are underpaid, for they work long hours and they do perform a very important function. This bill which I am about to introduce will take care of the election officials in the rest of the State.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. YOSKO and VAN SANT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1049, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1333), entitled "Pennsylvania Election Code," increasing the compensation of election officers in third to eighth class counties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Elections.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make reports from committees at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WAGNER, from the Committee on Education, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 798, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 23, 1949 (P. L. 1669), entitled, as amended, "An act to provide revenue for school districts of the first class by imposing a tax on persons engaging in certain businesses, professions, occupations, trades, vocations and commercial activities therein; . . ." further defining taxable receipts; and making such definition applicable to all tax returns and tax payments made after the effective date hereof.

He also ,from the Committee on State Government reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 768, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 1, 1937 (P. L. 1168), entitled "Pennsylvania Labor Relations Act," changing the salaries of the chairman and members of the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board.

MISS INEZ BULL PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I rise at this time to perform a very pleasant service. At a prior Session of the Senate we had the pleasure of a visitation from a young lady who, at that time, made a very favorable impression upon the Members of the Senate and she is again here visiting us at this time.

I will be as brief as possible because I know that the other Senator from Potter County desires to make a few remarks on this subject, but I would like to take this opportunity to introduce to the Members, who have not already met the young lady, Miss Inez Bull, who is a direct descendant of the famous Norwegian violin player, Ole Bull.

In this connection, Mr. President, I might just mention in passing that there reposes in the Committee on Appropriations a bill, introduced by myself and others, to re-erect a replica of the Ole Bull Castle, in the beautiful park located on Kettle Creek in Potter County.

Miss Bull, will you stand, please?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate is very honored to have the distinguished visitor here with us today.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. McGINNIS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I was born in Potter County only a few miles from the site of Ole Bull's Castle. That is one of the counties which Senator Berger represents. When I was a child, my father took me several times to the site of Ole Bull's Castle and told me the beautiful story of how Ole Bull, a world renown violinist, came from Norway with a colony to Pennsylvania. He loved Pennsylvania and he loved William Penn. He brought his colony here and they settled in Potter County. He made one mistake though, by not hiring a lawyer in Coudersport or in Pittsburgh. He hired a Philadelphia lawyer and, lo and behold, he found out later that the title was not good.

As I said, when I was a child my father told me this story several times. Every child in Potter County knows the beautiful story about Ole Bull. As long as there is a child in Potter County, they will hear that beautiful story about that grand man, Ole Bull.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce bills at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. LANE read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1050, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 28, 1947 (P. L. 983), entitled "An act to ascertain and appoint the fees to be received by the several prothonotaries of the courts of common pleas of the Commonwealth in counties of the third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; . . ." increasing certain fees.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1051, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 25, 1947 (P. L. 972), entitled "An act relating to the annual salaries of certain county officers of counties of the fifth class," increasing the salaries of certain county officers.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1052, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 6, 1874 (P. L. 125) entitled "An act regulating State tax on certain county offices," increasing the maximum amount of fees that prothonotaries and clerks of courts may retain.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1053, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 25, 1947 (P. L. 928) entitled "An act relating to the annual salaries and compensation of certain county officers of counties of the sixth class," changing salaries of certain county officers.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DENT, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1014, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to acquire lands comprising the Captain William Phillips' Rangers Memorial in Liberty Township, Bedford County; providing for the control, management, supervision, improvement, restoration and maintenance thereof by the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission and making appropriations.

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not intend to go into a long discussion but I just want to call to the attention of the Senate that the remarks of Senator Mahany, considering the action on House Bill No. 1880, should not go unchallenged. Senator Mahany, knowingly or through an error, and I pray it was through an error, gave the impression to this Senate group that the amendment which we objected to in House Bill No. 1880 were in the draft of the bill which appeared upon this Senate floor as far back as February the 28th.

I looked up the copy which I have, and the amendments are not in that bill. I find that the amendments were put in on last go-around when the bill went back to committee and came out on March the 1st and was passed on March the 2nd. I think Senator Mahany ought to know that. At least, if your record shows different, Senator, I wish you would straighten me out.

Mr. President, Senator Mahany keeps referring to me as one of the parents of this sales tax child. I want to say to him that I was an unwilling member of the wedding party and this illegitimate child is the result of a shotgun wedding.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. WOLFE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WOLFE, from the Committee on Executive Nominations, reported with a favorable recommendation the following nominations, made by His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth:

MEMBERS OF THE NORTHAMPTON COUNTY BOARD OF ASSISTANCE

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 13, 1956.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following persons for appointment as members of the Northampton County Board of Assistance:

John S. Posivak (Dem.) 1716 Carlisle Street, Bethlehem, to serve until December 31, 1958, and until his successor is duly appointed and qualified, vice Miss Catherine McGrath, Easton, whose term expired.

Rev. Stephen Ballek (Dem.), 1421 Lorain Avenue, Bethlehem, to serve until December 31, 1956, and until his successor is duly appointed and qualified, vice Russell S. Moyer, Northampton, resigned.

Clifford A. Sebring (Dem.), Mt. Bethel, to serve until December 31, 1956, and until his successor is duly appointed and qualified, vice Harry E. Flory, Bangor.

Andrew G. Kern (Rep.), 340 South Broad Street, Nazareth, to serve unil December 31, 1958, and until his successor is duly appointed and qualified, vice Mrs. Margaret Peters, Nazareth, whose term expired.

Mrs. Frances W. Barthold (Dem.), 1457 Main Street, Bethlehem, to serve until December 31, 1958, and until her successor is duly appointed and qualified. (Reappointment.)

GEORGE M. LEADER

MEMBERS OF THE McKEAN COUNTY BOARD OF ASSISTANCE

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor, Office, Harrisburg, February 20, 1956.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following persons for appointment as members of the McKean County Board of Assistance, to serve until December 31, 1958, and until their successors are duly appointed and qualified:

Charles O. Conaway (Dem.), Rew, vice W. W. Milks, Bradford, resigned.

William L. Branch (Rep.), 5 Brown Avenue, Bradford, vice Hamlin D. Redfield, Smethport, whose term expired.

GEORGE M. LEADER

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, February 28, 1956.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Albert H. Fleck, P. O. Box 203, Harrisville, Butler County, for appointment as Justice of the Peace in and for the Township of Mercer, Butler County, to serve until the first Monday of January 1958, to fill a vacancy.

GEORGE M. LEADER

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SILVERT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, we just heard Senator McGinnis give a beautiful eulogy on Ole Bull, with a slight reference to the Philadelphia Bar.

I want to say that it is hard for me to resent anything which our beloved Senator, Senator McGinnis, says, including a slur on Philadelphia lawyers.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I assure Senator Dent that any information I gave relative to when this amendment was placed in House Bill No. 1880 was taken from the official History of House Bills and certainly if I am in error, then the error rises by reason of the History being inerror. I will check this information between now and tomorrow and if I am in error, I will be glad to so state. It certainly was not done in any malicious frame of mind.

Mr. President, with regard to the Senator being an unwilling parent of the sales tax it seems to me that I recollect that he spent about one hour on Monday here, of the week that we worked on this tax bill, asking us to declare him in because he was also a Senator and he wondered why we had not taken him into partnership. It was at his bidding, as I remember it, that we took him in and now he is denying the parentage.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION LAID ON THE TABLE

ADJOURNMENT SINE DIE

In the Senate, March20, 1956.

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That this Regular Session of the General Assembly adjourn sine die on the sixth day of April, 1956, at 12:00 o'clock noon.

MOTION TO ADOPT RESOLUTION

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Potter, Senator Berger.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. I did not hear the year mentioned. Will you tell us which year?

Mr. BERGER. I believe that the year, as stated in the resolution, was 1956.

Mr. DENT. Thank you.

Mr. BERGER. Although I do not advance that as being a feasible year.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am sure all of us are just as anxious to quit this scene as fast as possible. I am sure that the people are anxious to have us leave here also, but I cannot say that we have performed our duty when we have a legislative deficiency deliberately staring us in the face.

I am sure that the universities, hospitals and schools of this Commonwealth are more anxious that we iron out the difficulties which have beset us for fifteen months pratically than that we go home on April the 6th.

I, too, Mr. President, would like to get back to my home to do some work and to revisit the scenes of my childhood. However, I cannot find it within me at this moment to set the target date as April the 6th without more assurance, or at least some reliable assurance, that this Senate will attempt to replace the $52,000,000 that is needed to balance even a minimum budget for this Commonwealth.

I do not know how many of you realize that this $52,000,000 represents more in toto than all of the increases asked for by the Governor for the hospitals and universities and the $31,000,000 that has been asked for by this Senate for an increased increment or extra increment to the school teachers of the Commonwealth. All of us recognize that that will be money well spent and deserved by the teachers.

I do not believe that we can, at this time, vote for this resolution. I am hopeful that the newspapers will carry the story in the sense that the Republicans plan to stampede the Legislature after deliberately scuttling every tax program for fourteen months. It certainly augurs bad for our universities and hospitals and our teachers in this Commonwealth. As anxious as I am to go home and as anxious as I am to rejoin my family and to go back to private business, if there is any left, I certainly cannot conceive how any person in this room can honestly vote for this resolution unless they are deliberately saying to the people of this Commonwealth that we are not disturbed, as it were, over the financial plight of our State institutions, State-aided institutions and of our mental health program. If we quit now, there will not be one cent available for a new and determined attack against that dread disease of mental deficiency. There will be no money for the exploitation of Pennsylvania's great, natural and legal resources for the benefit of outside industry seeking a new haven. We will not be able to do any of the things that we so hopefully started out to do January a year ago.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask my colleagues on this side particularly, and those of you on the other side who will put the consideration of Pennsylvania's welfare ahead of your own personal comfort, to vote "no" or at least allow my motion to place this resolution upon the table to be voted upon.

RESOLUTION LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, at this time I move that this resolution be placed upon the table.

Mr. LANE. I second the motion, Mr. President.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, as Senator Dent knows, we originate the adjournment resolution here. It will then go to the House if we pass it, and then they can change the date over there if they feel that we cannot get through at that particular time. They can hold it over there, pending the time when they see that we can adjourn and take care of the things that we should take care of. There is no one here who wants to adjourn until we satisfactorily legislate for the revenue needs and for appropriations and take care of all the things that we feel should be taken care of in this Session of the Legislature. However, I feel that we should have some target date set. Otherwise, we would go on week after week, with the Members not seeing any particular date in sight. Sometimes, probably, they would want to stay home instead of coming down here.

If we do not have some target date set, I would predict that next week we would have a very slim turnout of Senators and House Members. I think if we set some target date ahead, even though we may not be able to hit it, at least it would keep the Members coming down here and working four or five days a week until we do satisfactorily conclude our deliberations and our work here.

I ask the Members, therefore, to vote "no" on the motion to table so that we may, at least, clear this adjournment resolution in the Senate and send it over to the House for their consideration.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Do you honestly believe that we can quit on April 6th?

Mr. MAHANY. I do not know the answer to that. I hope that we can, but I would hasten to write to my wife tonight not to bet on it. She might expect me to show up on April 8th and I might not be there. If there are going to be any bets made, do not make them for this particular date. Let us adopt some date here, as far as the Senate is concerned, as a target date so that we will have something at which to shoot.

Mr. DENT. If the House takes the same position that you do and passes the resolution tomorrow, what happens?

Mr. MAHANY. Well, then, if we get to the point of April 6th, we would then do as we have done for about every Session that I have been here. The 6th of April would be the last legislative day, but we might be here even into the next week. That has been done before. I do not believe that the House will concur in this unless they feel that we can get out at that particular time. They will probably hold this resolution over in the House until such time as they see that we cannot adjourn. They will then probably amend it or, at that particular time, if they see we can get out, they will probably concur in it and we will have a target date.

Mr. DENT. Thank you, very kindly.

I might say, Mr. President, it seems to me that is the usual way that some people like to do business. The target date of the month of April being picked is not new and it is nothing that surprises me. If you will look back in the records, you will find that as early as last June, I stood on the floor of the Senate and said that the Republican target date was April, 1956. They just confirmed what I said then today. Now they are fearful that the best laid plans of mice and men go wrong. Although they shot for a target date of April 1st, or near that period, they realize now that it is impossible to quit after the fiasco on the corporate tax, the capital stock tax and a few others. Therefore, Mr. President, in order to lay, as they would, the political blame for going beyond the sixth day of April onto the Democrats, they are going to show that they were ready and willing to quit on the sixth day of April.

Mr. President, the Republican Floor Leader over in the House has informed me—I think you ought to know this—that under no conditions can we quit before the week of the 15th. I think it is only fair to us, to yourselves and to the people of this Commonwealth that you let the resolution lay on the table until you consult with the House. They, too, are partners in this General Assembly. Everytime, during the years that I have been here, that we have ever set a sine die adjournment date, it was done after consultation with the House. We compare our schedules and the work remaining to be done and we establish a realistic target date. Just to pick one out of the sky and say that this is the date, and the gentleman knows full well that after the last day set by the resolution, although you might stay here six months, you would not have any legislative days and you could not pass any legislation unless you amended this resolution and took out of it the sine die adjournment date. I think that in fairness to everybody, including yourselves, you should let this lay upon the table until we have had an opportunity to meet and talk to the Senate and House leaders. I think we should try to establish a more realistic date. I would like to quit right now and so would many other Members of this Senate. However, you cannot quit with the work unfinished. You might as well have quit last January.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, the intention of the sponsors of this resolution was not to stampede the Legislature or to do any of the sinister things which Senator Dent has indicated. I do feel, however, that the adoption of a resolution containing a definite date toward which we might work for adjournment sine die might help in some of the situations that we are confronted with. We know that certain bills have to be considered and passed.

I want to call the attention of the Senate to the fact that the date of April 6th is two weeks from this coming Friday. If we buckle down we can do a great deal of work and it might be some incentive to resolve some of our differences and compromise in some of the matters which ultimately we are going to compromise on anyway. Let us get it done.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. It is always a pleasure, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. How many days are we going to work this week?

Mr. MAHANY. I would like to work two more days; I would like to stay here tomorrow and Thursday.

Mr. BARR. All right, that is two days. How many days next week?

Mr. MAHANY. As far as I am concerned, I could stay Friday and Saturday, but I do not suppose we would have too many in attendance. I, personally, am willing to stay for the balance of the week for that matter. However, I want to be a little bit realistic and I think if we work through Thursday, that is about all we can expect.

Mr. BARR. How many days next week, Senator Mahany?

Mr. MAHANY. We probably could not work on Thursday of next week. We could have Sessions on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. BARR. Then when do we return after Easter, on Monday?

Mr. MAHANY. Personally, I can be here on Monday, but I presume that most of the fellows will not be able to get here before Tuesday. Therefore, I will say Tuesday.

Mr. BARR. Is the 6th of April on Friday?

Mr. MAHANY. I think it is.

Mr. BARR. That will give us nine legislative days, correct?

Mr. MAHANY. If you have added them up that way, yes; I will say that is true. Five and four are nine; that is correct.

Mr. BARR. Have your amendments to the sales tax bill been introduced as yet?

Mr. MAHANY. I do not know. They were supposed to be introduced in the House. I thought they were going to be introduced either today or tomorrow. I have not followed it. I think they have them prepared and ready for introduction.

Mr. BARR. I did Senator Dent last night in conversation with the Minority Leader in the House. I just heard him say on the floor that he did not think the House could do anything to get out of here before the 15th. He also tells me that on Saturday he talked with Mr. Readinger.

I see nothing wrong with laying this resolution on the table until tomorrow, until such time as you and Senator Dent, Mr. Readinger and Mr. Smith can get together.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I just consulted with the sponsor of the resolution and he said that he has no objection to it being laid on the table. If we can act on this tomorrow, it will be perfectly satisfactory for us to lay it on the table until then.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO FATHER DADAY, COACH CARAZO AND THE STUDENT BODY OF ALLENTOWN CENTRAL CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL, AND TO THE BASKETBALL TEAM

Mr. VAN SANT offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, March 20, 1956.

On St. Patrick's day of this year, the basketball team of Allentown Central Catholic High School brought honor upon itself, its school, and its State. On that day Allentown Central Catholic won its fifth State P.C.I.A.A. championship when it defeated Pittsburgh Central Catholic, 68 to 60.

Our congratulations for this great victory are certainly in order, and we will extend them. However, this team, the student body of Allentown Central Catholic, Coach Emil Carazo, and school principal, Rev. Father Stephen Daday deserve congratulations for something far more important, that is the inspiring display of good sportsmanship and good citizenship they have shown during the entire season.

Father Daday and Coach Carazo have worked earnestly and hard to supply our State with that which it needs most—good citizens. They have been succesful. The students have responded to their teaching and good examples and have in turn shown an example of right living which everyone may well emulate; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate extends its heartiest congratulations to Father Daday, Coach Carazo and the student body of Allentown Central Catholic High School, and to the basketball team which is a true champion in every sense of that word; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to Reverend Father Stephen Daday and to Coach Emil Carazo.

APPROPRIATION BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 656, Printer's No. 566, on final pas-'sage, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LANE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WATKINS. For what reason do you object to this bill? Why do you ask that it go over in order?

Mr. LANE. I am not objecting to the bill, Senator Watkins. We have decided to carry all these Third Reading Appropriation Bills over in order because we have not fully studied all of them. This does not apply only to your bill, but all of them are going over. We are also talking about Senate Bill No. 1041, which only has a $400 appropriation.

Mr. WATKINS. When you say, "We made an agreement," with whom did you make the agreement?

Mr. LANE. We, on the Democratic side, have requested that all appropriation bills on Third Reading will be passed over in order.

Mr. WATKINS. May we be at east for a moment, Mr. President?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I withdraw my objection. It looks like the minority wins again; go ahead.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bill will go over in order.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, this bill has been kicking around here for a long time and it is finally in such form that I consider it not positively objectionable. However, I would like to point out that the bill, in my opinion, is still fiscally unworkable and somewhat improper because what it does, as I see it, is say that the members of a school board shall vote in one county for county superintendent, and for the management of the county office, and pay their share in another county. In other words, they will not pay anything toward the salary of the county office from which they vote. On the other hand, they will pay for the salaries and expenses of the county office over which they have no control because they have no vote.

Mr. President, I am not going to vote against this bill, but it is my prediction that come another Session we will have an effort made to straighten out the mess which will be caused by this bill.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York, Senator Seyler.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SEYLER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WAGNER. Senator, who pays the salary of the superintendents?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I am not talking about the salary. I will drop the word "salary."

Mr. Preident, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Wagner.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Preident, I would like to ask the gentleman if it is true that the State establishes minimum salaries for superintendents of the counties.

Mr. Wagner. That is right, sir.

Mr. SEYLER. In the event, Mr. President, that the county votes the superintendent's salary above the minimum, a practice which I understand is pretty common in the Commonwealth, may I ask the gentleman who pays that salary?

Mr. WAGNER. Well, it is paid by the county then.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. WAGNER. The reason I pointed out what I did, Senator, was because the major part of such salaries are paid by the State and where there is additional salary, there is usually such an enthusiastic interest in it that a few votes one way or the other will not change it.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I thank the gentleman. I no longer withdraw the word "salary" and now say part of the salary. The point still remains that the chool board members will not have an opportunity to vote in the county to which they contribute financially. They will have a vote in the county to which they do not contribute financially. This does not seem to me to be a very good state of affairs, but as I announced previously I do not intend to vote against the bill.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 669, as follows:

An Act amending the act of April 14, 1905 (P. L. 162) entitled "An act regulating the method and procedure in the erection of line or partition fences" authorizing surveyors appointed by judges of common pleas courts to act as fence viewers

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1. Sections 1 and 2 act of April 14, 1905 (P. L. 162) entitled "An act regulating the method and procedure in the erection of line or partition fences" amended April 6, 1949 (P. L. 393) are amended to read

Section 1. Be it enacted &c That from and after the passage of this act owners of improved and occupied land shall erect and maintain an equal part of all line or division fences between them nor shall any such owner be relieved from liability under the provisions of this act except by the consent of the adjoining owner And if any owner of such improved and occupied land shall fail or neglect to erect or maintain his her or their share of such line or division fence the party aggrieved shall notify the county surveyor or if there is no county surveyor in the county then a county surveyor of any adjoining county or if the county surveyor in any adjoining county refuses to act a surveyor appointed by a judge of the court of common pleas who shall act as a fence viewer and whose duty it shall be to examine such line or division fence so complained of and if he finds said fence sufficient the complainant shall pay the cost of his service but if he finds such fence insufficient he shall so report to a justice of the peace or alderman residing in the county where such fence is located designating points and distances of such fence whether a new fence is required or whether the old one can be repaired and the probable costs of a new or the repair of the old fence and said justice or alderman shall notify the delinquent owner of such improved and occupied land of the [county] surveyor's report and that his part of said fence as found by the [county] surveyor be erected or repaired within forty days from the date of such notice and if such notice be not complied with the aggrieved party may cause said line or division fence to be erected or repaired and the costs thereof collected including the charge of the [county] surveyor from the delinquent owner of such improved and occupied land as other debts are collected by law The [county] surveyor shall be entitled to such payment for acting as a fence viewer as he may fix not however exceeding twenty-five dollars Where the [county] surveyor reports that he finds the fence complained of sufficient the amount payable to the surveyor shall be paid by the complainant but where he reports the fence insufficient the amount payable to him shall be paid by the delinquent owner of such improved or occupied land Provided [however] That no owner of improved land shall be compelled to build or repair fence during the months of December January February and March And provided further That nothing herein contained shall be construed to apply to railroad companies

Section 2. Where an owner has improved up to and erected upon the line a division fence and an adjoining owner subsequently improves and occupies up to said line he shall become liable to the former for such part of the cost of said fence as is just and reasonable taking into consideration the quantity of the fence the length of time it had been erected and its condition And in case the parties fail to agree on the amount to be paid the owner who erected said fence may complain to the [county] surveyor aforesaid who shall assess the amount which in his opinion the other party should pay which amount together with payment to the [county] surveyor as in section one provided may be recovered as provided in section one of this act

Section 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 944, as follows:

An Act amending the act of August twenty-fourth one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 1417) entitled as amended "An act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing a property tax for a limited period of time on the net incomes derived from sources within the Commonwealth of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships excluding certain income providing for the assessment collection settlement and resettlement of taxes and reviews and appeal therefrom conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties" changing formula for determining gross receipts of corporations owning property or carrying on activities within and without the Commonwealth and the penatly for failure to make report or for making false report and increasing the rate of tax for a limited period of time

Section 1 Subdivision 2 of the definition of "net income" of section 2 and sections 3 and 4 act of August twenty-fourth one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 1417) known as the "Corporation Income Tax Law" reenacted and amended September twenty-seventh one thousand nine hundred fiftyfive (P. L. 626) are amended to read

Section 2 Definitions The following words terms and phrases when used in this act shall have the meaning ascribed to them in this section except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning

2 In the case of corporations owning property or carrying on activities within and without this Commonwealth other than corporations carrying on activities as insurance or surety companies the net income of such corporations derived from sources within this Commonwealth for the fiscal or calendar year shall be determined by allocations and apportionments of net incomes as defined in clause one hereof made as follows

(a) Gains realized and losses sustained from the sale or exchange of capital assets if such consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated in the Commonwealth shall be allocated to this Commonwealth

(b) Gains realized and losses sustained from the sale or exchange of capital assets if such assets consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated outside of the Commonwealth shall not be allocated in any part of this Commonwealth

(c) The resultant net income if any after allocations shall be divided into three equal parts

(1) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the corporation's tangible property situated within this Commonwealth and whose denominator is the value of all the corporation's tangible property wherever situated

(2) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to its employes and assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the total expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to all its employes

(3) Of the remaining third such portion shall be attributed to the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from property and activities assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from all its property and activities for the purpose of this section gross recepits shall not include receipts heretofore or hereafter received from the sale redemption maturity or exchange of securities except those held by the taxpayer primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of its trade or business

In cases where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable the remainder of the net income of the corporation shall be devided into two equal parts only each of which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules If only one of the three rules is applicable the part of the net income received from property and activities carried on within the Commonwealth shall be determined solely by that rule

The amount assignable to this Commonwealth of expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employes shall be such expenditures for the taxable year as represent the wages salaries commissions or other compensation of employes to the extent of services rendered or work performed in the Commonwealth and similar expenditures the employes not chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the corporation outside the Commonwealth

The amount of the corporation's gross receipts from property and activities assignable to this Commonwealth shall be (1) the amount of its gross receipts for the taxable year from services rendered work and contracts performed and sales made in the Commonwealth and all other gross receipts except those negotiated or affected in behalf of the corporation by agents or agencies chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside of the Commonwealth and except rentals and royalties and interst and dividends (2) rentals or royalties from property situated or from the use of patents within this Commonwealth and (3) dividends and interests except such dividends and interest attributable to the business conducted on premises maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth If a corporation maintains an office warehouse or other place of business in a state other than this Commonwealth for the purpose of reducing its tax under this subsection the department shall in determining the amount of its gross receipts from property and activities assignable to this Commonwealth include therein the gross receipts attributed by the corporation to the business conducted at such place of business in another state In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office in the State of Pennsylvania but performed outside the State the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable outside the State except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the State and partly outside the State such portion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in Pennsylvania under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year In the case of construction contracts negotiated or affected at an office outside the State but performed in the State the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable to the State except that if the acivities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the State and partly outside the State such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in the State under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all the tangible property or the expenditures of a corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation or the gross receipts of the corporation are found to be situated incurred or received without the Commonwealth

Section 3 Imposition of Tax Every corporation carrying on activities in this Commonwealth or owning property in this Commonwealth by or in the name of itself or any person partnership jointstock association or corporation shall be subject to and shall pay a State property tax on net income derived from sources within this Commonwealth at the rate of five per centum per annum upon each dollar of such net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the calendar years one thousand nine hundred fifty-one one thousand nine hundred fifty-two [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-three one thousand nine hundred fifty-four and one thousand nine hundred fifty-five except where a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the department as required by section four of this act in which case such tax at the rate of five per centum shall be levied collected and paid upon each dollar of such net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the fiscal years commencing in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred fifty-one one thousand nine hundred fifty-two [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-three [and ending in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred fifty-two one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-four and one thousand nine hundred fifty-five and a similar tax at the rate of [five] six per centum per annum upon each dollar of such net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the calendar year [one thousand nine hundred fifty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-five] one thousand nine hundred fifty-six and one thousand nine hundred fifty-seven except where a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the department as required by section four of this act in which case such tax at the rate of [five] six per centum per annum shall be levied collected and paid upon each dollar of such net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the fiscal years commencing in the calendar years [one thousand nine hundred fifty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-five] one thousand nine hundred fifty-six and one thousand nine hundred fifty-seven [and ending in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred fifty-five one thousand nine hundred fifty-six one thousand nine hundred fifty-seven and one thousand nine hundred fifty eight] Provided however That such net income shall not include income for any period for which the corporation is subject to taxation under the Corporate Net Income Tax Act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws two hundred eight) as reenacted and amended according to or measured by net income

Except as otherwise provided in this section the tax hereby imposed shall be in addition to all taxes now imposed on any corporation under the provisions of existing laws

Wolfe,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1593, as follows:

An Act regulating waste disposal areas in certain parts of the Commonwealth providing for permits placing duties upon the Department of Mines and imposing penalties

Whereas the igniting of fires on waste disposal areas as herein defined has proven a menace to the lives and property of our citizens in the anthracite and bituminous coal mining areas and

Whereas the Commonwealth the Federal government and local governments have expended and are committed to the expenditure of large sums of money in extinguishing and controlling these fires and the poisonous gases issuing therefrom and

Whereas to protect lives and property the General Assembly deems it important to regulate the use of waste disposal areas

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Purpose of Act This act is an exercise of the police power of the Commonwealth for the protection of the lives and property of the people in those areas of the Commonwealth where anthracite and bituminous coal is or has been mined

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, March 20, 1956

The House met at 11:00 a. m.
The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, York, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God we thank Thee that Thou has so fashioned us that life is only truly enriched, enlarged, magnified and made beautiful as we live in Thee and feed not on the bread of the wisdom of men but on every word that comes from Thee. God, we beseech Thee to lead us by the power of Thy Spirit. Then we shall be able

To Choose the best instead of the worse:
To differ with others and yet be courteous;
To see the good in others instead of the evil;
To be sincere in speech without being opinionated;
To live in the world and yet, not of it.

Father in Heaven, we are content to leave in Thy hands the causes of truth and justice. Direct, control every movement of our minds this day. To Thee be glory and dominion forever more, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is requesting the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Boies, to preside.

Mr. BOIES IN THE CHAIR

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. CURWOOD asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 20, 1956.

The Borough of Shickshinny, in Luzerne County. Pennsylvania has received the distinctive honor of being named the Typical American Town. This honor is commemorative of its past as a coal mining center and is a recognition of the ability of the people of this borough to keep abreast of the tide of modern developments by attracting new functions to its sphere of activities.

The West End Coal Company and the Stackhouse Coal Company, formerly the main business activities within Shickshinny, are now reduced to strip mining operations. But the spirit of the residents of Shickshinny has been the motivating force in the development of other business activities to give employment to and engage the constructive energies of Shickshinny's progressive populace. The Martin Throwing Company, a silk mill and the Outwear Company a clothing company, and Roney Dress, are exemplary companies which have fitted nobly into the economic sphere of the Typical American Town.

As a shopping center which services the rural population surrounding it, Shickshinny exemplifies the thriving rural and urban Americana which is currently as it was in the past, the backbone of this Nation's throbbing industrial, economic and agricultural stability. Small town Americana is the source of strength and stability which has sired men and women of ability and valor who have both led and served this nation in peace and in war. These people now stand at the helm of our way of life which is the example and goal of other nations and other peoples.

Despite its many activities, Shickshinny, and surrounding areas have not lost track of their duty to educate and prepare their youth for life. The North West Joint School will replace the Garrison Memorial High School, which will go out of existence after this year.

It is with justifiable pride that the present residents of Shickshinny, can view their past and present and with hope look to the future as this Typical American Town strives to attain the dreams, hopes and desires of past residents who worked in and for this fine American community, therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives collectively and individually extends its sincere and heartfelt congratulations to Shickshinny on being selected as the Typical American Town, and wishes the town and its population a happy and prosperous future.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 530

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair desires to call the attention of the Members to an announcement.

The Chair is about to declare a recess for the purpose of a Democratic and a Republican Caucus at 12:30 p. m.

The House will reconvene at 1:30 p. m. The Chair requests that all Members be present and in their seats to take up a highly controversial calendar in order that we may complete business by at least 4:00 o'clock.

COMMITTEE MEETING

PUBLIC HEALTH AND SANITATION, Mr. McGee, Chairman, Room 522, immediately after recess.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the Chair will declare a decess until 1:30 p. m. for the purpose of holding a Democratic and a Republican Caucus. The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

MR. BOIES IN THE CHAIR

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 879, Printer's No. 1558

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 880, as follows:

A Supplement to the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 858)entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" by permitting any State employe as a contributor under the provisions of the State employes' retirement system and who was an employe under the public school system of the Commonwealth and made contributions to the Public School Employes' Retirement Fund on account of such public school service to obtain credit for such service in the State employes' retirement sysetem under certain conditions

Section 1 Any State employe who is a contributor on the date of the final enactment of this act who as an employe under the public school system of this Commonwealth made contributions and on account of whose service contributions were made by the State and by any school district to the Public School Employes' Retirement Fund on account of the service credited to him under the Public School Employes' Retirement System and for which he has not heretofore been credited under the act to which this is an amendment may request the retirement board to give him credit for such previous service. The retirement board shall credit the contributor with such period of service upon the fulfillment of the following conditions (1) there shall be furnished to the retirement board by the Public School Employes' Retirement Board a statement certifying all such service heretofore credited as a member of the Public School Employes' Retirement System which hereafter is to be considered as having been rendered as a State employe (2) the transfer to the State Employes' Retirement Fund from the Public School Employes' Retirement Fund of an amount equal to all contingent and State annuity reserves and the accumulated deductions to the credit of such contributor in the Public School Employes' Retirement Fund as determined by the Public School Employes' Retirement Board (3) the payment into the State Employes' Retirement Fund of a sum equal to the amount of back payments that would have been made by such contributor under the rules of the State Employes' Retirement Board fixing the entry age and the percentage of salary deductions required of such contributor because of such previous service toward which sum the amount of transferred accumulated deductions shall be applied but any unpaid balance of such back payments may be paid in a lump sum or by future increased deductions from the salary of the contributor in such amounts as may be agreed upon by the contributor and the Retirement Board but in no event shall such increased salary deductions be in amounts less than sufficient to pay such balance of back payments by the time the member reaches superannuation retirement age or if the member has reached superannuation retirement age by payment of such balance of back payments within six (6) months of the effective date of this act and (4) a further sum shall be paid into the State Employes' Retirement Fund by the contributor sufficient to provide the cost of the additional State annuity related to such previous service for which credit may have been allowed under this act less the sum and the accrued interest thereon transferred from the Public School Employes' Retirement Fund as the amount equal to all contingent and State annuity reserves to the credit of such contributor Until such further sum is applied toward providing such additional State annuity it shall be separately credited to the account of the contributor in his member's annuity savings account subject to the rules governing members' accumulated deductions Such further sum may be paid in a lump sum or by future increased deductions from the salary of the contributor in such amounts as may be agreed upon by the contributor and the Retirement Board Provided however That in the event the entire amount so paid does not equal the total sum required to provide such additional State annuity related to such previous services such additional State annuity shall be reduced proportionately

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 882, as follows:

A Supplement to the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 1043) entitled "An act establishing a public school employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain refunds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon boards having the employment of public employes exempting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" by permitting any school employe as a contributor under the provisions of the School Employes' Retirement System and who was an employe under the State Employes' Retirement System of the Commonwealth and made contributions to the State Employes' Retirement Fund on account of such State service to obtain credit for such service in the School Employes' Retirement System under certain conditions

Section 1 Any school employe who is a contributor on the date of the final enactment of this act who as an employe under the State Employes' Retirement Association of this Commonwealth made contributions and on account of whose service contributions were made by the State to the State Employes' Retirement Association on account of the service credited to him under the State Employes' Retirement Association and for which he has not heretofore been credited under the act to which this is an amendment may request the State Employes' Retirement Board to give him credit for such previous service The retirement board shall credit the contributor with such period of service upon the fulfillment of the following conditions (1) there shall be furnished to the retirement board by the State Employes' Retirement Board a statement certifying all such service heretofore credited as a member of the State Employes' Retirement Association which hereafter is to be considered as having been rendered as a public school employe (2) the transfer to the School Employes' Retirement Fund from the State Employes' Retirement Fund of an amount equal to all contingent and State annuity reserves and the accumulated deductions to the credit of such contributor in the State Employes' Retirement Association as determined by the State Employes' Retirement Board (3) the payment into the Public School Employes' Retirement Fund of a sum equal to the amount of back payments that would have been made by such contributor under the rules of the Public School Employes' Retirement Board fixing the entry age and the percentage of salary deductions required of such contributor because of such previous service toward which sum the amount of transferred accumulated deductions shall be applied but any unpaid balance of such back payments may be paid in a lump sum or by future increased deductions from the salary of the contributor in such amounts as may be agreed upon by the contributor and the Retirement Board but in no event shall such increased salary deductions be in amounts less than sufficient to pay such balance of back payments by the time the member reaches superannuation retirement age or if the member has reached superannuation retirement age by payment of such balance of back payments within six (6) months of the effective date of this act and (4) a further sum shall be paid into the School Employes' Retirement Fund by the contributor sufficient to provide the cost of the additional State annuity related to such previous service for which credit may have been allowed under this act less the sum and the accrued interest thereon transferred from the State Employes' Retirement Fund as the amount equal to all contingent and State annuity reserves to the credit of such contributor Until such further sum is applied toward providing such additional State annuity it shall be separately credited to the account of the contributor in his member's annuity savings account subject to the rules governing members' accumulated deductions Such further sum may be paid in a lump sum or by future increased deductions from the salary of the contributor in such amounts as may be agreed upon by the contributor and the Retirement Board Provided however That in the event the entire amount so paid does not equal the total sum required to provide such additional State annuity related to such previous service such additional State annuity shall be reduced proportionately

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1872, Printer's No. 1534 and

House Bill No. 1876, Printer's No. 1535

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1890 as follows:

An Act reenacting and amending the act of September 26, 1951 (P. L. 1518) entitled "An act to provide for the registration and protection of trade-marks and to secure the rights property and interests therein providing for the assignment cancellation and revocation thereof and imposing penalties for violations conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth in the administration thereof and to repeal all acts inconsistent therewith" extending the act to service-marks used to identify certain services and distinguish them from others

Section 1 The title and the act of September 26, 1951 (P. L. 1518) entitled "An act to provide for the registration and protection of trade-marks and to secure the rights property and interests therein providing for the assignment cancellation and revocation thereof and imposing penalties for violations conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth in the administration thereof and to repeal all acts inconsistent therewith" are reenacted and amended to read

AN ACT

To provide for the registration and protection of trade-marks and service-marks and to secure the rights property and interests therein providing for the assignment cancellation and revocation thereof and imposing penalties for violations conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth in the administration thereof and to repeal all acts inconsistent therewith

Section 1 Definitions

(a) The term "trade-mark" as used herein means any word name symbol or device or any combination thereof adopted and used by a person to identify goods produced manufactured or sold by him and to distinguish them from goods produced manufactured or sold by others

(a.1) The term "service-mark" as used herein means a mark used in the sale or advertising of services to identify the services of one person and distinguish them from the services of others and includes without limitation the marks names symbols titles designations slogans character names and distinctive features of radio or other advertising used in commerce

(b) The term "person" as used herein means any individual firm co-partnership corporation association or other organization

(c) The term "applicant" as used herein means any person filing an application for registration of a trade-mark or service-mark under this act or his legal representatives successors or assigns

(d) The term "registrant" as used herein means any person heretofore registering a trade-mark or service-mark under this act or his legal representatives successors or assigns

(e) For the purposes of this act a trade-mark shall be deemed to be "adopted and used" in this Commonwealth when it is placed in any manner on the goods or their containers or on the tags or labels affixed thereto and such goods are sold or otherwise distributed in this Commonwealth

(f) For the purpose of this act a service-mark shall be deemed to be "adopted and used" in this Commonwealth when it is used to identify the services of one person and distinguish them from the services of others and such services are sold or otherwise rendered in this Commonwealth

Section 2 Registrability

A trade-mark or service-mark by which the goods or services of any applicant for registration may be distinguished from the goods or services of others shall not be registered which

4 A statement that the applicant is the owner of the trade-mark or service-mark and that no other person has the right to use such trade-mark or service-mark in this [State] Commonwealth either in the identical form thereof or in any such near resemblance thereto as might be calculated to deceive or to be mistaken therefor The application shall be signed and sworn to by any officer of the corporation or association or by a member of the copartnership applying The application shall be accompanied with two specimens or facsimilies of such trade-mark or service-mark and check or money order for the filing fee of $15.00 payable to the Secretary of the Commonwealth

Section 5 Certificate of Registration

Upon compliance by the applicant with the requirements of this act the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall cause a certificate of registration to be issued and delivered to him The certificate of registration shall be issued under the signature of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the seal of the [State] Commonwealth and shall set forth the name and address of the applicant the name or description of the trade-mark or service-mark and the general class of goods or services to which appropriated and the date on which the application was filed

Any certificate of registration issued by the Secretary of the Commonwealth under the provisions hereof or a copy thereof duly certified by him shall be admissible in evidence as competent and sufficient proof of the registration of such trade-mark or service-mark in any action or judicial proceedings in any court of this Commonwealth

Section 6 Duration and Renewal

Registration of a trade-mark or service-mark hereunder shall be effective for a term of ten years from the date of registration and upon application filed [within] not less than two months nor more than six months prior to the expiration of such term on a form to be furnished by the Secretary of the Commonwealth the registration may be renewed for a like term A renewal fee of $15.00 payable to the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall accompany the application for renewal of the registration

A trade-mark or service-mark registration may be renewed for successive periods of ten years in like manner

Any registration of a trade-mark in force on [the date on which this act shall become effective] September 26 1951 shall expire ten years from the date of the registration or of the last renewal thereof or on September 26 1956 [five years after the effective date of this] [act] whichever is later and may be renewed by filing an application with the Secretary of the Commonwealth on a form furnished by him and paying the aforementioned renewal fee thereof [within] not less than two months nor more than six months prior to the expiration of the registration

Section 7 Assignment

Any trade-mark or service-mark and its registration hereunder shall be assignable with the good will of the business in which the trade-mark or service-mark is used or with that part of the good will of the business connected with the use of and symbolized by the trade-mark or service-mark Assignment shall be by instrument in writing duly executed and may be recorded with the Secretary of the Commonwealth upon the payment of a fee of $10.00 payable to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who upon recording of the assignment shall issue in the name of the assignee a new certificate for the remainder of the term of the registration or of the last renewal thereof An assignment of any registration under this act shall be void as against any subsequent purchaser for valuable consideration and without notice unless it is recorded with the Secretary of the Commonwealth

[within] not later than three months after the date of the assignment or prior to such subsequent purchase

Section 8 Records

The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall keep for public examination a record of all trade-marks or service-marks registered or renewed under this act

Section 9 Cancellation

The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall cancel from the register

(1) [After] In the case of trade-marks on and after September 26 1956 and in the case of service-marks after [five] ten years from the effective date of this reenacting and amending act all registrations under this or prior acts which are more than ten years old and not renewed in accordance with this act

(2) Any registration concerning which the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall receive a voluntary request for cancellation thereof from the registrant or the assignee of record

(3) All registrations granted under this act and not renewed in accordance with the provisions hereof

(4) Any registration concerning which a court of competent jurisdiction shall find

(a) That the registered trade-mark or service-mark has been abandoned

(b) That the registrant is not the owner of the trade-mark or service-mark

(c) That the registration was granted improperly

(d) That the registration was obtained fraudulently

(e) That the registered trade-mark or service-mark is so similar to a trade-mark or service-mark registered under this act as to be likely to cause confusion or mistake or to deceive or that it is similar to a trade-mark or service mark registered by another person in the United States Patent Office prior to the date of the filing of the application for registration by the registrant hereunder and not abandoned Provided [however] That should the registrant prove that he is the owner of a concurrent registration of his trade-mark or service-mark in the United States Patent Office covering an area including this [State] Commonwealth the registration hereunder shall not be canceled

(5) When a court of competent jurisdiction shall order cancellation of a registration on any ground

(6) Any registration in the following circumstances

(a) Where an applicant by affidavits and other good and sufficient evidence shall prove to the satisfaction of the secretary that he is entitled to any trade-mark or service-mark heretofore registered in this office by virtue of prior adoption and use

(b) In the case of a corporation having filed articles of dissolution or a decree of dissolution any person may at any time at least three years thereafter present a petition under proper affidavit to the Secretary of the Commonwealth setting forth such fact

(c) In the case of a person co-partnership or corporation not having filed articles of dissolution or a decree of dissolution but having discontinued or gone out of the business to which such registration is pertinent

(d) When a registered trade-mark or service-mark has been abandoned or discontinued for a period of at least five years subsequent to registration and such abandonment and non-user still persists

In all circumstances enumerated in [section] subsection (6) [subsections] clauses (a) to (d) inclusive any person may present his petition for cancellation in writing and supported by proper affidavit to the Secretary of the Commonwealth accompanied with a fee of $25.00

Section 4 Prohibited Acts (a) It shall be unlawful for any person to distribute sell or offer for sale within this Commonwealth or deliver for transportation or transport in intrastate commerce or between points within this Commonwealth through any point outside this Commonwealth

(1) Any pesticide which has not been registered pursuant to the provisions of section five of this act or any pesticide if any of the claims made for it or any of the directions for its use differ in substance from the representation made in connection with its registration or if the composition of a pesticide differs from its composition as represented in connection with its registration Provided That the Secretary may permit a change in the labeling or formula of a pesticide within a registration period without requiring reregistration of the product

(2) Any pesticide unless it is in the registrant's or the manufacturer's unbroken immediate container and there is affixed to such container and to the outside container or wrapper of the retail package if there be one through which the required information on the immediate container cannot be clearly read a label bearing

(i) the name and address of the manufacturer registrant or person for whom manufactured

(ii) the name brand or trademark under which the article is sold and

(ii) the net weight or measure of the content subject to such reasonable variations as the Secretary may permit

(3) Any pesticide which contains any substance or substances in quantities highly toxic to man determined as provided in section six of this act unless the label shall bear in addition to any other matter required by this act

(i) the skull and crossbones

(ii) the word "poison" prominently in red on a background of distinctly contrasting color and

(iii) a statement of an antidote for the pesticide

(4) Pesticides commonly known as standard lead arsenate basic lead arenate calcium arsenate magnesium arsenate zinc arsenate sodium fluoride sodium fluosilicate and barium fluosilicate unless they have been distinctly colored or discolored as provided by regulations issued in accordance with this act or any other white powder pesticide which the Secretary after investigation of and after public hearing on the necessity for such action for the protection of the public health and the feasibility of such coloration or discoloration shall by regulation require to be distinctly colored or discolored unless it has been so colored or discolored The Secretary may exempt any pesticide to the extent that it is intended for a particular use or uses from the coloring or discoloring required or authorized by this section if he determines that coloring or discoloring for such use or uses is not necessary for the protection of the public health

(5) Any pesticide which is adulterated or misbranded

(b) It shall be unlawful

(1) for any person to detach alter deface or destroy in whole or in part any label or labeling provided for in this act or regulations promulgated hereunder or to add any substance to or take any substance from a pesticide in a manner that may defeat the purpose of this act

(2) for any person to use for his own advantage or to reveal other than to the Secretary or proper officials or employes of the Commonwealth or to the courts of this Commonwealth in response to a subpoena or to physicians or in emergencies to pharmacists and other qualified persons for use in the preparation of antidotes any information relative to formulas of products acquired by authority of section five of this act

Section 5 Registration (a) Every pesticide which is distributed sold or offered for sale within this Commonwealth or delivered for transportation or transported in intrastate commerce or between points within this Commonwealth through any point outside this Commonwealth shall be registered with the Secretary and such registration shall be renewed annually Products which have the same formula are manufactured by the same person the labeling of which contains the same claims and the labels of which bear a designation identifying the product as the same pesticide may be registered as a single pesticide and additional names and labels shall be added by supplement statements during the current period of registration The registrant shall file with the Secretary a statement including

(1) The name and address of the registrant and the name and address of the person whose name will appear on the label if other than the registrant

(2) The name of the pesticide

(3) A complete copy of the labeling accompanying the pesticide and a statement of all claims to be made for it including directions for use and

(4) If requested by the Secretary a full description of the tests made and the results thereof upon which the claims are based In the case of renewal of registration a statement shall be required when the pesticide was registered or last reregistered

(b) Each pesticide shall be registered with the Secretary before being offered for sale sold or otherwise distributed in this Commonwealth The application for registration shall be submitted to the Secretary on forms which he shall supply and shall be accompanied by a fee of seven dollars and fifty cents ($7.50) per brand Upon approval by the Secretary a copy of the registration shall be furnished to the applicant All registrations shall expire on the thirty-first day of December of each year The registration fees and fines when collected shall constitute a fund to be administered by the Secretary for the payment of the costs of inspection sampling analysis and other expenses necessary for the administration of this act

(c) The Secretary whenever he deems it necessary in the administration of this act may require the submission of the complete formula of any pesticide If it appears to the Secretary that the composntion of the article is such as to warrant the proposed claims for it and if the article and its labeling and other material required to be submitted comply with the requirements of section four of this act he shall register the article

(d) If it does not appear to the Secretary that the article is such as to warrant the proposed claims for it or if the article and its labeling and other material required to be submitted do not comply with the provisions of this act he shall notify the registrant of the manner in which the article labeling or other material required to be submitted fail to comply with the act so as to afford the registrant an opportunity to make the necessary corrections If upon receipt of such notice the registrant insists that the corrections are not necessary and requests in writing that the article be registered the Secretary shall register the article under protest and the registration shall be accompanied by a warning in writing to the registrant of the apparent failure of the article to comply with the provisions of this act In order to protect the public the Secretary may at any time cancel the registration of a pesticide and in lieu thereof issue a registration under protest in accordance with the foregoing procedure In no event shall registration of an article whether or not protested be construed as a defense for the commission of any offense prohibited under section four of this act

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of this act registration is not required in the case of a pesticide shipped from one plant within this Commonwealth to another plant within this Commonwealth operated by the same person

Section 6 Determinations Rules Regulations Uniformity (a) The Secretary may after opportunity for a hearing

(1) Declare as a pest any form of plant or animal life or virus which is injurious to plants men domestic animals articles or substances

(2) Determine whether pesticides are highly toxic to man and

(3) Determine standards of coloring or discoloring for pesticides and to subject pesticides to the requirements of section four (a) (4) of this act

(b) The Secretary may after due public hearing make rules and regulations for carrying out the provisions of this act including rules and regulations providing for the collection and examination of samples of pesticides

(c) In order to avoid confusion endangering the public health resulting from diverse requirements particularly as to the labeling and coloring of pesticides and to avoid increased costs to the people of this Commonwealth due to the necessity of complying with such diverse requirements in the manufacture and sale of such pesticides it is desirable that there should be uniformity between the requirements of the several states and the Federal government relating to such pesticides To this end the Secretary may after due public hearing adopt rules and regulations applicable to and in conformity with the primary standards established by this act which are prescribed in the United States Department of Agriculture with respect to pesticides Such rules and regulations shall have the full force and effect of law as if they had been specifically enacted by the Legislature

Section 7 Enforcement (a) The examination of pesticides shall be made under the direction of the Secretary for the purpose of determining whether they comply with the requirements of this act If it appears from such examination that a pesticide fails to comply with the provisions of this act and the Secretary contemplates instituting proceedings against any person the Secretary shall cause appropriate notice to be given to such person and to the registrant Any person so notified shall be given an opportunity to present his views either orally or in writing with regard to such contemplated proceedings and if thereafter in the opinion of the Secretary it appears that the provisions of the act have been violated by such person the Secretary shall institute such action as is hereinafter provided in the county in which the violation occurred Nothing in this act shall be construed as requiring the Secretary to report for prosecution or for the institution of libel proceedings minor violations of the act whenever he believes that the public interests will be best served by a suitable notice or warning in writing

(b) The Secretary shall by publication in such manner as he may prescribe give public notice of all judgments entered in actions instituted under the authority of this act and all registrantions made under protest

Section 8 Exemptions (a) The penalties provided for violations of section four (a) of this act shall not apply to

(1) Any carrier while lawfully engaged in transporting a pesticide within this Commonwealth if such carrier shall upon request permit the Secretary or his designated agent to copy all records showing the transactions in and movement of the articles

(2) Public officials of this Commonwealth and the Federal government engaged in the performance of their official duties

(3) The manufacturer or shipper of a pesticide for experimental use only

(i) by or under the supervision of an agency of this

Commonwealth or of the Federal government authorized by law to conduct research in the field of pesticide or

(ii) by others if the pesticide is not sold and if the container thereof is plainly and conspicuously marked "For experimental use only Not to be sold" together with the manufacturer's name and address when a written permit has been obtained from the Secretary pesticides may be sold for experimental purposes subject to such restrictions and conditions as may be set forth in the permit

(b) No article shall be deemed in violation of this act when intended solely for export to a foreign country and when prepared or packaged according to the specifications or directions of the purchaser If not so exported all the provisions of this act shall apply

Section 9 Penalties (a) Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall for the first or second offense upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100) and costs of prosecution and in default of payment thereof shall be sentenced to undergo imprisonment for not more than thirty (30) days and for a third or subsequent offense shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than five hundred dollars ($500) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1000) or to undergo imprisonment not exceeding one (1) year or both Any offense committed more than five (5) years after a previous conviction shall be considered a first offense In any case where a registrant was issued a warning by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act the registrant shall upon conviction of a violation of any provision of this act other than section four (a) (1) be fined not more than one thousand dollars ($1000) or imprisoned for not more than one (1) year or both and the registration of the article with reference to which the violation occurred shall terminate automatically An article the registration of which has been terminated may not again be registered unless the article its labeling and other material required to be submitted appear to the Secretary to comply with all the requirements of this act

(b) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section in case any person with intent to defraud uses or reveals information relative to formulas of products acquired under authority of section five of this act upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than two hundred dollars ($200) or imprisoned for not more than one (1) year or both

There being not objection

House Bill No. 2043, Printer's No. 1450

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2072, as follows:

An Act regulating rights and duties of teachers in schools for the teaching and training of the mentally retarded functioning within the Department of Welfare

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Definitions The following words terms and phrases as used in this act shall have the meanings herein assigned to them unless the context clearly indicates otherwise

(1) "Schools" shall mean schools for the teaching and training of the mentally retarded that are functioning within the Department of Welfare

(2) "Teacher" shall mean any teacher employed to teach in schools as defined in this act

Section 2 Permanent Certificates The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall issue a permanent college certificate to every graduate of a college or university approved by the State Council of Education and of such departments therein as are approved by him when such graduate furnishes satisfactory evidence of good moral character and successful experience of three years' teaching in schools The permanent college certificates issued pursuant to this section shall be subject to all lawful privileges and restrictions applying to like certificates to teach in the public schools of this Commonwealth

Section 3 Contracts Execution Form In schools all contracts with teachers shall be in writing in duplicate and shall be executed on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by the Secretary of Welfare and signed by the teacher The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall hereafter enter into a contract in writing with each teacher who has satisfactorily completed two years of service in any school in this Commonwealth which shall contain only the following

"It is agreed by and between .....Teacher and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that the teacher shall under the authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and subject to the supervision of the properly authorized person serve as a teacher in the school for a term of ..... months for an annual compensation of $.....payable monthly or semi-monthly during the year less the contribution required by law to be paid to the State Employes' Retirement Fund and less other proper deductions for loss of time

"And it is further agreed by the parties hereto that this contract shall continue in force year after year with the right of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to increase the compensation over the compensation herein stated from time to time as may be provided under the provisions and proper operation of the established salary schedule if any for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania subject to the provisions of law without invalidating any other provision of this contract unless terminated by the teacher by written resignation presented sixty days before resignation becomes effective or by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by official written notice from the Secretary of Welfare presented or mailed to the teacher The notice shall designate the cause for the termination and shall state that an opportunity to be heard shall be granted if the teacher within ten days after receipt of the termination notice presents either in person or by mail a written request for a hearing"

Section 4 Termination of Contract The only valid causes for termination of a contract heretofore or hereafter entered into with a teacher shall be immorality incompetency intemperance cruelty persistent negligence mental derangement or advocation of or participating in un-American or subversive doctrine. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania may terminate the service of any teacher who has attained the age of sixty-two The service of any teacher shall be terminated when the teacher attains the age of seventy

Nothing within the foregoing enumeration of causes shall be interpreted to conflict with the retirement of teachers upon proper evidence of disability

Section 5 Rating System In determining whether a teacher shall be dismissed for incompetency the teacher shall be rated by an approved rating system which shall give due consideration to personality preparation technique and pupil reaction in accordance with standards and regulations for such scoring as defined by rating cards to be prepared by the Department of Welfare and to be revised from time to time by the Department of Welfare with the cooperation and advice of a committee appointed by the Secretary of Welfare including representation from classroom teachers school directors school supervisors and such other groups or interests as the Secretary of Welfare may deem appropriate Rating shall be done by or under the supervision of the Secretary of Welfare or if so directed by him the same may be done by the person who has supervision over the work of the teacher who is being rated No unsatisfactory rating shall be valid unless approved by the Secretary of Welfare

Section 6 Causes for Suspension The Secretary of Welfare may suspend the necessary number of teachers for any of the causes hereinafter enumerated

(1) Substantial decrease in the number of pupils in any school

(2) Curtailment or alteration of school educational program by the Department of Welfare

Section 7 Suspensions and Reinstatements How Made (a) Whenever the Department of Welfare decreases the number of teachers in schools the suspensions to be made shall be determined by the Secretary of Welfare on the basis of efficiency rank determined by ratings made in accordance with standards and regulations determined by rating cards prepared by the Department of Welfare It shall be the duty of the Secretary of Welfare to cause to be established a permanent record system containing ratings for each teacher employed in a school Copies of all ratings for the year shall be transmitted to the teacher upon his or her request or if any rating during the year is unsatisfactory a copy of same shall be transmitted to the teacher concerned No teacher shall be dismissed under this act unless rating records have been kept on file by the Department of Welfare

(b) In cases in which suspensions are to be made teachers shall be retained on the basis of seniority rights acquired due to length of employment where no differences in rating are found Seniority rights shall also prevail where there is no substantial difference in rating In cases where there are substantial differences in rating of those under consideration for suspension seniority shall be given consideration in accordance with principles and standards of weighting incorporated in the rating cards

shall be made while there are suspended teachers available who are properly certified to fill such vacancies

Section 8 Hearings Suspensions of teachers and the termination of teachers' contracts shall be subject to the right of notice hearing and adjudication and the right of appeal therefrom in accordance with the provisions of the act of June 4 1954 (P. L. 1388) known as the "Administrative Agency Law" or any amendment or reenactment thereof relating to adjudication procedure

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Senate Bill No. 906, Printer's No. 430,
Senate Bill No. 916, Printer's No. 481 and Senate Bill No. 957, Printer's No. 516,

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. KAMYK.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1904, entitled:

An Act amending the act of September 26, 1951 (P. L. 1536) entitled "An act providing for the licensure and regulation of commercial boarding homes for the aged conferring certain powers and duties upon the Department of Welfare imposing license fees and providing penalties" further providing for refusal to grant refusal to renew and revocation of licenses changing license fees.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Section 7, page 3, line 6, by striking out the bracket before the word "The" and, on line 9, by striking out the bracket after the word "notice".

Amend Section 7, page 3, line 8, by bracketing out the word "two" and the word "months" on line 9 and substituting therefor the words one month.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the plans for tomorrow are the same as announced formerly. It will be a regular working day. We are planning to meet at 10:00 o'clock tomorrow morning and almost immediately take up controversial legislation. We are going to take up controversial legislation whether we have all our Members here or whether we do not.

There are many important bills on this calendar which we could not take up today because of the arrangements made to have us leave here at 4:00 o'clock in order to prepare the Hall for the services tonight, but they will be taken up tomorrow. If Members do not want to be voted "absent" on important roll calls, they most certainly will be here tomorrow.

The present plans for next week call for a two-day consent session. Due to the religious holidays to be celebrated it is impossible to expect enough of the Members here next week to take up all types of legislation. By having a two-day consent session we are hoping the various conferees on many of the Conference Committees will come here to work and get their reports ready, so that by the following week we will be in a position to pass or reject the conference reports.

We appreciate your indulgence in staying here today. We tried to pass or reject as much non-controversial legislation as we could today.

We hope to see all of you tonight, and we certainly want to see you at 10:00 o'clock tomorrow morning.

I failed to mention a moment ago that if we have a session at all on Thursday of this week, it certainly will be a consent session. At the moment we are not even sure there will be that.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. NEEDHAM from the Committee on Mines and Mining, reported as committed, House Bill No. 2069, entitled:

CONGRATULATIONS

Mrs. MUNLEY, Messrs. WARGO, NEEDHAM and YETZER offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 20, 1956.

Today marks the anniversary of the birth date of our colleague and friend, John F. Stank. He was born in Coal Township the son of August and Josephine Stank and attended the Coal Township schools. He is in the furniture business and he is tireless in his endeavors for his State and community.

Among us he is noted for his great energy and his willingness to work as long and as hard as the needs of his State require. But unlike the common conception of the dedicated man, he is possessed of a great good humor. He wears a smile as standard equipment and is capable of bringing a smile upon the face of any one of us at any time. His humor is loved, respected and thoroughly appreciated because it is a kind humor. His jokes are inexhaustible and each one is a compliment to someone; never does one carry a barb.

His pleasant easy going manner has been a constant source of comfort to all of us here. During troubled times in the House, his ready wit and good humor provide balsam for jangled nerves and injured feelings; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives extend their heartiest personal congratulations to John Stank on his birthday, our best wishes for continued success, and our earnest supplication that he never change, and be it further

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives note our appreciation to his wife, the former Gertrude T. Sacus and his three children for providing the happy home life that a man of his generous character must have; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be delivered to John F. Stank.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Stank.

Mr. STANK. There seemed to be a lot of—I do not know what you would call it, I did hear the part about the jangled nerves. Because of the fact that I started to celebrate last night, that is what I have today.

I really want to thank the Members for their kind consideration. Outside of that I have enough to say tonight, so I am going to cut this real short. Thank you.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILL No. 1618.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 20, 1956.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Bill No. 1618, Printer's No. 1446, entitled "An act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) entitled 'An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined' prescribing powers and duties of the Department of welfare with respect to juveniles."

GEORGE M. LEADER.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

CIVIL SERVICE

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 20, 1956.

To the Honorable, the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

No matter how great our effort to improve State Government, it is foredoomed to failure if we cannot attract competent people to the State's service; and if, having attracted them, we cannot induce them to remain in their jobs for a reasonable length of time.

Two vital factors which attract first-rate people to the service of their State are salary and job security.

Our State Government must improve both if we are to have efficient government.

Historically, the policy-making level of jobholders in State Government are appointed under the administrative power. And this also holds true for those whose jobs require only routine training.

But between these extremes there exists a middle group, comprising technical and professional people, to whom State service must offer a non-political career.

At best, such specialists are hard to come by, for their skills are in great demand in the Nation's market places. But it becomes almost impossible to attract them to jobs in government when the government concerned can offer them no security of employment, and therefore no opportunity for building their careers.

It is with the intent of ameliorating this situation that we propose new legislation extending Civil Service in the technical and professional field.

Before discussing this measure, however, I should like to show concrete examples of our failure, under the present system, to recruit the competent people we need for those technical and professional positions which our Commonwealth must fill.

Out of 50 graduates of the Pennsylvania State University Forestry School last year, only one entered the Pennsylvania Forestry Corps. Roughly three-quarters of these men took jobs with the Forestry Departments of our neghboring states.

Salaries were not at issue, for our own are competitive.

Job security was, in all cases, the determining factor.

Pennsylvania's Department of Forests and Waters needs twelve trained foresters immediately, but Secretary Goddard, despite personal recruiting trips, has been unable thus far to get them.

We urgently need 200 civil engineers in our Department of Highways. Yet we have had only one civil engineering graduate of the Pennsylvania State University join the staff of our Highway Department since 1951.

Skilled men and women like these cannot be blamed for seeking employment which offers job security and turning their backs on positions which ofler no future, or an uncertain future at best.

This Administration, which has faced the problem for upwards of a year, therefore feels that the principle of job security must be extended to some 1100 or 1200 more salaried positions.

Without such job security, we shall not be able to get the people we want, nor hold the people we have.

Accordingly, we strongly recommend a new Personnel Act, embodying the following principle features:

1. It will replace the Civil Service Act of 1941 and cover all positions mentioned in that Act.

2. The range of those positions with job security may be expanded by action of the General Assembly or the Executive Board. But no such positions may be removed from Civil Service protection except by action of the General Assembly. This provision is designed of course, to prevent liquidation of the job security system by executive action.

3. Incumbent employes will be confirmed in their posts through qualifying examinations.

4. The name of the Civil Service Commission will be changed to the State Personnel Board.

5. The State Personnel Board will be composed of five laymen appointed for five years each on a staggered basis. Of these, no more than three shall represent a single poltical party. The Board will be semi-autonomous, but will be attached to the Governor's Office for administrative purposes.

6. An Executive Director will administer the Personnel Act. He will be appointed and supervised by the State Personnel Board.

7. Employes in the technical and professional classes affected will have the right to appeal dismissals and the right to reinstatement if they have been improperly dismissed.

8. No employe will have security of tenure until he has completed a six-month probationary period.

9. The status of veterans is unchanged under this legislation.

By making this bill law, the General Assembly will be taking a positive step toward more modern, more efficient and more effective State government.

The proposed Personnel Act is completely in line with the most up-to-date approach to governmental administration.

It is a strentgthening of Civil Service and an extension of job security to a critical area of Commonwealth employment, and it cannot fail to ease the task of attracting top people to those professional and technical jobs which now go begging.

I strongly urge the General Assembly's early action on this vitally important legislation.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

By Mr. HEAVEY. HOUSE BILL No. 2099.

An Act amending the act of August 31, 1955 (P. L. 531) entitled "An act permitting and regulating wrestling and boxing contests and exhibitions; requiring licenses and permits; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the State Athletic Commission; providing for the granting, suspension, and revocation of licenses and permits issued by the Commission; preserving the rights of existing licensees and permittees; prescribing penalties, fines, forfeitures and misdemeanors requiring bonds and insurance; creating a Medical Advisory Board; providing for rules and regulations; and making appropriations," authorizing cities of the first class to regulate boxing or wrestling contests or exhibitions; and providing penalties.

Referred to the Committee on Law and Order.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. JUMP. RESOLUTION (Not Printed).

In the House of Representatives, March 20, 1956.

March 17, 1956 marked the 150th birthday anniversary of Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania. It was on this day in the year 1806, that the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania passed the act of March 17, 1806 (P. L. 529) which incorporated the town plot as a borough. The Sesquicentennial observance which shall continue throughout the year with at least a dozen or more separate events, has for its basic theme the "beautification of the valley, its entrances, its homes—the entire area." The seal adopted by the citizenry for this anniversary is "Acclaim the past—proclaim the future."

Although Wilkes-Barre was not incorporated until 1806, it was in the year 1769 that Major John Durkee led a large group of settlers from Connecticut and New York to the valley of Wyoming where they joined the settlers who had previously arrived there in 1762. Immediately upon their arrival, they built Fort Durkee near the river bank upon the site which is now known as West River Street. Shortly after the completion of the fort, Major Durkee, a profound admirer of two Britons, John Wilkes and Col. Isaac Barre, compounded their names into Wilkes-Barre and applied it to the territory in the port area. Wilkes, a former member of the English Parliament and Col. Barre, who had been an officer in the British army and also a member of Parliament, were defenders of the oppressed American Colonies and denounced the British Parliament's unfair measures in the Colonies. The name "Sons of Liberty" was adopted by the colonists from Col. Barre's speech in violent opposition to the Stamp Act. In commemoration of these three great men, a portrait of Barre was hung in Faneuil Hall ((the Cradle of Liberty), a monument of Wilkes and Barre stands today on Public Square and a monument of Major Durkee, Founder of the City, stands upon the site of the original Fort Durkee, on the River Common near South Street and West River Street.

From its humble beginning in 1769, through the trying times prior to and during the American Revolution when the citizens of Wyoming Valley were identified as lovers of liberty and the progressive years thereafter when the borough was recognized as the hub of economic, educational, social and cultural development, the citizens of Wilkes-Barre and the Wyoming Valley have always looked and moved forward with vision to make Wilkes-Barre a leading community in this great Commonwealth. At the official ceremonies to begin the 150th anniversary, highlighted by Mr. Douglas F. Stoner, president and owner of the newspaper feature "Believe It or Not" presenting an article to Mayor Kniffen which stated "Wilkes-Barre furnished more volunteers for the United States Navy than any other city in the U. S. A.," Mayor Kniffen issued his Sesquicentennial proclamation with the keynote that it is time "to reorient ourselves and to prepare for the future in order that Wilkes-Barre may truly take its rightful place in this modern 20th century and make a major contribution in this Atomic Age,"; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives are happy to share the satisfaction and pride of the citizens of Wilkes-Barre in the history of their fair city and extends to the people of Wilkes-Barre its warmest contratulations upon the celebration of the one hundred and fiftieth birthday anniversary observance of the incorporation of their city. It extends contratulations also to Mayor Kniffen and those on the planning committees for their efforts in making this anniversary a successful one; and be it further sentatives transmit a copy of this resolution to Luther M. Kniffen, the Mayor of the city of Wilkes-Barre.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS

MILITARY AFFAIRS, Mr. Needham, Chairman, Room 323, Wednesday, March 21, at 9:30 a.m.

STATE GOVERNMENT, Mr. Polaski, Chairman, Room 324, Wednesday, March 21, 9:45 a.m.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the Chair will declare a recess until 7:30 p.m. The Chair hears none and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Herman G. Andrews) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. This being the day and the hour agreed upon for the final adjournment ceremonies, the Chair requests the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Stank, Chairman of the Select Committee for Final Adjournment Ceremonies, to preside.

Mr. STANK in the Chair.

PRESENTATION CEREMONIES

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Speaker, it is a privilege to preside as Chairman on this very pleasant occasion when we pause in our deliberations to express our gratitude to those who have been our leaders, and to those who have carried on the work of this House so efficiently during a truly extraordinary session.

It is fitting and proper that we open with the singing of "America." The Chair requests the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Jump, and the gentleman from Lawrence, Mr.Cioffi, to lead with the gentleman from Venango, Mr. Gramlich, at the piano.

Those assembled sang America, and a number of other selections.

The CHAIRMAN. This has been a long and arduous session. While many of us have spent our after-hours in relaxation in clubs and other places of amusement, we have one Member who all during this long session has persued his musical studies and practice as his after-hour diversion.

As proof of this we now give you the "Old Nighthawk" himself, the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, in a violin duet with the great Montovani.

Mr. READINGER. Members and dear friends who have come here tonight to help us celebrate this event, in my infancy I thought I wanted to be a violinist. When I got to high school I discovered I was not. Tonight you will help me rediscover that I am not. This tragedy occurs because of the fact that we had a wonderful trio set up called "The Night Owls," but the untimely death of the father of one of them prevents him from being here tonight. So the Committee decided to inflict me upon you.

I crave your indulgence, and if it is lousy, at least it will be novel. Most of the time a soloist is accompanied by an orchestra, tonight you are going to be entertained by a soloist accompanying an orchestra. In case you do not recognize this, the number is the "Barcarole."

Selections were played by Mr. Readinger.

The CHAIRMAN. We are highly honored this evening in having with us one of the finest quartets in America from our own state of Pennsylvania. They are winners of the Arthur Godfrey Talent Scout Program.

It gives me great pleasure to present "The Chordsmen."

A number of selections were rendered by the Chordsmen.

The CHAIRMAN. On behalf of the Committee, I wish to thank all who have taken part in this musical portion of the program and to compliment them.

CONGRATULATING THE SPEAKER

Mr. READINGER offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows

In the House of Representatives, March 20, 1956.

The Honorable Hiram G. Andrews has long merited the profound respect and high regard of his colleagues. Prior to this session, he had served long and notably as Minority Leader of this House of Representatives, and during the present session, his admirable handling of the problems confronting him as Speaker of this House has further enhanced his brilliant reputation as an outstanding member of the General Assembly.

Mr. Andrews has shown eminent fairness in every ruling made from the chair and an honest desire to let every person be heard. He has constantly been a source of strength and stability to his colleagues during this long and frequently trying session. His thorough knowledge of parliamentary procedures gleaned from his long membership in this body has been of great value of this House of Representatives during Mr. Andrews' tenure as Speaker.

Mr. Andrews has done much to aid in the successful fulfillment of the aims of this Legislature, and his fair and well considered treatment of all problems confronting him as Speaker is an example of why the membership of this House of Representativs takes pride in him and his accomplishments therefore, be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby congratulates the Honorable Hiram G. Andrews for the success with which he has accomplished his duties as Speaker of the House of Representatives; and, be it further

Resolved, That we, as individual members of this House of Representatives, thank him for his courteous treatment of all questions which have been raised, and for his proficiency in handling the affairs of this legislative body; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk to the Honorable Hiram G. Andrews.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Chairman, Members of the House and guests, there are times when it is very easy to say a lot of nice things about somebody and at the same time it is rather difficult because there are so many nice things we would like to say about the party involved. That is my position tonight.

Hi came here some twenty years ago as a renegade, a rebel and a party all his own. It took us twentytwo years to drive him into line and make a good party man of him. It has been a tough job, but I think we have succeeded.

Tonight we pay honor to a man who, in my opinion, has been one of our great Speakers, and we have had many of them in the past. When it was my privilege in the beginning of the session to nominate Mr. Andrews for Speaker and to say a few words about him, I think I said at that time he was going to be one of our great Speakers. I believe you will agree with me tonight that he has been and always will be.

It is not only a privilege to speak about a man of this kind, but it is a distinct pleasure too, because Hi has not only been a fair Speaker, sometimes not too courteous to us, but after all you have to put up with some defects. He has been fair, he has been honest, he has been very able and above all, he has been fair to every one of us.

Somebody spoke to me just recently about installing an electric roll call system in this House. I said, "As long as Hi is Speaker we are never going to need one, because we are going to get nothing but honest roll calls."

As a Floor Leader sometimes I am not very keen about that, but at least it is the way a Speaker should be, it is the way the Speakers have been in the past, and I am sure it is the way the Speakers will be in the future.

One thing I can say about Mr. Andrews that perhaps we could not say about other Speakers in the past, and that is he has always fought diligently to put this House on the plane where it belongs in the dignity of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. He has not only fought for better pensions for us, better salaries at times, but he understands, I think, even better than most of us the stature of a state Legislator, especially a Member of the House. He has never forgotten it and he has kept it right on the top of his agenda. I think as Members we should be grateful to him for that, among the many other things he has done.

I say, we salute Mr. Pennsylvania Legislature!

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Chairman, it gives me great pleasure to say something nice about Hi Andrews. He has been a good friend of long standing. While we have had a lengthy session, and it has been a most tiring one, I honestly can state, and I know—having been a Speaker at one time—that Hi has presided very ably.

I can say with sincerity, that he has all the qualifications that are needed in a Speaker. He has that sterling character which always has the rights of the minority firmly in mind. He has patience, tolerance, and all of us know the good humor that every once in a while came from the rostrum.

I might say, as the Majority Leader mentioned, that at times, his patience got a bit thin and showed, but after all, having served fifteen months, everyone is human and may err a little bit.

I, too, believe that Hi will go down as one of the great Speakers of Pennsylvania.

Hi Andrews has one particularly outstanding characteristic for which this House should be most grateful. We may have had great Speakers in the past, but I truly feel that we have never had a Speaker who has fought as long and courageous a battle to preserve and defend the rights and traditions of this house. For that reason alone I look upon Hi as the greatest Speaker we have ever had.

Mr. Speaker, I want you to know that it was a privilege to work with you when we were in the majority; it has been a pleasure to work with you when we were in the minority, and I know it will be a privilege and pleasure for some of the Members to work with you next year, when, I hope you are again in the minority.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, the cochairman of the Committee on Final Adjournment Ceremonies.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Chairman, I would like to direct the few remarks I have to make to the Speaker of the House.

Mr. Speaker, I consider it an honor and certainly a privilege to be chosen for the presentation of our gift to you.

There is not a man on either side of this House who has not learned and profited by your occupancy of the Speaker's chair.

Your problems were many and difficult and were you not so young and full of faith, your answer could have been, "Let nature take its course." But for you that was not the answer. Your answer seemed to be, "However we do it, we must do it well." You endeavored at every turn to inculcate the challenge that we as Legislators must impress in proper season our worthwhile personalities on the public life, on the communities that we serve, to gain a higher esteem by the public and a serene pride in our heritage and our work.

You, Mr. Speaker, have worn your pride in your high legislative office as a knight wears his shield, and in so doing you have shown us that character is a victory and not a gift. We hold that you are a citizen of high resolve and vision, and we as your colleagues do respect your integrity and inspiring leadership. You have immortalized the words of the great Roman Senator Cato, who said, "Speak the truth freely, though the truth be hard."

It is not our intent, Mr. Speaker, to dictate your leisure time nor how you should spend it, but we do hope your leisure in future years will be made much more enjoyable by the gift we have to offer you tonight.

Mr. Chairman, I would ask that the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, the Speaker of this House, present himself in the well of the House.

Mr. Speaker, on behalf of your colleagues, the Members of this House, I present to you our gift to you, a color TV set.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Chairman, every day I have a higher regard for this House. I have come to love it, particularly because of the enemies it has made. After all this old House is strong and sturdy; this old House is sometimes wordy, but this old House has times of sanity and braves the blasts of editorial inanity.

This, Mr. Chairman, is the day of complete absolution. For the moment the past sins of leadership are forgiven. If we place our halos somewhat atilt upon our heads it is because we are not accustomed to them and well know that come tomorrow we will just be another member of the brigade composed of those who are criticised.

Whatever their individual standing may be, Members of this House are from my viewpoint a much maligned group. We are not popular in a certain portion of Pennsylvania's press. Personally I have found a perfect defense against criticism, a perfect defense; I simply outlive the critics.

Now I had planned a few remarks concerning the gentleman of the press which I will discard—remarks concerning the categories into which our critics fall. I will only say just now there are such people as editorial writers, with whom a little knowledge is a dangerous thing and they should drink deep or shun the Hyperin spring. The rule is if you see an editorial writer, clip him on the nose. He may not learn to love you, but he will pay attention when you are around.

Now I do not wish to be misunderstood and I beg pardon for being serious at this time, but there are some things I want to take this opportunity to say to this House and to our visitors. In the past we have been guilty of many legislative sins, sins of omission and sins of commission. I say to you frankly, I say to the Press and I say to the people of our Commonwealth that the shadow cast by our legislative pasts by what we have failed to do would be the occasion for dismay and despair if its gloom were not illumined by the light of the opportunities for service which the days to come present. We can well afford to let the dead past bury the past. There comes a tomorrow and there is so much, so much, to be done.

We have not even begun to create a really equalized tax base. We in some respects seem blithely unconscious of the problems that are ahead. At times, it has seemed to me, we have been like children casting pebbles into the financial sea, unconcerned about the future financial problems that the coming years will bring. The problems which will face us come 1957 will exceed in magnitude the problems we have faced in 1956. We must determine whether we will face those problems in an off-the-cuff fashion or whether we will begin deliberately to prepare for a partial solution of them.

I envision the time—it may not come this year, it may not even come next year—when the Members of this House will in effect comprise a portion of the Joint State Government Commission, a time when the major committees of this House, as soon as we adjourn will begin to prepare for the next session with technical advice from the staff of the Joint State Government Commission, augmented by additions to that staff.

Public education presents a vast array of unsolved problems. We have yet to create in Pennsylvania an integrated public education system.

We have just begun to realize that even the legislation we have passed at this session will present increased tax burdens, which must be financed.

Are we going to rush into the next Session without being clothed with the mantle of preparation? If we do that we will proceed in spasmodic fashion, operating as we have in the past, creating new liabilities without even faintly realizing their extent.

I would, I repeat, have the committees of this House constituted permanent committees, which, as soon as one Session adjourned, would begin studying the problems of the next Session. Only by doing that can we provide continuity in thinking, continuity in planning, and continuity in action.

Mr. Chairman, if we are to extend the range of our activities, the Members of this House should be adequately compensated. The times call for a fulltime salary, for a fulltime service, and in addition a reasonable, fair pension system.

I hope that within my day I can see these objectives realized. I am confident at least one of those objectives will be realized at this session and we will have made a start on the others.

Now Mr. Chairman, the Minority Leader envisions himself in another office with his party in control. The worst possible luck I could wish him would be to be in the majority with a lead of two votes.

One of the reasons why I love this House is because I have served here quite a number of years and during all of that time never once has any Member of this body broken an agreement or a bargain. I say where there is such a continuing core of integrity there is the potential power for increased service.

It was a rare experience to hear the Majority Leader say what he did. I would like to believe it was all true; it was a rare experience to hear the Minority Leader say what he did. Of course, it is possible his statement was properly due because there was an occasion where I said nice things about him.

Now, Mr. Chairman, Governors come and Governors go, but this House endures. We are the custodians of the financial future of our Commonwealth. It is time we began facing the future with an ever increasing store of knowledge.

If I have been reasonably successful as Speaker, it has been due in part, in large part, to the Majority Leader and the Minority Leader, to the Chairmen of Committees and to the membership of this House. Incidentally, I do not think the Members of this House realize the work, the long hours that your Floor Leaders put in.

I have deliberately not endeavored during my tenure as Speaker to increase the power of that office. I have delegated many of the functions commonly assumed by the Speaker to the Majority Floor Leader and I believe that is where those functions of leadership should lie. The perfect Speaker would not be in any sense a party man, following the fashion of the British House of Commons.

I have tried, and it has been pretty hard sometimes, but I have tried not to be a party man when I was on the rostrum. But if we have succeeded in any measure it has been due to the efforts of the Majority Leader, the Minority Leader, his assistants, and the one indispensable most valuable man in all our operations, the Parliamentarian. We would be lost in a sea of routine if it were not for him.

Then I have had a staff. I think it is the ablest staff on the Hill, I really do, and it is good to look at. All Members of the House are always welcome in the Speaker's Office, but we do ask our masculine visitors not to come around just for the sake of the scenery. I would ask Deedee, and Estelle, and Mildred and Roy to stand up. It is this group that has been the sustaining force that has enabled me to weather this historic session. They have covered my deficiencies from the public gaze and at times have actually made me look good even when I didn't feel that way.

If I had been left alone perhaps I would not have functioned with even moderate zest, but I have had a particular spur, a kindly spur, to goad me on, to assist and keep going, Mrs. Andrews.

I ask Mrs. Andrews to stand. What Mrs. Andrews does not tell me to do, her sister does.

I would ask Mrs. Dowling to stand.

I cannot at this time say what I would like to say. We have had our disagreements here in this House and I fancy there are some members of this House who, while they may be mellow tonight, will not think so much of me tomorrow. Some twenty years ago I made up my mind that over the years, insofar as it was humanly possible, I would work to place this House on an equality with the other branches of our government and to so establish it that a few willful men legislating in another place would find it desirable to treat Members of this body as equals.

I may not pass this way again, but when I leave I want to see this House respected and not reviled; I want to see the Members of this House adequately paid, and so I say to you, take your courage in your hands and do whatever is necessary to give this House its proper statute, to give it the implements with which it can achieve and work, and do this not for yourselves, not for me, but for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania because that kind of a House will save the people of this Commonwealth many a tax dollar.

When I appeared upon the Harrisburg scene a budget of $175 million was a terrific budget and the Appropriations Committee within a month could visit every State institution in the Commonwealth. We are now the custodians of a budget of a $1,800 million, and it is bound to grow. So to you younger Members I say there is a broad field for achievement.

Let me close by saying I owe a great debt to the Majority Leader, I owe a great debt to the Minority Leader and I have learned to admire the Members of this House, who, while they may differ in their opinions, adhere to the same standard of personal integrity.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING THE MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. LOVETT offered a resolution which was read considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March, 1956.

The Honorable Albert S. Readinger has served tirelessly, faithfully, and with outstanding ability and forthrightness as the Majority Leader of the House of Representatives during the present session of the General Assembly.

His personal integrity and sincere approach to the diverse problems which have faced this body have stamped him as a true leader who has done much towards solving the fiscal and other questions which have faced and frequently perplexed the membership of this body.

Mr. Readinger's willingness to discuss matters of import with persons of diverse opinions and to lend every effort towards reaching honest and mutually satisfactory solutions has stamped him as a person of keen perception and depth of understanding. These qualities have earned him the well merited admiration, friendship and appreciation of the entire membership of this House of Representatives.

The fine example of selfless devotion to his duties which the Honorable Albert S. Readinger has set as Majority Leader will long be remembered and cherished by his colleagues; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives congratulates the Majority Leader for what he has been and what he has accomplished in the face of great odds, and that as this session of the General Assembly terminates and he returns to his private endeavors, we wish him continued success, happiness, prosperity and the attainment of the high rewards which he so richly deserves; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk to the Honorable Albert S. Readinger as a token of the friendly esteem in which he is held by the membership of this House of Representatives.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Charles C. Smith.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Chairman, again I speak from experience, I have also served as Majority Leader. As the Speaker just said, the Majority Leader is the workhorse of the session. Certainly Al Readinger has lived up to those terms during this session. I might say he has not always worked under the most ideal conditions, through no fault of his own.

I have had the pleasure of working very closely with him every day for probably fifteen months. Everyone in this House knows the cooperation he has given the minority.

I do not believe the session would have run along for fifteen months as easily as it did if it had not been for his sincere honesty and his good nature. As we say, some of us go down in history. I think Al Readinger's biggest assets, if someone is going to record them for posterity, is the fact that he has been honest, he has been sincere, he has been willing and he has had the ability.

He has tried to solve all of the problems of this House and he has tried to solve them in a bipartisan manner. He has been fair.

While he and I have had debates, and sometimes they probably have been bitter, I can say and I know this, never has there ever been any real personal bitterness between the Majority Leader and myself.

I think the highest tribute I can pay him is to say that he has been a good friend, he has been a good fellow and I consider him one of my greatest personal friends.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

Mr. HELM. Certainly many, many nice things could be said about Al Readinger in presenting him a gift, but I think the greatest tribute that has ever been given to a Member of this House was paid to Al Readinger just a few short weeks ago.

So, Al, I am not even going to attempt to tell you how the fellows feel about you. We did learn that you were doing some remodeling work in your home back in Berks County. If you will present yourself in the well of the House, we will unveil the gift.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Chairman and friends, I am overwhelmed because I am such a good cook. On behalf of Mrs. Readinger and myself, we not only want to thank you for these wonderful gifts, but we would like to invite all of you to our home for dinner anytime you would like to come.

In case you cannot see the one, it is a dishwasher. We will not even make you wash the dises.

Mr. Chairman, it is a grand experience to be here tonight and hear these nice things which are said about the so-called leaders. I have been very happy at times in this session, and I have been very unhappy at times.

It is hard to tell you how I feel about the session, but it is certainly not had to tell the Members how I feel about them, because without their help on both sides, minority and majority, this session would have been many many times more difficult for the Floor Leaders.

I know you probably have been exasperated with me at times, as you probably have been with the Minority Leader, because we send you memos asking you to come see us about something and then we were so busy you could not find us. I do not blame you for getting cross at times. You have made our work a great deal easier by your cooperation, by your willingness to be patient and to see us when we could see you to discuss the problems we have had.

I think tonight you have witnessed the difference between a Speaker and a Floor Leader. The Speaker, as he should, prepares his remarks for an occasion like this and he knows what he is talking about. The Floor Leader as usual does not have time to prepare notes, so he just gets up and does not know what he is talking about. I know after fifteen months you are used to that and you are not going to complain after this session is over tonight

It has been a grand experience. I have enjoyed every minute of it in the sense that you enjoy doing something you know you should be doing and are trying to do.

I wish all of you happiness and prosperity in the future. Thank you.

Mr. Chairman, may I just take one more moment to introduce my very lovely spouse, who is as helpful to me as Mrs. Andrews is to the Speaker. When I go home over the weekend she treats me like a guest and cannot wait until I get home and get back to normal again.

May I take just one more moment, Mr. Chairman, to introduce to the people here tonight my very excellent and lovely secretary and my administrative assistant, if he is here, Miss Louise Klink and Mr. Murphy. Without their help I would have been sunk a long time ago.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Chairman, as you can see from the gifts we presented to the Majority Leader, they are things to be used around the home. There probably is not too much personal interest in those gifts because Al's wife will be the one who will use them, I am sure. So to make up for that lack, I am going to present a little personal gift to the Majority Leader at this time.

I will ask the page boy to take the package to the Majority Leader.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the Majority Leader.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Chairman, I am more than overwhelmed now, I, of course, deeply appreciate the two presents I received a moment ago, and now this lovely bag.

But, Mr. Chairman, I am afraid a mistake might have been made here, because I notice that the initials on the bag are J.F.S. I cannot imagine that this was purchased for me because my initials are A.S.R.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Chairman I certainly want to offer my apologies to the Majority Leader. I cannot understand how the error was made, except that one time during the operation of this Committee I was told we were going to give luggage to the Majority Leader with the initials J.F.S. Is there any Member of this House who has those initials?

I will ask the Secretary of this House if he knows of any Member in this House who has the initials "J.F.S.?"

The SECRETARY. I would inform the gentleman that that does not appear on this list.

Mr. HELM. For the information of the Secretary, I can tell him that the presiding officer of the evening's festivities, his name is John F. Stank. Perhaps that was the reason he suggested to the Committees to present luggage for Mr. Readinger with those initials.

However, I might tell you there is possibly another reason. On March 20, 1903, Johnnie Stank was born. So today is his birthday.

With the approval of the membership of this House, going into the Committee of the Whole, we will present this gift to the presiding officer tonight. Do I have your approval?

Let us all stand up and sing "Happy Birthday" to John.

Will the page boy please take the gift to the rostrum?

The CHAIRMAN. This seems to have been a nice mistake. I did not think you would take my suggestion seriously, that was all. So since you cannot return it after buying it with those initials, I will accept it with sincere thanks.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING THE MINORITY LEADER

Mr. JOHNSON offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 20, 1956.

Throughout the present session of the General Assembly, the important assignment of presenting the minority point of view in the House of Representatives has fallen to the capable hands of the Honorable Charles C. Smith.

As Minority Leader, Mr. Smith has for more than a year faced the task of maintaining a clear view of facts, the attitudes of the various groups within his party and possible effects of controversial legislation. This he has done in an admirable manner, and in doing so has won the respect and admiration of his colleagues.

Throughout this long session he has demonstrated a tolerant attitude towards his fellows, a congenial spirit which has made it possible to disagree on issues while maintaining strong personal ties of friendship and respect for differences of opinion and has shown a high quality of leadership which has done much towards bringing to a successful termination this long and arduous session of the General Assembly; therefore be it

Resolved, That the congratulations of the House of Representatives be tendered to the Honorable Charles C. Smith for the success with which he has accomplished the difficult tasks of Minority Leader in the House of Representatives and for the position of leadership and high esteem which he has attained; and be it further

Resolved, That as a symbol of the respect and friendship of the membership of this House of Representatives the chief clerk is hereby directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to the Honorable Charles C. Smith.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair again recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Chairman, in making this speech I would like to consume one hour. I will not, but I would like to do so.

To deal with a man of Charlie Smith's caliber, ever though he is a so-called adversary, is a pleasure and it has been for the entire time I have known him.

I think one of the marks of a great man is one who can step down a notch in position and still be as great a fellow as he was before. Charlie, as all of us know, has been Majority Floor Leader, he has been Speaker, and finally he wound up as Minority Floor Leader. He probably will wind up as Auditor General one of these days.

At any rate, he has been sort of demoted by the fact that the Democrats won the last election. But did that make any difference to Charlie? It only made him work harder. I think he has been a great leader on his own side and in his own right.

I remember speaking on the floor of this House for a solid hour one day trying to wheedle just a few measly votes for a tax bill, and I think I wound up getting about ten. I felt at the time I was just wasting my words, because when Charlie gets his boys lined up he has them so well persuaded that no one can change their minds.

It has been a pleasure to work with Mr. Smith, the Minority Floor Leader, because he is so honest, so decent and so intelligent. I do not say that facetiously at all, because I mean every word of it.

He is a man with whom you can work easily and with conviction, because when he says he will do something, or he will try to do it and you know it is the truth. There is no fancy cutting of any corners with him. He tells you what he thinks. He tells you how many votes he thinks he can deliver, or not deliver, and you can bank on it.

I say it has been a distinct pleasure for me as Majority Leader to work with Charlie Smith during this session. I wish him well in all his future endeavors.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Chairman, some of my assistants are having a little difficulty in the wing.

Charlie is going to be pretty busy this summer. He is going to be out campaigning all summer long. Charlie has an eight acre lawn down in Schwenksville, Pennsylvania, they call it Fieldcrest. It is quite a job to keep the grass mowed on that lawn, so we are going to try to make it just as easy as we possibly can for Mary to mow the lawn this summer.

If my assistants get the thing started, we will bring it it. I can assure you they are trying. I know the sounds to expect, you do not. Somebody is trying to tell me they put the wrong kind of gasoline in it. You know I work for Sun, it always starts.

So Charlie, on behalf of the Members of this House, here is your gift. We also have an instructor go along with it to teach you how to run it.

He got the thing started and he cannot get it stopped. Charlie here you are.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Charles C. Smith.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Chairman, I do have quite a large lawn. I have said every man should have a large lawn and a mower he can sit on and ride. I honestly do my best thinking there and make my best speeches. If I could convert those speeches and take them around the state of Pennsylvania, I could be elected to anything, believe me.

I suppose, Mr. Chairman, I should introduce at this time the assistant lawn mower for the summer. This is my wife, Mr. Chairman.

Seriously this is my "swan song" in the House. Believe me, it is not easy to say.

I do not care what office any man goes to from this House, if it were the chair of the Governor, it will never be the House. I do not know what it is, but there are things such as comradeship, friendship and loyalty that you will never find when you leave here

Whatever work and effort I have ever put into this House, believe me, I have taken out a thousand-fold in friendships and associations.

I do not believe it is restricted to one side of the aisle. I know on the other side of the aisle I have wonderful and sincere friends. I know on this side of the aisle I have loyal friends and true friends who have had faith. You do not know what it means sometimes to have held certain positions.

I have had the privilege of holding and to lose a bill, a bill that you worked for, and to have one of your Members come up and just pat you on the back. You do not know what it means when you win, after you have worked hard, to have the Members come in and congratulate you. It is something in government that no one will ever have if they have not served in the House of Representatives.

I can say if we have been successful in our small way in any degree, first of all, it has been because of the courtesy, the kindness, the Members on the other side of the aisle have shown me in the past and present. I also say, on this side of the aisle the loyalty and faith is something that I will never forget.

I cannot even forget to say that we had a Rules Committee in the past which served ex officio during this session. And again, if any success comes to any of us, at least to me, I can only say that those men on the Rules Committee deserve it more than I do.

I have had a faithful staff, too, with Miss Allen and Miss Simons. They have worked hard. Sometimes they did not always speak to me, but nevertheless we always got together around payday, I am sure. They are up in the balcony now and I would like them to stand, with Mr. Costa, Mr. Eisenhower, if he is here, and Marty Brackbill. They have worked so hard for us this session.

Again, Mr. Chairman, I want to say "thank you" to you and to the Members for the greatest privilege, the greatest tribute, for giving me the positions you have and mainly for giving me the friendship you have. No matter what I do I will never forget, and I hope if we are successful in our next campaign that I may at least come back sometime and have the privilege of being a Member ex officio of the House. Thank you.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Chairman, if the Chair does not object, I would like to carry on the rest of the presentations from the microphone in the well of the House.

The CHAIRMAN. The gentleman has the Chair's permission.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Chairman, I will proceed without any fanfare and without making any brilliant speeches about these other men.

You all know them, you all know the type of work they have been doing, you all know how worthy they are to hold the positions they have held. I am going to call them up here and present them with their gifts and do it just as quickly as I can. I want to assure you whatever the length of time might be will be because of their acceptance speeches, not because of my presentation speeches.

I would like to call the Majority Whip, Mr. Lovett, up at this time.

Jim, on behalf of your friends in the House and around the Capitol, I present to you your gift.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett, the Majority Whip.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Chairman, first of all, I want to say to the membership of this House and to the visitors and our guests here tonight I thank you, thank you, thank you, for this gift.

I will possibly spend many happy hours with my pipe and slippers, because as we go on we get older and older. I am sure at my age I am going to enjoy this gift you presented to me tonight.

This has been a long, tiresome session. I want to say to the membership of this House on both sides, "You have been fair." If there is one thing that I have fought for since I have been a Member of the House it is that we be fair with one another.

My friends, I want to say again, thank you from the bottom of my heart for this wonderful gift.

Mr. HELM. Will Al Johnson, the Minority Whip, present himself in the well of the House?

Al, on behalf of your colleagues, I present your gift and I assure you it has the right initials on it.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, the Minority Whip.

Mr. JOHNSON. Yes, ladies and gentlemen, my initials are on this lovely luggage.

I think, ladies and gentlemen, we have not properly congratulated the Committee tonight. I do not believe I have ever seen the House look any more beautiful than it does. I think the palms and the decorations on the rostrum are certainly something to behold. The decorations down here in front are something we have never seen before in the House. I think we all should congratulate the Committee for their fine work. Let's give them a hand.

In my brief remarks I just want to say I have had the pleasure of having been the Majority Whip of this House. I have had the pleasure of being the Majority Leader. Now by a slight shift in power I am the Minority Whip.

I will say this, I have known as Majority Whip having had ninety Members in their seats when we needed 105. I know Al Readinger and Jim Lovett have experienced that this session. As the Majority Leader of this House, I, of course, saw many dark days when we had a problem to solve, and it was solved by courage, confidence and loyalty among the Members, particularly on my side, that in 1953 we were able to solve the problem.

I thought as Minority Whip in this session, being in the minority, "Minority thy name is irresponsibility." We soon found out that was not true. With being in the minority goes, as they say in England, "being a part of his Majesty's Loyal Opposition." Being in the opposition carries with it a responsibility. It means we must carry on the debate, it means clash, it means differences, it means opposition, it means fighting for this and that, but out of it all comes compromise for the good of the people of Pennsylvania.

I join with the Speaker when I read in the papers that they speak of this dilatory session, this laggard session, this do-nothing session. I wonder if the people of Pennsylvania realize the job we have done this session on both sides. Had the people and our guests present today come here and seen the pile of bills which were on our desks and seen the job we have done for the people, for the good of this Commonwealth, I am sure they would not decry the fact that this has been a long session. We have had a sincere clash here, but, as I say, it has been for the good of the people.

Now as we close this illustrious session, shall I call it, as we leave these hallowed halls, I personally will carry with me the friendship of all of you and the memory of the good times we have had. I want to assure you I have appreciated the kindness not only of the Members on the minority side in making my job easier, but the confidence I have enjoyed from the Members on the majority side as well. I thank you.

Mr. HELM. Now you know why we call him "Fearless Johnson."

Will Ben Long, the Chief Clerk of the House, present himself in the well of the House?

Ben, on behalf of your friends in the Legislature, I present to you your gift.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the Chief Clerk of the House, Mr. Benjamin L. Long.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Chairman and Members of the House, there has been no burden of office connected with the Chief Clerk's operations. It has been a pleasure and a privilege to serve the elected Members of this House and the people whom they represent.

The pleasure has ben enhanced by the cooperation of the membership on both sides of this House with the Chief Clerk and his staff. Whatever service we have been able to render the membership of the House has been made possible by an excellent staff which has served you and the office of the Chief Clerk

Due to the diversified operations of the office I could not possibly give recognition here to all those who have been essential to this operation.

However, I can not let the moment pass without calling upon and asking to rise my very able assistant, the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Casper Burns, the Assistant Chief Clerk of this House.

Of course, as you know, it would be impossible for a Chief Clerk to operate without a secretary such as Mrs. Dorothy Ionni.

Ladies and gentlemen, part of the duties of the Chief Clerk is to iron out those little wrinkles which arise in the operation of the Legislature. So I suppose it is most appropriate for me now to identify the gift which has been given to me by the membership of this House. It is an ironer. Also, since I have the ironer here, I would just like to introduce the prospective operator, Mrs. Long.

Just another word. As an old Member of this House who was elected some twenty years ago, to me this is a matter of Harrisburg revisited. I did not know the visit was going to last so long. However, it has been as pleasureable as it has been long.

I want to thank the membership of this House and the officers of this House for the privilege of having a chance to serve this illustrious body. Thank you very much.

Mr. HELM. Will the Secretary of the House, Paul Moomaw, present himself in the well of the House?

Paul, on this pedestal directly behind me is your gift from the Members of the House.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Paul C. Moomaw, Secretary of the House of Representatives.

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Chairman, Members of the House and guests, it certainly is a beautiful gift and I thank you from the bottom of my heart. I know I will enjoy it and likewise my good wife, who is present here, will enjoy it. I would like to have her rise.

I have enjoyed every moment of this long session. My office as Secretary of the House has been an office in which we have tried to serve you to the best of our ability. If we have failed in any way, I am sure it has been a mistake of the head and not of the heart.

I have my very able staff, my secretary, Miss Ryan, the assistant, Mrs. Fox, and Mr. Mace. If they are present in the House, I would like to have them rise.

In seeing and enjoying these ceremonies, my memory goes back to 1935 when I was first a Member of this House and like my good friend, Ben Long, it has been a long time ago.

I had a distinct privilege at that time, which I have always kept sacred to my heart, in the years I have had the privilege of visiting the Legislature since I was a Member, and that was that as a freshman Member I had the privilege of being seated next to the only Independent Member of the House, our present Speaker, Mr. Andrews. It was through his experience that I believe I was guided down the right aisle at different times, when probably otherwise I would have erred and gone astray.

I want to express my thanks to Mr. Andrews as well as all the Members of the House for the opportunity of serving you here as Secretary. I want you to know the office will be open during the session and after the session for any service you may desire.

Thank you very much.

Mr. HELM. I have just been informed that one of the former speakers, a recipient of one of the gifts, failed to introduce his wife. So I am going to take the opportunity to present Mrs. Johnson.

Will the Parliamentarian of the House present himself in the well of the House? You know, this fellow coming down here one time told us he did his best work in the bedroom, so we presented him with an easy chair. Now he tells me he has a den all fixed up, so our gift to him is something to keep that den just as comfortable for him as we can possibly keep it.

Eddie, in behalf of the Members of the House, I present your gift.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the Parliamentarian, Mr. S. Edward Moore.

Mr. MOORE. Mr. Chairman and Mr. cochairman, at a time like this there are no words adequate to express one's feelings. Although I deeply appreciate this splendid gift, I value so very much more the friendships which it represents.

May I now present to your House, the speaker at our house, my dear wife. She too will receive enjoyment from this lovely gift.

We both thank you sincerely and from the bottom of our hearts. Thank you.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Ewing.

Mr. EWING. Mr. Chairman, guests, ladies and gentlemen of the House, it gives me great pleasure to present the flag of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the House of Representatives on behalf of my colleague, John R. Haudenshield, of Allegheny County.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the Speaker of the House.

The SPEAKER. On behalf of this Hous and its Members, we are glad to accept the gift of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Haudenshield.

We all know that over the years he has been one of those who have kept constantly before this House its historical sites, its historical possessions, and it is with great pleasure that I recognize his continuing interest. On behalf of the Members of the House, we accept this splendid flag.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair again recognizes the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Chairman, we have one more gift to present, one that I think, because of recent experience is very, very badly needed. At this time I would like to make this little personal presentation to the Speaker of the House.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the Speaker of the House.

The SPEAKER. Mr. Chairman, it is characteristic of the leadership of the opposition party that it should function on a basis of "too little and too late."

The CHAIRMAN. As Chairman of the Committee on Final Adjournment Ceremonies, my sincere thanks to my coChairman, the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, who deserves so much credit for the success of our party this evening.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent

Mr. KENT. Mr. Chairman, I have sat here and enjoyed a great deal, as I am sure everyone has, the party we are having tonight. I certainly have enjoyed the remarks of the leaders who have led us through these many and arduous months of legislating.

I suppose in the past several months we have broken precedent; tonight I am sure we have also broken precedent. I am glad we have, Mr. Chairman. It seems to me at least one Member of the Arrangements Committee has not been recognized here tonight and received a gift.

Mr. Chairman, I am not so naive that I can be fooled into believing that it just is coincidence that the initials J.F.S. happened to be on that traveling bag you have ensconced away up behind the rostrum there. I am convinced that it was intended, that it was planned. I do not begrudge at all, Mr. Chairman, your gift, and I want to join you in the remarks you just made in paying tribute to the Committee On Arrangements, which incidentally is a two-man Committee comprised of yourself along with one other Member of this House.

So that precedent has been set, and I might say in words which have resounded many, many times during this past session in the Hall of this Hause, especially from the place where I am standing, "who do you think you are kidding."

So, Mr. Chairman, by the same coincidence, I might say, I just happen to have here a gift which I would like to present on behalf of all of the Members of the House to the other co-Chairman, the other Member of the Arrangements Committee, for a job which has been very, very well done.

I know it was not easy to abstract that $10 from the membership of this House. They have done an admirable job in doing that, together with all the lavish and enjoyable preparations to which they went.

So, Stu, on behalf of the membership of this House, let me present to you this gift for your labors and a job well done.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Chairman, this certainly is a surprise. I might also say the same thing that has been said from this position in the House many times during this session, "What are you up to?"

I want to tell you that any part I have had to play in the ceremonies has been a lot of work, but it also has been a lot of pleasure.

We have had the cooperation not only of all the Members, but many, many people around the Halls of this House. I think at this time I should express my thanks and my sincere appreciation to the other Members on this Committee and tell you he did a terrific amount of work.

We also have to express our sincere thanks to the Chief Clerk and the Secretary of the House for being our hosts following this affair on the floor tonight.

I have to express my appreciation to Pomeroy's, for setting up such a very, very beautiful display on the floor of this House and being so cooperative in helping to display the gifts.

To every Member of this House, and to my wife, whom I have with me, for being so patient with me, particularly during the last couple weeks when I could not devote any time to her. I would like to present Mrs. Helm to you now.

To all of you I say, thank you from the bottom of my heart.

I have the scissors handy. You see, I have them because I am responsible for them. I have to return them after the meeting is over.

A three dimensional stereo camero. Thank you, gentlemen, very, very much.

Also, since I had to introduce the wife of another Member, I would like to introduce and present to the House the wife of the presiding officer and chairman of this affair tonight, Mrs. Stank.

Mr. Chairman, I have one other function to perform and then I am going to quit. Following the closing of this session tonight, we will have a reception in the well of the House for the officers and their wives. They are going to form a reception line immediately upon adjournment in the well of the House.

I would like all who care to greet them and shake hands with them to come down the aisle on the other side of the House and come through this way. That will give us two exits here on this side of the House and I think we can handle it much quicker that way. Then we will go directly to the cafeteria for the buffet supper which is ready for you there I am sure. I told them to have it ready by 9:15, so I am sure it will be well-cooked.

Thank you very much.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chairman invites the Speaker to return to the rostrum.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. SNIDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Wednesday, March 21, 1956 at 10:00 a.m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 10:16 p.m.) the House adjourned.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1956.

The Senate met at 11:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Honorable FRANK W. RUTH, a Member of the Senate from Berks County, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, to whom all hearts are open, all desires known and from whom no secrets are hid, when we say that, O Father, we pray that Thou wilt help us to understand that we cannot walk out on Thee, we cannot close the door on Thee. Even as the psalmist said, "If I ascend up into Heaven, Thou art there. If I make my bed in hell, Thou art there. If I take the wings of the morning and fly to the uttermost part of the sea, even there shall Thy hand lead me."

We pray for Thy wisdom and guidance in our work today that it may be done to Thy honor and glory. In Thy holy name we ask it, Amen.

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 973, as follows:

An Act to promote the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth by the reduction of unemployment in certain areas of the Commonwealth determined to be critical economic areas providing for the establishment of industrial development projects in such areas creating The Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority as a body corporate and politic with power to allocate funds for and make secured loans to industrial development agencies for the payment of a part of the cost of industrial development projects in critical economic areas authorizing the Authority to enter into agreements with the Government of the United States or any Federal agency or industrial development agency empowering the Authority to take title to sell convey and lease industrial development projects where necessary to protect loans made by the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority on industrial development projects providing that no debt of the Commonwealth its municipalities or powers granted by this act and providing for the examination political subdivisions shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the accounts and affairs of the Authority and making an appropriation

Section 1 Short Title This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority Act"

Section 2 Findings and Declaration of Policy It is hereby determined and declared as a matter of legislative finding

(a) That there currently exists in certain areas of the Commonwealth a critical condition of unemployment and that such condition may well exist from time to time in other areas of the Commonwealth

(b) That in some areas of the Commonwealth such conditions are chronic and of long standing and that without remedial measures they may become so in other areas of the Commonwealth

(c) That economic insecurity due to unemployment is a serious menace to the health safety morals and general welfare of not only the people of the affected areas but of the people of the entire Commonwealth

(d) That involuntary unemployment and its resulting burden of indigency falls with crushing force upon the unemployed worker and ultimately upon the Commonwealth in the form of public assistance and unemployment compensation

(e) That the absence of employment and business opportunities for the youth of such areas is a threat to the strength and permanence of their faith in our American political and economic institutions and the philosophy of freedom on which those institutions are based

(f) That unemployment and the absence of new economic opportunities in such areas has caused thousands of workers and their families to migrate elsewhere to find work and establish homes and that this exodus has tended to reduce the tax base of counties cities boroughs and other local governmental jurisdictions and impair their financial ability to support education and other local governmental services

(g) That security against unemployment and the resulting spread of indigency and economic stagnation in the areas affected can best be provided by the promotion attraction stimulation rehabilitation and revitalization of commerce industry and manufacturing in such areas

(h) That the present and prospective health safety morals right to gainful employment and general welfare of the people of the Commonwealth requires as a public purpose the promotion and development within areas of critical unemployment of new and expanded industrial and manufacturing enterprises

(i) That the device under which private community industrial development organizations in Pennsylvania acquire or build industrial buildings with funds raised through popular subscription mortgage borrowing or otherwise for lease and sale to expanding industries has proven effective in creating new employment and business opportunities locally is in accord with the American tradition of community initiative and enterprise and requires and deserves encouragement and support from the Commonwealth as a means toward alleviation of unemployment and chronic economic distress

(j) That community industrial development corporations in Pennsylvania have themselves invested substantial funds in successful industrial development projects and experience difficulty in undertaking additional such projects by reason of the partial inadequacy of their own funds or funds potentially available from local subscription sources and by reason of limitations of local financial institutions in providing additional and sufficiently sizeable first mortgage loans

(k) That there is a need to stimulate a larger flow of private investment funds from banks investment houses insurance companies and other financial institutions into such community industrial building programs in areas of chronic economic distress

(l) That by increasing the number of community industrial building projects presenting attractive opportunities for private investment in such area a larger portion of the private capital available in Pennsylvania for investment can be put to use in the general economic development of the Commonwealth

Therefore it is hereby declared to be the policy of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to promote the health safety morals right to gainful employment business opportunities and general welfare of the inhabitants thereof by the creation of a body corporate and politic to be known as "The Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority" which shall exist and operate for the public purpose of alleviating unemployment with its resulting spread of indigency and economic stagnation by the promotion and development of industrial and manufacturing enterprises in those areas of the Commonwealth in which conditions of critical unemployment currently or may from time to time exist Such purposes are hereby declared to be public purposes for which public money may be spent

Mr. SCHMIDT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I am not aware of what the contemplated schedule will be for next week. I have heard there will be a Session for part of the week. There are five Members of this Senate of the Jewish faith who will find it impossible to be present Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday of the coming week. I believe that the remaining Members of this Senate will be observing their Holy days the balance of the week and in respect to their religious beliefs, there will not be a Sesesion toward the end of next week.

Ordinarily, Mr. President, I feel that a Member of this Senate should not object to whatever appears on the Calendar in his absence. However, in my situation and those of my faith who will not be here because of their faith, there are several bills on the Calendar that I am personally interested in and would like to have an opportunity to be present when the vote is being taken. As you all know, I am interested in one bill in particular, and I would like to be present to see to it that the vote is that of only those present.

For that reason, I am asking the leaders of this Senate to do what I understand is going to be done in the House this coming week in deference to the Members of the Jewish faith of the House who will not be present. I understand that the Calendar of the House next week will be purely a consent Calendar, and that there will be no bills considered during the Session next week which are controversial.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would request the leaders on both sides of this Senate, in following the Calendar next week, to agree that any bill which is known to be controversial be passed over, so that those who are absent because of their religious beliefs will not be prevented from expressing themselves here on the floor.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, it is our intention to have the Democratic Leader and myself meet with the leadership of the House later this afternoon to see what we can work out in the way of plans for the coming week. If we cannot have a full scale Session here next week in which we can dispose of bills, it might be better not to have a Session. We certainly do not want to come down here just to run through bills which are of a noncontroversial type. If there is no work to be done, I hesitate to call on my colleagues who have to come from long distances to come down here next week just to pass bills which are not controversial.

Therefore, Mr. President, I think we should meet with the leadership of the House to find out what we should do next week in the way of business of this Session. If we intend to adjourn sine die here in a couple of weeks, I do not know how we are going to do it if we are going to knock off all of next week. That may change our plans relative to the sine die adjournment date.

Later today I think we will be in better shape to advise the Members of the Senate what we intend to do about next week's business.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, yesterday there was considerable debate as to what happened in the Finance Committee Meeting sometime in February with regard to the capital stock tax legislation. I believe the newspapers carried the story that Senator Barr and I both voted against releasing the bill from committee. That is absolutely correct, but I want to make the record clear that as far as I can remember, there was no discussion of the elective feature in this capital stock tax legislation in regard to Pennsylvania corporations electing to take advantage of the out-of-State corporation feature of exemptions.

Senator Barr and I voted against the release of the bills purely on the basis of the amount of revenue which was claimed would be derived from the passage of the same. It was not because we were aware of this amendment being in this bill. I do not recall this particular amendment even being discussed in committee because there were quite a number of bills before us. I beilieve Senator Silvert was there and took down on a pad the amount of revenue anticipated from each and every piece of tax legislation which was released from committee. I think Senator Silvert did not vote at all and Senator Barr and I voted "no," purely on the basis of the amount of revenue which was claimed would be derived from the passage of same.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I just heard Senator Mahany say that he is going to discuss with the leaders of the House the question of our legislative program for next week. I have no objection to it, but let us assume that they decide to act on controversial bills and the attendance just is not here. What are we going to do about it? It seems to me that in addition to talking to the leadership of the House, there ought to be a poll taken on both sides here to determine who is going to be here next week and who is not going to be here.

After all, next week is Holy Week and there are some Members here who feel they ought to be home with their families during that week. If the attendance is going to be slim, so that bills cannot be acted upon with at least a sizeable group here, then I think we ought to recess for the week. If we can have a good attendance, then I think we ought to go through with the Calendar on controversial bills and any other bills which might come before the Legislature.

Mr. President, I do not believe that the leadership of the House and Senate, without consulting the Membership, should determine the policy for next week and the type of bills we will act upon and the type of bills we will not act upon.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I want to say to Senator Yosko that if he wants to go along with us on this excursion over to the House to meet with the House Leaders, he is perfectly welcome and he is now invited. I do not know how I can possibly confer with each Member over here to find out what they want, and I do not see how the House Leadership can confer with all the Members of the House because I understand that many of them have now gone home.

After all, Mr. President, when you elect leaders, you have to at least be guided by their suggestions. I read here the other day a little treatise on the subject, "The boss must be boss." If you do not have somebody here who can represent the Members on each side as to the type of work we are going to consider and what will be on the agenda, you might as well give up. That is the only way in which we have any semblance of organization of any kind whatsoever. You certainly have to lodge a certain amount of authority with the leadership.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, there are exceptions to every rule. I will say that Holy Week is one of those exceptions.

From the sentiment which I can get around here from the Members, regardless of what the leadership decides, I just think we are not going to have a good attendance. I do not think it proper that we act on controversial bills unless we have a good attendance in this Senate. What the House does is their business. What the Senate does is the Senate's business, too. As far as I am concerned, I am talking merely for the Senate membership. I do not think it is too much of a job to take a poll in order to determine how many Members will be here next week. That can be done in the course of a few minutes, either in Caucus or otherwise.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, if the Senator will look around him, he will see that even though we are supposed to have a full scale Session today, there are very few of his colleagues who are here and he probably would have very little trouble in conducting a poll over there on that side of the aisle.

Mr. President, the reason, of course, that we have to work with the House is because if they are going to send bills over to use next week they are going to conduct a full scale Session, then there is no question but what we should be here with a full attendance in order to have committee meetings and decide which bills that the House sends over will be reported out. If the House is not going to send us any bills next week, then that will determine, perhaps, our decision on what we are going to do.

That was the reason I suggested we meet with the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, that remark by the Majority Leader inferring there are quite a number of vacant seats on the Democratic side is true, but a number of them are down at the Highways Meeting. I think if the Gentleman will look around on his side, he will find quite a few seats vacant over there, too.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is these objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BARR read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1055, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 7, 1901 (P. L. 491) entitled "An act authorizing municipalities to define and fix the terms for the use of public parks, or grounds of any kind, for railroad purposes," extending such authority.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SEYLER read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1056, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 905) entitled "The Vehicle Code," by providing for the right of appeal of a nonresident from a suspension of motor vehicle operating privilege within this Commonwealth.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

RECESS

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until 5:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, for the purpose of permitting the Members to attend the Public Hearing which is being held by the Committee on Highways.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

SENATE BILL No. 1037 CALLED UP

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, may we now revert to page 2 of today's Final Passage Calendar?

Mr. President, I call up Senate Bill No. 1037, Printer's No. 603, which went over in its order temporarily, and ask that it be acted upon.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1037, as follows:

An Act providing for the reassessment of properties for tax purposes where new improvements have been made and the addition thereof to existing tax duplicates of political subdivisions

Section 1 Reassessments and Additions and Revisions to Duplicates Whenever there is any construction of a building or buildings in any political subdivision during any year and such building as finally completed is not included in the tax duplicate of the political subdivision the authorities for assessment of properties for tax purposes shall upon the request of the taxing authority of the political subdivision direct the assessor in the district to inspect the property or properties and shall cause all taxable property in the political subdivision to which major improvements have been made during the year to be reassessed Notice of such reassessment shall be given within ten days to each taxing district having an interest therein and to the property owner The reassessment shall be subject to the right of appeal and adjustment within fifteen days after notice received in the manner provided by law for other appeals from assessments but without the necessity of filing an intention to appeal Such property shall then be added to the duplicate of each such taxing district and shall be taxable at the reassessed valuation for that proportionate part of the fiscal year of the taxing district remaining after the property was improved Any improvement made during the month shall be computed as having been made on the first of the month A certified copy of the additions or revisions to the duplicate shall be furnished by the taxing authorities to the tax collector for the taxing district and within ten days thereafter the tax collector shall notify the owner of the property of the taxes due the taxing district

Section 2 General Repeal All acts and parts of acts are repealed in so far as they are inconsistent herewith

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, all of us received a letter from the Speaker of the House, Hiram G. Andrews, which in his regular weekly letter. In it were some errors relative to his comparison of the 1953 so-called Fine Budget and the 1955 Governor Leader Budget. Mr. Andrews tried to show that Governor Fine's budget, as submitted at the beginning of the 1953 Session, was more than the budget submitted by Governor Leader at the opening of the 1955 Session. I called the error to the attention of Mr. Andrews, and he wrote me the following letter:

"My dear Senator:

"I want to thank you for calling my attention to the error in the budget figures carried in the open letter sent to Members of the General Assembly.

"While the error is explainable, it is nevertheless inexcusable.

"You would do me a favor if you announce to all and sundry that I am taking steps to correct the error, and again I thank you for calling my attention to it.

"Sincerely,

"H. G. ANDREWS."

Mr. President, due to the fact that Mr. Andrews has acknowledged the error, I am not going to go into any detail relative to his open letter. However, I do expect that next week he will verify these figures and will correct the error which he admits was contained in his letter.

I also want to answer Senator Yosko and any other Senators who brought up the question as to what we intend to do next week. Senator Barr and I went over to the House of Representatives after we recessed today and spoke with Mr. Readinger, the Majority Floor Leader; Mr. Smith, the Minority Floor Leader; and Mr. Andrews, the Speaker of the House. They stated that they intend to have a token Session next week, at which time they will try to clear the desk. They said they would nonconcur in the amendments made by the Senate to some bills, and that they would also put across the desk the bills in which we have made amendments and in which they are going to concur. They said, further, that they would take care of such routine business as that, and they would also appoint the necessary conference committees on certain bills.

Under the circumstances, Mr. President, I feel that it would not be useful for us to have a full-dress Session of the Senate next week. Therefore, I have suggested that we also have a token Session here, at which time we will only put across the desk the messages which come over from the House and do such routine business as is required.

Therefore, it will not be necessary for the gentlemen of the Jewish faith to be here at the beginning of next week and others, who have to travel great distances, need not be in attendance.

If there are any questions, I will be glad to answer any that any Senator may have relative to next week's schedule.

INTERROGATION

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, did I understand you to state that in the token Sessions, you are just going to put across the desk messages from the House, messages from the Governor and the appointment of conference committees? Are you not going to consider any Calendars?

Mr. MAHANY. If there are some noncontroversial bills on the Calendar that we can move up and act on, that can be done. However, from looking at the Calendar, it would not appear right now as though there would be very many of these. I think we are going to clean up the Calendar pretty well tomorrow, as far as noncontroversial bills are concerned. If there are any bills on the Calendar which you and the Republican leadership can agree to as being noncontroversial, we can decide to move those bills. There will not be any controversial bills acted upon next week.

Mr. LANE. I see; I wonder if that satisfies the Members of the Senate entirely. That has been the question in our Caucus, as to what bills will be moved up. Of course, on the Calendar, there are very few that are not controversial. It appears to be all right, however.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I was indeed gratified to hear the Majority Leader make a statement here whereby the Speaker of the House acknowledged that he was in error in part of a circular letter that he sent out.

Mr. President, I would like to say to the Membership that Speaker Andrews is a very able individual. He happens to be a big man, mentally. I know that he would acknowledge publicly if he were wrong and he has done so. It is gratifying for me to hear a Republican make that statement, but, in all my experience, Mr. President, I have not heard any Republican on the other side of this Senate ever admit that he was wrong.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I want to say to the Senator that I have heard a great many Republicans say they were wrong. Most of them have confessed guilt in voting for President Roosevelt years and years ago when he first ran for President.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, if any Republican ever admitted that he was wrong, he probably admitted it in Caucus. I never heard one admit it publicly.

INTERROGATION

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Mahany, the controversy a little while ago was whether or not we would consider both noncontroversial and controversial bills next week. I understand from you now that we will have a token Session, but we will not consider controversial bills. Is that correct?

Mr. MAHANY. That is correct.

Mr. YOSKO. Thank you very much.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

RECALLING SENATE BILL No. 865 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MAHANY, on behalf of Mr. BARR, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, March 21, 1956.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), that Senate Bill No. 865, Printer's No. 527, entitled "An act to amend the act approved the twenty-ninth day of July, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (P. Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for five minutes, for the purpose of holding a meeting of the Committee on Highways.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WADE, from the Committee on Highways, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1038, entitled:

An Act amending the act of September 3, 1955 (Act No. 18-A), entitled "An act providing for reconstruction and repair of roads, streets, highways and bridges damaged or destroyed by the hurricane flood or high water of August, 1955; . . .," extending the provisions of the act to political subdivisions for damages caused by later disasters, and making them eligible for moneys out of said appropriations.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of the bill just reported from committee for the first time at today's session.

Mr. HARNEY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1038, entitled:

An Act amending the act of September 3, 1955 (Act No. 18-A), entitled "An act providing for reconstruction and repair of roads, streets, highways and bridges damaged or destroyed by the hurricane flood or high water of August, 1955; . . .," extending the provisions of the act to political subdivisions for damages caused by later disasters, and making them eligible for moneys out of said appropriations.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Thursday, March 22, 1956, at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5:28 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Thursday, March 22, 1956, at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1956

The House met at 10:00 a. m.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, York, offered the following prayer:

We beseech Thee, Almighty God, mercifully to look upon Thy people, that by Thy great goodness they may be governed and preserved evermore, both in body and soul.

Grant us, O Lord, to pass this day in gladness and peace, without stumbling and without stain, that reaching the eventide victorious over all temptation through Thy ever present aid, we may praise Thee, the Eternal God, who dost govern all things and art blessed forevermore; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, March 20, 1956 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. READINGER and SMITH.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 164.

In the House of Representatives, March 20, 1956.

Whereas, bills have been introduced in the current and earlier sessions of the General Assembly for the purpose of authorizing and regulating the sale by mutual savings banks of life insurance in limited amounts without the employment of agents or solicitors and for the establishment and operation of life insurance departments by mutual savings banks and the information of a savings bank life insurance company; and

Whereas, it is represented that such savings bank life insurance would be advantageous to the people of this Commonwealth because of certain advantages, including lower cost, therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate Concurring) that the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to study and investigate the subject of savings bank life insurance and report to the next session of the General Assembly, its findings and recommendations, with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Section 5 Consolidated Reports The department shall not permit any corporation owning or controlling directly or indirectly any of the voting capital stock of another corporation or of other corporations subject to the provisions of this act to make a consolidated report showing the combined net income

Section 6 Extension of Time to File Reports The department may upon application made to it in such form as it shall prescribe on or prior to the last day for filing any annual report and upon proper cause shown grant to the corporation required to file such report an extension of not more than sixty (60) days within which such report may be filed and in case the Federal income tax authorities at any time grant a longer extension of time for filing such reports with the Federal Government the department may grant an additional extension of time for filing the annual report under this act of not more than thirty (30) days after the termination of the Federal extension but the amount of tax due shall in such cases nevertheless be subject to interest from the due dates and at the rates fixed by this act

Section 7 Changes Made by Federal Government (a) If the amount of the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commission of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States such corporation within thirty (30) days after the receipt of such final change or correction shall make a corrected report under oath or affirmation to the department showing such finally changed or corrected net income up which the tax is required to be paid to the United States In case a corporation fails to file a report of such correction which results in an increase in net income within the time prescribed there shall be added to the tax a penalty of five dollars ($5.00) for every day during which such corporation is in default but the department may abate any such penalty in whole or in part

(b) If as a result of such final change or correction there should be any change made in the amount of the net income of any corporation upon which tax is imposed by this act the department shall have the power and its duty shall be to resettle such taxes Whenever a resettlement shall have been made hereunder the department shall resettle the account according to law and shall credit or charge as the case may be the amount resulting from such resettlement upon the current accounts of the corporation with which it is made The resettlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General as in the case of original settlements and in case of the failure of the two departments to agree the resettlement shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue as in the case of original settlements

(c) Where a report of change correction or redetermination of Federal income or Federal tax has been filed after a petition for review or an appeal has been taken such report shall be deemed a part of the original annual report upon petitions of the taxpayer at any subsequent proceedings as though it had been filed with such original report and no separate petition for review or appeal from the resettlement resulting from such report of change correction or redetermination shall be necessary

Section 8 Settlement and Resettlement (a) All taxes due under this act shall be settled by the department and such settlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General and shall so far as possible be made so that notice thereof may reach the taxpayer before the end of the year after the tax report was required to be made where notice of the settlement has not reached or does not reach the taxpayer before the end of a year after the tax report was required to be made the settlement shall nevertheless be valid and binding upon the taxpayer

(b) Promptly after the date of any such settlement the department shall send by mail or otherwise a copy thereof to such corporation The tax imposed by this act shall be settled resettled and otherwise imposed and adjusted in the same manner within the same periods of time and right or resettlement review appeal and refund as provided by law in the case of capital stock and franchise taxes imposed upon corporations

(c) If within a period of two years after the date of any settlement the department is not satisfied with such settlement or if at any time the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States with the result that tax in addition to the amount paid is due under this act the department is hereby authorized and empowered to make a resettlement of the tax due by such corporation based upon the facts contained in the report or upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession

Whenever a resettlement shall have been made hereunder the department shall resettle the account according to law and shall credit or change as the case may be the amount resulting from such resettlement upon the current accounts of the corporation with which it is made

The resettlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General as in the case of original settlement and in case of the failure of the two departments to agree the resettlement shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue as in the case of original settlements

(d) If any corporation shall neglect or refuse to make any report and payment of tax required by this act the department shall estimate the tax due by such corporation and subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General settle the amount due by it for taxes penalties and interest thereon as prescribed herein from which settlement there shall be no right of review or appeal but the department with the approval of the Department of the Auditor General may require a report to be filed and thereupon make a settlement based upon such report and cancel the estimated settlement

Sction 9 Enforcement Rules and Regulations Inquisitorial Powers of the Department (a) The department is hereby charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act and is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe adopt promulgate and enforce rules and regulations not inconsistent with this act relating to any matter or thing pertaining to the administraion and enforcement of the provisions of this act and the collection of taxes penalties and interest imposed by this act The department is hereby required to have such rules and regulations promulgated and adopted printed and shall distribute the same to any person upon request

(b) The department or any agent authorized in writing by it is hereby authorized to examine the books papers and records and to investigate the character of the business of any corporation in order to verify the accuracy of any report made or if no report was made by such corporation to ascertain and settle the tax imposed by this act Every such corporation is hereby directed and required to give to the department or its duly authorized agent the means facilities and opportunity for such examinations and investigations as are hereby provided and authorized Any information gained by the department as a result of any returns investigations or verifications required to be made by this act shall be confidential except for official purposes and any person divulging such information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) or more than one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court

(c) Whenever any person acting for or on behalf of the department shall in good faith institute legal proceedings for any violations of the provisions of this act and for any reason shall fail to recover costs of record such costs shall be a charge upon the proper county as shall such costs in the event defendant is imprisoned for failure to pay fine or costs or both and shall be audited and paid as are costs of like character in said county

(d) The powers conferred by this act upon the department relating to the administration or enforcement of this act shall be in addition to but not exclusive of any other powers heretofore or hereafter conferred upon the department of law

Section 10 Retention of Records by Corporations Penalty Each corporation shall maintain and keep for a period of three (3) years after any report is filed under this act such record or records of its business within this Commonwealth for the period covered by such report and other pertinent papers as may be required by the department

Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court

Section 11 Penalties (a) Any person who shall wilfully make a false and fraudulent return of net income made taxable by this act shall be guilty of wilful and corrupt perjury and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to punishment as provided by law Such penalty shall be in addition to any other penalties imposed by this act

(b) Any person who wilfully fails neglects or refuses to make a report or to pay the tax as herein prescribed or who shall refuse to permit the department to examine the books papers and records of any corporation liable to pay tax under this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and costs of prosecution or undergo imprisonment not exceeding six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court Such penalty shall be in addition to any other penalties imposed by this act

Section 12 Constitutional Construction The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not effect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein

Section 13 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment and shall remain in force only for the imposition and collection of taxes on net income of corporations derived from sources within the Commonwealth for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred fifty-one one thousand nine hundred fifty-two one thousand nine hundred fifty-three one thousand nine hundred fifty-four and [one thousand nine hundred fifty-five] for every calendar year thereafter or for the fiscal years ending in the calendar years on thousand nine hundred fifty-two one thousand nine hundred fifty-three one thousand nine hundred fifty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-five [and one thousand nine hundred fifty-six] and every calendar year thereafter

"Section 2 Section 6 of the act amended May 18, 1949 (P. L. 1471) is amended to read

"Section 6 The operator shall file with the Department of Mines a bond on a form to be prescribed and furnished by the department payable to the Commonwealth and conditioned that the operator shall faithfully perform all the requirements of this act The bond shall be in the amount of [three hundred dollars ($300)] six hundred dollars ($600) per acre based upon the number of acres of land which the operator estimates will be the area of land affected by strip mining during one (1) year immediately following the date of the permit issued by the department Provided That no bond shall be for an amount less than [three thousand dollars ($3000)] six thousand dollars ($6000) Liability under the bond shall be for the duration of strip mining at each operation and for a period of five years thereafter unless released prior thereto in the manner hereinafter provided by this act

"Such bond shall be signed by the operator and a corporate surety licensed to do business in the Commonwealth Provided however That in lieu of a surety bond the operator may file a collateral bond secured by cash in the form of a certified or cashier's check or United States Government securities The cash deposited or the par value of such United States Government securities shall be equal to the amount of the required bond and shall be held upon the same terms and conditions

"The Secretary of Mines shall upon receipt of any such deposit of cash or securities immediately deposit the same with the State Treasurer whose duty it shall be to receive and hold the same in the name of the Commonwealth for the purpose for which such deposit is made The State Treasurer shall at all times be responsible for the safe keeping of such deposits

"Any operator making such deposit shall be entitled to receive from the State Treasurer on written order of the Secretary of Mines the whole or any portion of any securities so deposited upon depositing with the department in lieu thereof a surety bond or other United States Government securities of a par value at least equal to the sum required for a bond as aforesaid

"The operator shall also be entitled upon request to receive from the State Treasurer the interest or income from said securities deposited as aforesaid as the same become due and payable Provided however That where securities deposited as aforesaid mature or are called the State Treasurer at the request of the operator shall convert such securities into other acceptable securities designated by the operator

"Section 3 Section 7 of the act is amended to read

"Section 7 [Upon application by the operator the permit may be renewed from year to year so as to cover the number of acres embraced in the original permit which have not been stripped and additional permit may be issued at any time to the operator to cover acres which are not included in a previous permit and which the operator estimates will be the area of land affected during the following year No license fee shall be charged for a renewal permit and the] The fee for [an additional] a renewal permit shall be calculated at the rate of [twenty-five dollars ($25)] fifty dollars ($50) per acre for the number of new acres which the operator estimates will be the area of land affected during the following year All such moneys received by the department shall be deposited in a special fund with the State Treasurer and shall be expended by the Department of Mines in payment of the cost of administering the provisions of this act Each application for a permit shall be accompanied by a bond as herein provided

"Section 4 Sections 8 and 9 of the act amended May 18, 1949 (P. L. 1471) are amended to read

"Section 8 Within thirty (30) days after the close of the year for which the permit was issued and likewise after the close of each subsequent year the operator if he continues to engage in strip mining [shall file with the Department of Mines a new bond covering such new acres as he may estimate will be affected during the following year The bond shall be at the rate of three hundred dollars ($300) per acre The bond shall not be less than three thousand dollars ($3,000)] of anthracite coal shall re-register with the Department of Mines as hereinbefore provided in the case of the original permit Each renewal will require a permit form in triplicate and bond either collateral or surety in the minimum sum of six thousand dollars ($6000) and shall be accompanied by an annual report upon a form furnished by the Department setting forth the number of acres of land affected during the preceding year and the number of acres of land that will be affected during the ensuing year at each operation [Provided however That any portion of a bond covering an operation which may remain unencumbered at the end of an operational year may be applied to acres of land which the operator anticipates will be affected during the following year]

"Section 9 Upon receipt of such annual report the Secretary of Mines shall make an investigation of the operation and shall charge the area of land actually affected by strip mining during the year for which said report is filed against the bond or deposit filed by the operator at the rate of [three hundred dollars ($300)] six hundred dollars ($600) per acre of the area of land affected but in no case shall the bond on deposit retained by the Secretary of Mines be less than [three thousand dollars ($3,000)] six thousand dollars ($6,000) Should the area of land actually affected exceed the estimate made by the operator at the time of the application for th permit the operator shall file an additional bond at the rate of [three hundred dollars ($300)] six hundred dollars ($600) per acre of the area affected over and above his estimate [Provided That an additional bond need not be filed where the number of acres of land actually affected multiplied by three hundred dollars ($300) does not exceed the sum of three thousand dollars ($3,000)] If the work contemplated by the permit and bond be not completed but the area of land actually affected by strip mining during the year is less than the estimate the Secretary shall issue a release of the excess of the bond or deposit upon which liability has not been charged as aforesaid Provided That in no case shall any bond or deposit be released or reduced to an amount less than [three thousand dollars ($3,000)] six thousand dollars ($6000)

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ROBERT K. HAMILTON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would like at this time to extend my personal gratitude and thanks for the cooperation of the members of the Insurance Committee during this extended session of 1955-1960.

Without the complete cooperation of the membership of the Insurance Committee, the enactment of the many good bills which have been passed could not have been accomplished. At this session we have done an outstanding job for the policy holders in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, who will be better informed and better served by our Insurance Commissioner, the Hon. Francis R. Smith and his associates, than at any time in our Commonwealth's recent history.

I extend to all the Members of the Insurance Committee my most grateful thanks and congratulations for a job well done.

I should like to at this time, also, to include in my remarks the following letters addressed to me along with the remarks made in Pittsburgh at the Insurance Dinner by the former President of the Insurance Club of Pittsburgh, Mr. Charles H. Bokman.

March 14, 1956.

Honorable Robert K. Hamilton
Member, House of Representatives
Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Bob:

The 1955-1956 Session of the General Assembly is rapidly drawing to a close. May I, as the Insurance Commissioner, extend to you my deep gratitude for the magnificent cooperation you, as the Chairman of the Insurance Committee of the House of Representatives, gave to me.

Without your complete cooperation, the many things we accomplished for the multiude of policyholders in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania would have been impossible.

You are a credit not only to your constituents, but to all of the people of the Commonwealth.

Congratulations for a job well done!

Sincerely,

FRANCIS R. SMITH,
Insurance Commissioner.

March 14, 1956.

Honorable Robert K. Hamilton
Member, House of Representatives
Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Bob:

On Tuesday, March 6, 1956, The Insurance Club of Pittsburgh held its annual Pittsburgh Insurance Day. It was my privilege, as the Insurance Commissioner, to attend and participate in this very worthwhile activity.

The Insurance Club of Pittsburgh, in my opinion as the Commissioner, is easily the finest not only in this Commonwealth but anywhere in the country.

One of the former Presidents and founders of The Insurance Club of Pittsburgh spoke at the Dinner on March 6th. I refer to Mr. Charles H. Bokman. He could well be described as "Mr. Insurance," in the Pittsburgh area. I was so impressed with his address that I am enclosing herewith a copy of his comments and would request that you have it inserted in the Legislative records.

Any preliminary comments you wish to make relative to either Mr. Bokman or myself, or the insurance people in Western Pennsylvania, you are at perfect liberty to make.

Sincerely,

FRANCIS R. SMITH,
Insurance Commissioner.

Address of Mr. Charles H. Bokman, President of Insurance Club of Pittsburgh.

Dean Moore, Mr. Fiand, Ladies and Gentlemen:

The privilege has been accorded me to present the Insurance Club a plaque in honor of the Past Presidents of this organization. This plaque is a gift from the younger members of the Club and has inscribed thereon the names of all Past Presidents and there is room for the names of future leaders as their terms of office expire.

I shall not take the time to read the names now inscribed on this plaque—most of them are well-known to you. These names will soon be forgotten but the deeds of these men will live as long as there is an insurance business. It is altogether fitting that I remind you that through the efforts of these men an idea was born and developed—now nationally known as "I-DAY," which had its origin in Pittsburgh and has now been adopted in hundreds of communities. As you all know, this has been no small accomplishment although it is only one of the many fine contributions to our business made by the Insurance Club of Pittsburgh over the years.

In presenting this plaque I like to feel that this presentation is not in honor of our Past Presidents but rather in honor of all of the fine insurance people—past and present—who have made up our Pittsburgh and Tri-State insurance fraternity during the past years. Let us never forget that the insurance people of this area made their special contribution along with all other business and community leaders in the wonderful development of this entire industrial area—and that goes for Greater New Pittsburgh and its urban redevelopment program, too.

Let me remind you that these leaders whom we honor in the presentation of this plaque were all organization men—men who believed in, worked with and helped promote trade groups like the Insurance Club of Pittsburgh and the Local, State and National Associations of Insurance Agents. To a very large degree it seems to follow that big successful men in every business are active in their trade organizations. Only through the activity and vigilance of trade groups is the heritage of a great business like insurance preserved and passed on to new and younger generations.

Days have now come upon us when every phase of our business is under attack from all sides. Every method employed in the past, as our business developed from an idea to one of the largest businesses in our economy, is being questioned. There is just cause for us to stop—look and listen and ponder the question—"Where are we headed for?" Present changing times demand that we carefully deliberate on every new idea and think it through—is it really good for our people—our policyholders and prospects? If it passes that test, it must be good for our business because a strong, worthwhile insurance business of the future can only be built in proportion to our usefulness to the public and the community.

There is no such thing as continued resistance to change and none will deny that we must adopt changes that modernize our processes and our usefulness. However, nothing can be gained by destroying or even ignoring our lessons and experiences of the past, for no stable business of the future can be built on the wreckage of the past. A strong and potent insurance business can only be built on lessons of the past blended into needs of the present and future as they develop.

With these few remarks, it is my pleasure to present to you in behalf of local insurance men this plaque—let it and the thirty names inscribed thereon and the service performed over the years be a perpetual reminder of this great business, the respected position it occupies in our business world and the responsibility it places on each of us as insurance people. May this plaque and what it stands for prove an inspiration to all and mark another milestone along the path of progress of our business, which shall always keep pace with human progress and continue to provide security and safety in matters involving business or human relations as the needs develop.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the next bill on special order fixed for this time, being House Bill No. 297.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 297, as follows:

An Act increasing the number of courts of common pleas in the County of Philadelphia establishing therein a distinct and separate court of common pleas designated court of common pleas number eight and providing for the appointment and election of judges for the court

Section 1 There is established in the County of Philadelphia a distinct and separate courts of common pleas to be designated court of common pleas number eight of Philadelphia County composed of three judges learned in the law who shall hold office for the same term and with like powers duties authority and compensation and with like and equal constitution and coordinate jurisdiction with courts of common pleas number one two three four five six and seven of the county and the judges thereof respectively

Section 2 In addition to the judges provided for in the act of January 8, 1952 (P. L. 1844) entitled "An act to designate the several judicial districts of the Commonwealth as required by the Constitution and to provide for the election and commissioning of judges learned in the law for the said districts" three judges of the court of common pleas number eight of Philadelphia County learned in the law shall be elected by the qualified electors of the county at the next municipal election in November 1957 and the three candidates who then receive the highest vote shall be declared elected one of the judges to be designated as required by the Constitution of the Commonwealth shall be president judge of the court The judges shall be duly commissioned as judges aforesaid and shall enter upon the discharge of their duties respectively on the first Monday of January next following their election The sucessors of said judges respectively shall be elected or appointed as required by law

Section 3 The Governor is authorized to appoint three competent persons learned in the law as judges of the court until the first Monday of January succeeding the next municipal election one of whom shall be designated as president judge for the court that period

Section 4 This act shall take effect immediately.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, volunteer? Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. TOLL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know how many additional judges this bill provides for?

Mr TOLL. Mr. Speaker, this provides for one court containing three additional judges of the court of common pleas.

Mr. TOMPKINS. This is the common pleas court in Philadelphia, is that right, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. TOLL. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. It means three additional judges, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. TOLL. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. What is the necessity for three additional judges in common pleas in Philadelphia at the present time, may I inquire?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, since 1948, and running from 1948 to 1954, we have had a considerable increase in the number of cases on our dockets. I attended a meeting of the Legislative Committee of the Philadelphia Bar Association last Thursday and I think the increase in the statistics they had showed that there was a jump from 3,800 to 5,900, about 2,100 more cases.

In addition to that, our common pleas judges sit in the court of quarter sessions and the court of oyer and terminer. We have had to obtain gypsy judges, those who come from other counties, to the total of 177 working days in 1955.

I have a considerable number of statistics, if the Members of the Assembly would like to hear them, which show that Philadelphia really needs an additional common pleas court No. 8. As a matter of fact, in the 1953 session such a bill went through.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. BELL. Mr Speaker, is the gentleman from Philadelphia in order by calling judges from counties other than Philadelphia "gypsy judges?"

The SPEAKER. The Chair has recently termed them so and would rule that the gentleman is in order.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I should like to inquire what is the annual salary for common pleas judges in Philadelphia?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I want to say that the use of the word "gypsy" was an affectionate term, it was not spoken in any derisive sense.

I also want to say that the salary of a common pleas judge in Philadelphia is $18,500.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Then these three additional judges could cost us about $55,500 a year extra, is that right? Mr. Speaker?

Mr. TOLL. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. How much would the additional office space cost for the housing of this additional court in Philadelphia?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, the additional cost of office space is not a charge upon the Commonwealth, it is borne by the County of Philadelphia.

Mr. TOMPKINS. May I not inquire as to what it costs, whether it comes from Philadelphia or the Commonwealth, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I do not know the exact cost, but I merely wanted to point out that it is not going to cost the Commonwealth any money.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, could I get some indication as to how much the additional office space will cost?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, it is a matter of providing space in our City Hall or in our new building, the Municipal Court Building, if they are willing to accommodate these judges. Perhaps it might require additional space in one of the buildings surrounding our City Hall, but I do not know what the cost would be.

Mr. TOMPKINS. How much does the gentleman suppose it might cost the County of Philadelphia for the additional quarters and staff necessary for three additional judges, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, a court tipstaff gets about $4,000, a crier gets about the same money, and a secretary. The janitors are already on hand to clean the place.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Is that all the cost that is involved, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. TOLL. Each judge is entitled to a secretary and there would be two court rooms for a common pleas court, so that would require a crier and a tipstaff. A court clerk would be required, his salary is about $5,000 or $6,000 Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, is that $5,000 or $6,000 apiece or the combined total for the three?

Mr. TOLL. No, the salaries in Philadelphia run about $5,000 or $6,000 for a court clerk, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I would like to phrase the question in this way, Mr. Speaker. I believe in 1951 the gentleman from Philadelphia made a statement in connection with the additional cost for three judges in Philadelphia that it would cost the city of Philadelphia at that time, I believe it was, or the County of Philadelphia, a matter of $350,000 a year extra to staff and house an additional three judges. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia state it would still cost that amount, or how much more?

Mr. TOLL. I do not recall that I made such a statement, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the Legislative Journal of 1951, page 6363, states, "The budget of Philadelphia for the present municipal court is nearly a million and a half. If you add three more judges you are adding twenty-five per cent to the amount of the bill, which is another $350,000." Does the gentleman still say it costs that amount?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, that was an estimate of an increase of our municipal court at that time by a quarter of the cost of the municipal court.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I beg to disagre with the gentleman, but if three additional judges, the number that is involved here today—

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, may I point out that there is quite a substantial difference between the Municipal Court and the common pleas court. The Municipal Court estimate undoubtedly included the matter of handling juvenile cases, domestic relations cases, fornication and bastardy cases and support matters and involved a complete staff of probationary officers. That is a distinct court in the city of Philadelphia and involves a lot of services in addition to those which are handled by a common pleas court. This bill involves only a common pleas court.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Can I not get a commitment of some kind out of the gentleman? I do not care how wild his guess is, Mr. Speaker, as to how much the additional cost per year will be to the county or city of Philadelphia for three additional common pleas judges.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, the question by the gentleman from Cameron is unwarranted. I am not given to making wild guesses and he is not justified in asking me such a question.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron address his questions through the Chair?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I should like to inquire of the gentleman from Philadelphia how much more it will cost the County of Philadelphia to house and staff three additional common pleas court judges in the County of Philadelphia?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I do not know the figures. It is possible that the county will be able to secure space in the building for the new courts, because some of the rooms are large enough to hold courts, and City Hill is owned by the city of Philadelphia. So it will not be a question of rental, it will only a question of furnishing the rooms. As far as the staffs are concerned, I gave the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, the figure of two criers, one clerk, one assistant clerk, three secretaries and, say, three tipstaves. That would be probably about $50,000, or less, a year. The janitor is a part of the regular service.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, you would not need the janitor if you did not have to have the additional space to house the judges, would you?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, we have a uniform system in the city today whereby our janitors now clean the entire building. They are not especially assigned to any particular court.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman says it would run about $50,000 additional per year to staff these three additional judges with personnel.

Mr. TOLL. With personnel, Mr. Speaker, that is right.

Mr. TOMPKINS. How about the cost of the housing, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I answered that question. I am not aware that it would cost very much because the city of Philadelphia owns our municipal building and it is a matter of moving some of the offices around. It is just a matter of fixing up the furniture in the rooms, the walls and the painting.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire, is there space at the present time to house an additional three judges? Mr. Speaker, in 1951 the gentleman said they did not know where they would house three additional municipal court judges. I think it is certainly a pertinent inquiry to find out where he intends to house three additional common pleas—

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I can answer that. In 1952 a new Democratic administration took over in the city of Philadelphia and cleaned up the City Hall, did a remarkable job, consolidated the various offices that were there, moved them into proper space, and today we have a great deal more room than we had in 1951.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask a couple more questions. The gentleman may nor may not be able to answer.

I would like to ask this question: In the interim between 1951 and 1953 I was a member of the subcommittee of the Joint State Government Commission studying decedent's estates. During the course of those hearings it was recommended by the advisory group to the subcommittee that the jurisdiction over incompetents' estates be transferred from the common pleas courts in the state to the orphans' courts in the state.

When that recommendation was made, the board of judges of the common pleas court of Philadelphia made a special effort to contact our Committee to object most strenuously to any transfer of incompetents' estates from the common pleas courts to the orphans' court, particularly in Philadelphia, accompanying their plea with a statement to the effect that should the jurisdiction of incompetents' estates be taken away from the common pleas courts they would not have enough work in the city of Philadelphia to justify one-half of the Judges they then had.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, may I answer that and say that is an unwarrranted statement.

I was not a member of the subcommittee on decedents' estates laws in 1951 to 1953, I am a member of that committee now. I have also looked into the question and that is not so, that the common pleas judges would lose any quantity of business.

The amount of business involving incompetents' estates is very small. As a matter of fact, it is a very good legal question as to whether it is advisable for the orphans' court to handle that business or for the common pleas court to handle the business.

That business has been in the common pleas courts for many years. As a matter of fact, that question can be resolved when the Joint State Government Commission takes its survey under Resolution No. 62—

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am not debating the merits of whether or not the transfer should be made.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has allowed wide latitude in the matter of inquiry and the Chair must award an equally wide latitude in what the gentleman desires to say in reply.

Mr. TOLL. May I say this, that Resolution No. 62 was passed by this House some months ago, and it is probably going to go through, for a study by the Joint State Government Commission to decide these procedural questions as to what courts should handle what business. Until that has been decided and until adequate figures are obtained, this particular question as to whether the orhpans' court or the common pleas court should handle incompetents' estates, is just a matter for debate. Just because the orphans' court judges, who are members of the subcommittee on the decedents' estates laws, decided they would like to have the business does not mean the common pleas court judges should give it up.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am not debating the merits or demerits of whether the orphans' court or the common pleas should have jurisdiction of incompetents' estates. I merely raised the issue that when that question came up the common pleas court, the board of common pleas judges, in Philadelphia came to this committee and pleaded with us not to transfer it because in effect it would ruin the common pleas court in Philadelphia.

I make that as a statement and not as a question to the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman from Cameron debating the bill or continuing the inquiry?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Now I want to get back on the track as to whether we need three additional judges in Philadelphia and not the question of whether they should have jurisdiction of certain issues.

Mr. Speaker, the statement I just made I made from the standpoint of having personally been present at the time the representative of the common plaes courts in Philadelphia approached that committee.

I will further make this statement, that in 1953 when this very issue was up there was a public hearing held before a committee in the Senate of this state on this very issue, and the same plea by the common pleas courts in Philadelphia was made at that time, not to take this business away from them, that to do so would reduce their work load to the extent that they could not justify the number of judges they had in Philadelphia.

The only thing I am raising is this, the gentleman admits the salaries of these judges are paid by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The costs of their quarters and their staffing is paid by the County of Philadelphia.

I would merely like to read back to him what he said in 1951 in connection with the cost of putting additional judges on in Philadelphia. Page 6363 of the Legislative Journal of 1951:

> "Now let me add this final word. The Judges of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia are paid by State funds. If you increase the Judges of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia from two to three you are putting yourself in a position where you are asking your constitutents"—and he was talking to all the Members of the House with reference to their constituents in the state of Pennsylvania—"you are asking your constituents in your towns and your boroughs to pay for a Judge for the next ten years, to pay his salary with your taxpayers money for a city that does not need three Judges and does not want three Judges."

That applies now if it ever applied.

Mr. FLINT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FLINT. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman tell me the total population of the 59th Judicial District of Pennsylvania?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is the 59th Judicial District?

Mr. FLINT. The gentleman is asked, Mr. Speaker, the total population of that Judicial District.

Mr. TOMPKINS. 45,000.

Mr. FLINT. Mr. Speaker, the decennial census figures are 41,526.

Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know the average population to be served by the present number of judges, common pleas, or orphans' court, or municipal, in the County and city of Philadelphia?

Mr. TOMPKINS. In the neighborhood of 2,000,000, I should judge.

Mr. FLINT. Average per judge, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I do not know how many judges they have altogether down there.

Mr. FLINT. According to my arithmetic, it is 49,000 per judge. Under the proposed addition it would be 46,000.

Mr. Speaker, it must be agreed by lawers that the volume of litigation increases with the increase of population geometrically rather than arithmetically.

Coming from one of the smallest judicial districts of Pennsylvania, as a practicing lawyer I have to be grateful for the accessability of judges. It is something to go and get your order signed, and get it signed quickly and to put your case down on the calendar and not have to wait for ever and ever. I have understood that is the situation in Philadelphia.

For one I would be moved to give them the greater advantage some of us in the smaller judicial districts enjoy.

The people of Potter County, although relatively few in number are proud that their County has constituted a separate judicial district for many years. The court house at Coudersport has been a seat of justice since the year 1814. The people of our county do not apply dollars and cents as the sole standard of the value of easy access to their courts.

By having a separate judicial district in our county the people of that area are served by their own highly respected judge. For one, I would oppose to the utmost any move toward judicial reapportionment adverse to Potter County in this respect.

The gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, has stated that it commonly takes nine months for litigants in his own 59th Judicial District to have their nisi prius cases brought to trial. If this is true, it would be my impression that this is because the volume of cases for trial by jury is so small in the gentleman's county that traverse juries are not even called at every term of court. In fact, many terms are passed in small counties without issuing venires for either traverse or grand juries, simply because the number and importance of pending cases to be heard would not justify the expense of summoning the panel.

Mention was made in debate on H. B. 297 of Pennsylvania judges who are called from the counties in which they regularly hold their commissions to preside in courts of other counties. In this connection I would advise the House that litigants and lawyers of Pennsylvania are fortunate who may have the benefit of the services of the distinguished and learned president judge of our own Pennsylvania 55th Judicial District, which comprises the County of Potter. The parties to suits at which he presides will find in him, when the responsibilities to his own district permit him to perform judicial duties outside of Potter County, all the good qualities becoming to the high office he holds.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Flint.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Flint, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLINT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman's interrogation to be that in my judicial district with a population of 41,000 we have one judge? Is that right?

Mr. FLINT. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. And that with the number of judges they have in Philadelphia and their population they have one judge for 49,000?

Mr. FLINT. The proportion of judges to people would be less in the gentleman's judicial district than in Philadelphia County.

Mr. TOMPKINS. May I inquire how many counties his judicial district covers?

Mr. FLINT. One county, as the gentleman knows, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is Potter County?

Mr. FLINT. That is right.

Mr. TOMPKINS. What is the population of Potter County?

Mr. FLINT. 16,810.

Mr. TOMPKINS. 16,810. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, it has been nearly twenty years since Philadelphia has had an increase in its common pleas courts. In 1937 our common pleas courts, which then numbered five were increased to seven. No. 6 and No. 7 were added, which meant six additional judges for the common pleas courts.

There are thirty-seven lawyers in the House and it might be that the other Members of the House do not know what a common pleas court is. It is the constitutional court which handles cases in Philadelphia involving civil matters over $2,500, involving the court of quarter sessions activities, involving criminal cases, handling divorce cases, handling suits in the millions, handling real estate matters. These courts are manned day in and day out in the biggest city in the Commonwealth, a great industrial and metropolitan center. It may be that people live in surrounding areas, but if they have factories and businesses in Philadelphia they bring their suits there and they want their cases disposed of just as the gentleman from Potter explained. It now takes approximately from ten months to one year to have a matter heard. In the meantime the business people of that area are waiting.

You can realize the importance to the city of another common pleas court, which is now requested after a twenty year lapse. You can realize it is very, very important.

The gentleman explained what I said in 1951, and I can tell you in that year the same administration which had run Philadelphia practically from the Civil War was still in office. The municipal court, which was then involved, was handling matters in such a manner that it seemed to me it was absolutely unnecessary to add more judges to the system as it then existed.

But you all know that another story has been written since 1951. You have all heard of the Clark administration—as a matter of fact, he is now a candidate for the Senate—and you all know what great reform has taken place in Philadelphia. The story today is different from that which it was in 1951.

You can easily see why a city as large as Philadelphia, which is either the third or fourth largest in the whole nation, would need another common pleas court consisting of three judges, and I ask you to support the bill.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia on just one other point and I will be done.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Phildelphia, Mr. Toll, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOLL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia how many Members of the House of Representatives were from Philadelphia County in the 1953 session?

Mr. TOLL. Forty-one.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. SPEAKER, I should like to inquire of the gentleman how many Members of the House of Representatives there are from Philadelphia in the 1955 session?

Mr. TOLL. Thirty-nine, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to observe that the population of Philadelphia in the redistricting in 1953 dropped to an extent that two Members of this House were dropped. That number is going down. I do not know why we should increase the judicial members.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia one very brief question.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. TOLL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, one of the leaders of this House has always impressed me with his statement, "Let's be fair." I want Mr. Toll to be fair in answering this question. The gentleman you mentioned on the floor of this House a number of times your fellow statesman from Philadelphia. Was your position in 1951, or 1953, whenever it was, perhaps influenced by the fact there was a Republican Governor and now you have a Democrat Governor? Now, let us be fair, Mr. Toll.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. McCORMACK. I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. McCormack. Mr. Speaker, it is not in order for anyone in this House to question the motives of another Member of the House in pending legislation.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. FINEMAN. Yes, Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman from Cameron to state that his population is 49,000?

Mr. TOMPKINS. No, I did not state that. I said the population of my district was 45,000 and I believe the gentleman from Potter said it was close to 42,000.

Mr. FINEMAN. Will the gentleman tell me the number of common pleas court judges that Comeron County has?

Mr. TOMPKINS. One.

Mr. FINEMAN. One common court pleas judge serving the needs of 45,000 population, is that correct?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is right, plus the juvenile courts. He serves all of the courts, he is the orphans' court judge, the municipal court judge, the juvenile judge, the common plea judge, the court of oyer and terminer, and what have you.

Mr. FINEMAN. We are just talking about common pleas court judges for the moment. Will the gentleman tell me the average length of time which passes between the date a case is ordered down for trial and the date that case comes up for actual hearing in Cameron County?

Mr. TOMPKINS. On the average, I should say, about nine months to a year.

Mr. FINEMAN. If the population in Cameron County were to jump to 100,000, would the gentleman be under the impression, or would he be of the opinion, that that single common pleas court judge could service the needs of a population of that size?

Mr. TOMPKINS. No, I would not.

Mr. FINEMAN. Would the gentleman have any objection to an additional common pleas court judge even though it meant an additional expenditure of possibly $18,500 a year for the salary of that judge?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, if we had the population to justify it, yes, but he is asking hypothetical questions.

Mr. FINEMAN. I take it from the gentleman's answer, then, if there were such a population of 100,000 the gentleman would have no objection to increasing the number of common pleas court judges in Cameron County?

Mr. TOMPKINS. If the population was there on that basis, yes, but you do not have that same situation there in Philadelphia.

Mr. FINEMAN. The gentleman admitted before, I believe, there was a population in the metropolitan Philadelphia area of some two million people. Is that correct?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That was merely an estimate there, I do not have the 1950 census before me.

Mr. FINEMAN. I think it is a matter of common knowledge that there is a population of two million people being served by the present composition of the common pleas courts in Philadelphia. There are seven common pleas courts in Philadelphia County, each court having three judges, or a total of twenty-one judges. The twenty-one judges service the needs of the two million people of Philadelphia in the areas or jurisdictions which are given to them by our statutes. They have most of the time sole jurisdiction in these matters. That means they are serving, twenty-one judges——

The SPEAKER. The Chair would recognize the gentleman from Philadelphia if he desires to discuss the question. He is hardly interrogating the gentleman.

Mr. FINEMAN. I will thank the gentleman from Cameron and ask permission of the House to make a brief statement.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, the twenty-one judges in Philadelphia County are servicing the needs of two million people, that means an average of 100,000 per judge.

The gentleman from Cameron stated that if his county presented a situation where there was 100,000 population, he himself would have no objection to increasing the number of common pleas court judges. I am wondering what the basis of his objection to increasing the number of common pleas courts in Philadelphia County is?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FINEMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Philadelphia state that they presently have twenty-one common pleas judges??

Mr. FINEMAN. That is right.

Mr. TOMPKINS. How many orphans' court judges do you have?

Mr. FINEMAN. We have one orphans' court with, I believe, seven judges. However, the matters that the orphans' court handles cannot be handled by the common pleas court judges.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I did not ask the gentleman that. I ask him how many orphans' court judges they had?

Mr. FINEMAN. Seven. Your question is not germane to the matter that is before us right now.

May I state to the gentleman in reply that no matter how many additional judges we have in municipal court or orphans' court, they do not service the needs of the people of Philadelphia in the area in which the courts of common pleas service the needs of those people.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia care to answer my question, Mr. Speaker, as to how many orphans' court judges there are?

Mr. FINEMAN. I believe I did answer the question.

Mr. TOMPKINS. How many?

Mr. FINEMAN. Six judges.

Mr. TOMPKINS. How many municipal court judges do you have?

Mr. FINEMAN. We have approximately thirty municipal court judges.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Am I to understand there is a total of about fifty-seven judges servicing Philadelphia?

Mr. FINEMAN. My information on the number of municipal court judges may be in error. However, I again remind the gentleman that the judges of municipal court and the judges of orphans' court do not have jurisdiction over the same matters as do the judges of common pleas court. The bill that is before the House now is a bill increasing the number of common pleas court judges only.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Philadelphia.

If I may address the House a minute to bring this analogy where it belongs, I wish to point out to the gentleman from Philadelphia and the Members of this House that the work which the judge in my district does for 41,000 people takes in the work which the common pleas judges in Philadelphia perform, the work which the orphans' court judges in Philadelphia perform and the work which the municipal court judges in Philadelphia perform. So in order to get this down to the proper basis of analogy, let us take your fifty-seven judges and divide it into your two million and you will find you have just as many judges serving the needs of Philadelphia as we have serving our 59th Judicial District.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

(During the calling of the roll).

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, we are taking a count of the roll call and the Clerk is going entirely too fast to count. We cannot even hear the names over there. We do not want to verify rolls and get a lot of unnecessary names. I wish the Clerk would repeat when he does not hear the names on the Democratic side as well as the Republican side.

The SPEAKER. Where does the gentleman desire that the Clerk begin again calling the roll?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Let him start at the beginning, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will resume the roll call at the beginning. Members will answer distinctly to their names.

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the next bill on special order fixed for this time, being House Bill No. 889.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 889, entitled:

An Act providing for an additional law judge of the court of common pleas in the thirty-eighth judicial district.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the third reading postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the next bill on special order fixed for this time, being House Bill No. 1217.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1217, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 12, 1913 (P. L. 711) entitled "An act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia prescribing its jurisdiction and powers providing for the service of its writs process or warrants by the proper officers of the county or city of Philadelphia regulating the procedure therein and appeals therefrom and providing for the expenses thereof" increasing the number of judges of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the third reading postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. At the request of the respective Floor Leaders the Chair declares a recess until 2:00 o'clock. Following the recess there will be a quorum call. The Chair hears no objection and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. MOSCRIPT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, yesterday on the vote on Senate Bill 249, Printer's No. 611, my colleague, Mr. Pursley, and myself voted under a misapprehension. I ask permission of the House to have this statement of explanation spread upon the Journal.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will send his statement to the desk and it will be noted in the Journal.

Statement by Mr. Moscrip and Mr. Pursley.

On March 20 Senate Bill No. 249, Printer's No. 611 was passed by the House of Representatives. On the roll call the undersigned Members voted in the negative. This vote was due to a misapprehension and since the roll call was a fast roll call both Members were recorded prior to the discovery of misapprhension. Therefore, this statement is filed to establish upon the record that had the circumstances surrounding the roll call allowed, both of the undersigned would have changed their votes from no to aye.

RECORD CORRECTED

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to be recognized in order to correct the record?

Mr. FINEMAN. I do, Mr. Speaker.

During the argument in connection with increasing the number of common pleas courts in Philadelphia County it was inadvertently stated by me that there were thirty municipal court judges in Philadelphia. The correct number of municipal court judges is thirteen, being a total number of forty judges altogether, including six orphans' court judges and twenty-one common pleas court judges.

SENATE MESSAGE

Mr. STRAUSSER. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 53.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the Rules.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 452, Printer's No. 1530

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 454, as follows:

An Act amending the act of April 12 1951 (P. L. 90) entitled "An act relating to alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto regulating and restricting the manufacture purchase sale possession consumption importation transportation furnishing holding in bond holding in storage traffic in and use of alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the establishment and operation of State liquor stores for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships for the abatement of certain nuisances and in certain cases for search and seizure without warrant prescribing penalties and forfeitures providing for local option and repealing existing laws" exempting certain clubs from the limitation and quota.

Section 1 Subsection (a) of section 461 act of April 12 1951 (P. L. 90) known as the "Liquor Code" is amended to read

Section 461 Limiting Number of Retail Licenses To Be Issued In Each Municipality (a) No licenses shall hereafter be granted by the board for the retail sale of malt or brewed beverages or the retail sale of liquor and malt or brewed beverages in excess of one of such licenses of any class for each one thousand inhabitants or fraction thereof in any municipality exclusive of licenses granted to hotels as defined in this section and clubs but at least one such license may be granted in each municipality except in municipalities where the electors have voted against the granting of any retail licenses Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as denying the right to the board to renew or to transfer existing retail licenses of any class notwithstanding that the number of such licensed places in a municipality shall exceed the limitation hereinbefore prescribed but where such number exceeds the limitation prescribed by this section no new license except for hotels as defined in this section and clubs shall be granted so long as said limitation is exceeded

Section 2 This act shall take effect immediately

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this bill. The brief title of the bill on our calendar would seem to infer that this bill would merely exempt certain clubs from the municipal quota system. The bill actually exempts all clubs within the Commonwealth from the quota system. It puts all clubs, whether they be veterans organizations, legitimate clubs, or so-called one-man clubs, in the same category as all hotels, which are also exempt from the present quota system.

I believe this bill would have a very adverse affect. It is entirely possible that under this system whereby a club can get a license the state of Pennsylvania would be flooded with many undesirable one-man clubs.

It is true that some very legitimate veterans organizations are denied a license under the present quota system, but if the Members of this House will remember, just last week we passed House Bill 68, which would permit a club to receive a license by the transfer of a restaurant liquor license. That should in time cure almost all the cases whereby a veterans organization is not able to obtain a club liquor license.

For the information of the Members of this House, I would like to repeat one salient statistic. In the State of New York with over 14 million people there are only 900 club liquor licenses. In the state of Pennsylvania with less than 11 million people there are licensed clubs in the number of 4,600. With about three-quarters of the population of New York state, Pennsylvania now have five times as many club licenses.

This bill would just make a bad situation exceedingly worse, and I ask the Members of this House to vote against. it.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I was a Member of the House in 1939 when the quota law was passed and am quite familiar with the confusion that arose during that session as to whether clubs were to be in or out of the quota law.

I was definitely of the opinion and understanding at that time that clubs were not to be included. The bill which came back from the printer was so worded that the courts of Pennsylvania divided twenty-seven to twenty-nine, I think, in trying to figure out whether they were intended to be in or intended to be out. This was finally resolved a few years back when we allowed the Superior Court to have jurisdiction of the matter and make a decision, at which time the Superior Court decided they were in .

During many sessions I have introduced bills to take clubs out of the quota. It has always been my philosophy, and still is. that the answer to this problem is not to limit the number of licenses but to have proper enforcement and a sufficient number of enforcement officers. Then the evils of which the gentleman from Allegheny spoke of a flood of one-man clubs could not happen, because proper enforcement would see that it did not happen.

I am asking you to support this bill today even though I am quite convinced by this time that many presently existing legitimate clubs which have liquor licenses do not want the limitation removed. I think some eight, ten, twelve years ago, perhaps, all clubs believed that there should be no limitation on club licensees. I am convinced today that many club organizations believe that the limitation is a good thing.

Nevertheless, in line with my own philosophy I am going to vote for the bill and I am asking the membership to do likewise.

Mr. McINROY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader just a minute.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McINROY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Majority Leader what definitions he would give of the two words "legitimate clubs."

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the Liquor Code very specificially defines what constitutes a club. It has to be a reputable organization with a primary interest other than the sale of beer, liquor, and so forth. It has to have a board of directors, it has to have regular meetings. I am speaking of any organization which is legitimately organized and incorporated for a legitimate purpose and is actually functioning. I think the law itself defines it as such.

Mr. McINROY. Would the gentleman agree that the word "legitimate" is a pretty broad word?

Mr. READINGER. I would agree that the word "legitimate" just like the word "illegitimate" is a broad word. They are both broad words.

Mr. McINROY. Would the gentleman agree that the purpose of this bill is to practically open wide the doors to a number of clubs that would come into Pennsylvania regardless of population and regardless of the so-called need?

Mr. READINGER. There is no question that if this bill were passed any number of clubs could be created and if they were in existence, incorporated existence, for a year they would then become eligible to apply for a liquor license. There would be no limit on the number which could be created, but they would have to be legitimate in the sense that they have a proper function which the court would recognize in granting them a charter.

Mr. McINROY. Just a few words, Mr. Speaker.

This is a question, as the Majority Leader has said, which has been before the people of Pennsylvania for a good many years and perhaps this would clarify it.

If this bill is passed, it would mean that in the state of Pennsylvania we literally would have hundreds more clubs that would spring up throughout the state.

I might say if I were to make a statement in regard to it, there might be certain places in the state where veterans clubs, for instance, wish to have licenses and sometimes they are refused because of the quota. It has already been stated by one of my colleagues on this side of the House that they still have the remedy of buying out some other legitimate club or some legitimate business and still keep under the quota.

The question is whether we want to flood the state with hundreds of clubs or whether it is better just the way it is now. I do not see any alternative for myself and I hope the majority of the Assemblymen here on both sides of the House will see fit to vote down this taking the clubs out of the quota, because on the whole I think it would do more harm than it would good.

Again I say I sympathize in a way with some of these service clubs, particularly those that have not being granted a license because the quota is filled. I still think the system we have now is better than it would be if you opened up the quota and left the so-called legitimate clubs come in.

I, too, was trained as a lawyer like some of you and I know that the word "legitimate" can cover a multitude of sins, just like the Majority Leader has said, and the word "illegitimate" can mean several different things, it depends upon how the jury intreprets it.

I think for the benefit of the people of Pennsylvania we will be better off if we keep the laws just the way they are.

Therefore, I am going to ask all of you who feel you can to vote down this bill.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time in support of the bill that is before us, primarily so because I do not believe it will so greatly increase the number of licensed clubs in the state, but it will remedy a situation that has developed in the last ten years where many new housing developments have been built.

At one time we had large areas of land just outside of the urban centers which were not populated. However, at the present time many of those areas are populated because of the erection of new housing developments. We find that social groups have not been able to procure licenses in those areas inasmuch as they are in a township where there has been an oversubscription of licenses in other given parts of that township.

We find organizations, fraternal, veterans and others, who would like to have a social gathering place, which they are denied because of the inclusion of clubs in the quota law by our appellate court.

I am not afraid of too many licenses being issued, because where there is an over subscription of licenses already competition, the law of supply and demand, takes care of the situation. However, we can by acting favorably on this legislation take care of those areas where we have had an influx of population and have had groups formed that want a place to gather and to meet socially so that they do not have to travel the width and breath of the land in order to enjoy their social pastimes.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the Members to vote for this bill for a particular reason. Out of World War II came an exclusive World War II veterans organization known as AMVETS. Due to the fact that these AMVETS posts in Pennsylvania were not able to organize and apply for licenses prior to the inclusion of clubs in the quota, this World War II veterans organization has been denied the privilege of having its posts operate in a great many parts of this state.

This organization has been chartered by the Congress of the United States, it has been recognized and they need, at least for a period of a year or two, an open quota so they can establish their veterans organization along with the American Legion and the VFW.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars also find themselves in pretty much the same situation as AMVETS inasmuch as the VFW is open to membership only to those veterans who served on foreign soil. During World War II there were an unlimited number of these individuals, and in the larger communities the VFW was able to establish posts which could get their licenses under the membership created by World War I.

However, with the coming and ending of World War II, the members who became eligible to membership in VFW increased by leaps and bounds so that many small hamlets, many small villages, were then able to sustain a Veterans of Foreign Wars post. However, there again they did not have the time to get their posts properly organized.

This bill would allow the Veterans of Foreign Wars, which is a legitimate veterans organization doing many good things for the veterans as well as for the public at large, and also the AMVETS, which is an exclusive World War II veterans organization, to secure licenses.

I think it is only fair to allow this door to be open for a while at least, in order to permit these two groups to come within the quota.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, as to House Bill 454, dealing with clubs in Pennsylvania, do you recall that when we first passed the quota law clubs were not considered under the quota? In some counties the judges ruled that clubs were not under the quota law, in other counties the judges ruled they were under the quota law. Then we finally got it to the Superior Court, and they ruled the intent of the Legislature was that clubs should come under the quota law.

I disagree with the ruling of the court at that time because I happened to be a Member of the Legislature when the quota law came into existence. I know definitely the intent of the Legislature was that clubs did not come under the quota law.

I received some mail telling what would happen in Pennsylvania if we pass this legislation in regard to clubs. May I say to the Liquor Control Board and to the authorities that under the present law which we now have they can eliminate certain clubs in this state if they see fit, because those clubs are not operating strictly according to the letter of the law.

So I say to you today, I feel that we should say to the courts of Pennsylvania and to the Liquor Control Board that the intent of the Legislature, in the first place was that clubs should not come under the quota law. If they enforce the laws which now exist regarding clubs, I see no reason why clubs should come under this quota law.

I therefore ask you to vote for this legislation.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, as past National Vice Commander of AMVETS I rise to concur with what Mr. Lopresti said about veterans of World War II. They are in a very unique position. When World War II was over, the only way they could get a club license was to pay five, six, anywhere up to ten thousand dollars, for a license.

With the bill we pust passed in the House last week, or the week previous, the same thing occured there. If those clubs want a license they have to pay the price they are asking for one today, which is anywhere from eight to ten thousand dollars, depending upon where it is located. As far as New York state is concerned, most of the Members of the House know that the saloons in New York are open until 4:00 o'clock in the morning and that they are open on Sundays. So as far as clubs are concerned in New York, it does not mean much.

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Speaker, I think my record here on liquor bills has been just about perfect, but I believe this is one time when we should help to adjust an inequity. I am going to vote for this bill.

Mr. McINROY. Mr. Speaker, just answering this rather clever argument about the AMVETS, I would like to put myself on record that I have nothing against the AMVETS, and I presume probably everyone in this group feels the same.

We would like to do anything reasonable we can to help them, but it reminds me of the old story of the farmer. His pigs one day got under the barn and he could not see any way to get his pigs out from under the barn, so he burned down the barn to get the pigs. He did get the pigs, but they were burned to a crisp.

In the anxiety of some here to help the AMVETS we would open the club quota wide in Pennsylvania. Again I think it is a mistake. I am for the AMVETS. They can join the American Legion or some other group, but to open it wide just to help one group, I think would be a serious mistake.

One of the proponents of the bill has said, let these thousands of clubs come in in competition with the legitimate places and let them run in competition against each other in the hope, no doubt, that in time some will run out the others.

Regardless of what the intent of the Legislature was when the bill was passed a few years ago, I think that the quota law has been and is now the most satisfactory solution of this problem.

Therefore, I ask you to vote against the bill.

Mr. POMEROY. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria. Mr. Lopresti.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. POMEROY. Mr. Speaker, I am just curious about this bill. As far as legislative intent, if the bill is to help the veterans organizations, could that not have been written in the original bill or could not the bill have been amended at the present time to exempt veterans organizations?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, unfortunately, there is some question about the constitutionality of a bill which would be for a special group. Because of the constitutional problem involved we cannot limit it to veterans groups. If it were at all possible, I would be glad to do it.

Mr. POMEROY. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, in rebuttal I would like to point out that my best guess is that of the 4,600 clubs in Pennsylvania not more than twenty per cent of them are veterans organizations. I believe if this bill should become law and every veterans organization that could be licensed would be licensed under this bill, there would be in the neighborhood of four or five thousand of what we call one-man clubs, or clubs that are not legitimate in the strict sense of the word even though they do conform with the legal requirements.

I believe and I admit there are inequities with respect to some veterans organizations throughout the State. I deplore that situation as much as anybody else, but you cannot open the floodgates and create disadvantages far outweighing any advantages when considering a piece of legislation.

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, I happen to be one of the sponsors of this bill and I hope the remarks that have been made in facor of it will convince the majority of those sitting here to vote in favor of a bill which gives people the right to do things strictly in accordance with the law.

All clubs are guided strictly in accord with the law, and it is up to the law enforcement officers to see that they do so. You read in the papers pretty regularly now that we are having speakeasies again in Pennsylvania. Who is to blame for the speakeasy? If we had these clubs in many of these situations, it would give a group of people who want to do the right thing and who are good citizens an opportunity to form a club and get a license and function like others.

I belong to three clubs in my neighborhood just three squares apart and I defy anybody to say that those clubs are not legitimate clubs. There never has been any trouble in them. They are a group that sticks together. They do not only run the club, you understand, their activities are also charitable, and they are very active in civic affairs in the community. I am saying that if any of the new clubs which would be formed go wrong, we should not blame it on the law, we should blame it on the people whom we pay with our taxes to see that the law is enforced.

One time in my experience I happened to be in one of the clubs of which I am a member and a Liquor Control man came in and he congratulated us on the way we operated our place. We own the property. We pay our taxes. In other words—I will use that big word—we are a legitimate business club for the benefit of the people who like to belong to clubs.

I am asking you to consider the bill along those lines.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 503, as follows:

An Act amending the act of July 18 1917 (P L 1043) entitled "An act establishing a public school employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon boards having the employment of public school employes exempting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" by authorizing the election of options by certain contributors at any time prior to retirement or death and providing a presumption of an election in certain cases

Section 1 The act approved July 18 1917 (P L 1043) entitled "An act establishing a public school employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon boards having the employment of public school employes exempting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" is hereby amended by adding after Section 15 a new section to read as follows

Section 15.1 Any contributor who is entitled to retire under the provisions of this act by reason of having completed twenty-five (25) years of total school service or by reason of having reached superannuation retirement age may file with the Retirement Board a written application for retirement in the form required for such application but requesting that such retirement shall become effective as of the time of his death electing one of the options provided in Section 15 and nominating a beneficiary under said option as required in said Section

In all such cases the application shall be held by the Retirement Board until the contributor shall file a later application for retirement or until the death of the contributor occurring while in school service at which time his retirement shall become effective with the same benefits to the designated beneficiary as if the contributor had retired on the day immediately preceding his death

Any contributor who is entitled to retire under the provisions of the act by reason of having completed twenty-five (25) years of total school service or by reason of having become eligible for superannuation retirement and who shall die while in school service before filing with the Retirement Board a written application for retirement as heretofore provided or who within ninety (90) days after the termination of his school service and prior to the date of his death had not entered upon withdrawal or superannuation retirement allowance or withdrawn his accumulated deductions shall be considered as having elected to receive the actuarial equivalent of his or her full superannuation allowance under Option 1 as provided in Section 15 of this act as of the date of his or her death In such event payment under Option 1 shall be made to the beneficiary designated in the nomination of beneficiary form by the member and filed with the Retirement Board If said beneficiary has predeceased the contributor payment under Option 1 shall be made to the legal representative of said contributor

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 563, as follows:

An Act amending the act of July 18 1917 (P L 1043) entitled "An act establishing a public school employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon boards having the employment of public school employes exempting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" providing credit for retirement purposes for out-of-state service in certain cases

Section 1 Section 11.1 of the act of July 18 1917 (P L 1043) entitled "An act establishing a public school employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon boards having the employment of public school employes exempting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" amended by the act of July 28 1953 (P L 684) is amended to read

Section 11.1 Any contributor who has had service in states territories or areas under the jurisdiction of the United States besides this Commonwealth as an employe in any public school or institution or who has served as an administrator teacher or instructor in any branch of the military forces of the United States or served as an administrator teacher or instructor for any agency or department of the government of the United States whether or not such area was under the jurisdiction of the United States for a period of at least one year and who (i) submits proof satisfactory to the retirement board of all or part of such service (ii) files an affidavit in the form prescribed by the retirement board stating that he or she is not entitled to a deferred retirement allowance for such service and in the case of contributors becoming members after the effective date of this amending act that he or she has not forfeited any vested right to a deferred retirement allowance for such service and (iii) pay or agrees to pay as hereinafter provided into the School Employes' Retirement Fund an amount equal to the contributions which would have been collected from such contributor for the period of such service had such service been rendered in this Commonwealth at his or her earnable salary for the school year in which application for credit for out-of-state service is made figured at the contributor's current percentage of salary deduction together with an additional amount as the equivalent of the contributions of the school district and the Commonwealth on account of such service shall be credited with such years of service for retirement purposes Such credit shall not exceed ten years nor the number of years between the age of the contributor at the time he or she becomes a member and the age at retirement nor the number of years of credited service in this Commonwealth

Aplication in writing for [such] credit for service in states territories or areas under the jurisdiction of the United States besides this Commonwealth as an employe in any public school or institution or as a teacher administrator or instructor in any branch of the military forces of the United States or for any agency or department of the government of the United States whether or not such area was under the jurisdiction of the United States must be made to the retirement board within three years after the applicant becomes a member of the retirement system or in the case of applicants who are members on [the effective date] or before September 1 1958 of this amending act within three years from that date

The contributions required to be paid for such service credit may be paid in a lump sum or by installments agreed upon by the contributor and the retirement board Installment payments must begin within the period of three years from the effective date of this act or before the contributor has completed three years of service in this Commonwealth All such contributions shall be credited in equal amounts to the members annuity savings account and the Contingent Reserve Account if a new entrant or the State Annuity Reserve Account Number Two if a present employe In the event that a contributor withdraws from the retirement system or retires on superannuation or disability retirement before such contributions are fully paid the employe's annuity and his State Annuity shall be credited with the number of years of out-state service or fractional parts thereof for which he has purchased credit to the date of application for retirement In the event that a contributor separates from the retirement system otherwise than by superannuation disability or withdrawal allowance the amount paid by him under this section as the equivalent of the contributions of the school district and the Commonwealth shall be paid to him or to a designated beneficiary at his request Any contributor who has purchased an annuity under the provisions of subsection six point one of section eight of this act may forfeit such annuity and direct that the money paid into the School Employes' Retirement Fund therefor be applied to the contributions required by this section

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Withdrawal

Section 12 * * * * *

2 [Should an employe so separated from the school service return within five years and restore to the School Employes' Retirement Fund to the credit of the annuity savings account his or her accumulated deductions as they were at the time of his or her separation the annuity rights forfeited by him or her at that time shall be restored

Each employe who separated from school service at any time and shall have returned or shall return to school service prior to July first one thousand nine hundred and fifty-three shall at retirement for superannuation be entitled to have full credit for each year of service in the public schools of Pennsylvania Provided

(a) He or she shall have rendered not less than fifteen years of service in the public schools of Pennsylvania prior to the retirement and

(b) He or she shall have restored to the School Employes' Retirement Fund to the credit of the annuity savings account before the first day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty-three his or her accumulated deductions as they were at the time of his or her separation

Each employe who separates from school service after the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight and who returns to school service after a longer absence than five years shall have his or her annuity rights restored in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph provided he or she fulfills the conditions named in paragraph (a) of this clause and provided he or she shall have restored to the School Employes' Retirement Fund to the credit of the annuity savings account within two years after such return to service his or her accumulated deductions as they were at the time of his or her separation and in addition thereto shall have left with the retirement board at least twenty per centum of his or her accumulated deductions at the time of his or her separation and shall return to service prior to the age of sixty years]

Each employe who separates or has separated from the school service at any time and returns or has returned to school service shall have the annuity rights forfeited by him at the time of separation restored and shall at retirement for superannuation be entitled to have full credit for each year of service in the public schools of Pennsylvania if

(1) he shall have rendered not less than fifteen years of service in the public schools of Pennsylvania prior to retirement

(2) he shall have restored to the retirement fund to the credit of the annuity savings account his accumulated deductions as they were at the time of his separation within three years after his return to service and in the case of employes who are members of the retirement system at the effective date of this amendment within three years after that date

(3) He shall have rendered not less than three years of service immediately prior to retirement

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this act any employe who shall have rendered service in the public schools of Pennsylvania prior to the first day of July one thousand nine hundred nineteen and has not been given credit for such service shall at retirement for super annuation be given full credit for each year of such prior service and shall receive for such prior service a further State annuity to be computed in the same manner as is herein provided for present employes

In no case shall an employe who has separated from school service and who later returned to school service after five or more years of absence be eligible to retirement on account of disability until he or she shall have rendered at least three years of service subsequent to such return

In any case the restoration of the accumulated deductions provided herein may be made by the payment of a lump sum or any actuarial equivalent approved by the retirement board

[Subject to such rules and regulations as the retirement board may adopt the provisions of this act shall be applicable beginning July first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five to all who are on the retired list of Pennsylvania public school employes at the time this bill becomes a law]

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1130, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 1043) entitled "An act establishing a public school employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon boards having the employment of public school employes exempting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" by permitting employes to make up back payments to the retirement system from the time they enter school service and securing to such employes the full benefits of the retirement system from the time they entered school service

Section 1 Subsection 6.2 of section 8 of the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 1043) entitled "An act establishing a public school employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing employes defining uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon boards having the employment of public school employes exempting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" as last amended by the act approved the eighteenth day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two (P. L. 2149) is amended to read as follows

6.2 Employes who desire to receive credit for school service rendered prior to the passage of this amendment may pay in addition to the regular contribution required under clause six of this section into the fund created by the act through the Department of Revenue a sum equal to all the back payments which such employe would have made had he or she become a member of the retirement association at the time of his or her employment Payment of such back payments shall entitle such contributor to all rights and benefits which would have accrued had the back payments been made in the regular course of employment Such back payments shall be paid by the employe before the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-[three] eight

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

An Act amending the act of May 31, 1947 (P. L. 377) entitled "A supplement to the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 858) entitled 'An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties' permitting certain State employes who during the war were loaned to the United States Government and who have now returned to State employment to pay into the retirement fund the amount of the contributions they would have made during such period with interest and prescribing how the Commonwealth shall build up the necessary State annuity reserves" providing for credit for time spent by employes of the Bureau of Unemployment Security in the Department of Labor and Industry as employes of the United States Government

Section 1 Clause 2 of section 1 and sections 2 and 3 act of May 31, 1947 (P. L. 377) entitled "A supplement to the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 858) entitled 'An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties' permitting certain State employes who during the war were loaned to the United States Government and who have now returned to State employment to pay into the retirement fund the amount of the contributions they would have made during such period and prescribing how the Commonwealth shall build up the necessary State annuity reserves" are amended to read

Section 1 Definitions The following words and phrases as used in this act unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context shall have the following meanings

2 "State employe who was loaned to the United States Government" shall mean (i) any person who was a "State employe" as defined in the act to which this is a supplement and who was an employe of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania paid on a yearly or monthly basis and was loaned to The United States Government on or after January first one thousand nine hundred forty-two pursuant to the telegram from The President of the United States dated the nineteenth day of December one thousand nine hundred forty-one to the Governor of the Commonwealth requesting the loan of certain employes to The United States Government and who has now been returned to State employment in accordance with public law five hundred forty-nine of the seventy-ninth congress of The United States (ii) any State employe as defined in the act to which this is a supplement who is employed in the Bureau of Employment Security of the Department of Labor and Industry and who was employed between July first one thousand nine hundred thirty-four and November fifteenth one thousand nine hundred forty-six by The United States Government performing employment service functions in Pennsylvania offices of the National Reemployment Service or the State Employment Service of the Commonwealth and who during that time was not covered by any other retirement or pension system and including any employe who while the employment service was on loan to The United States Government was hired by The United States Government and was transferred to the Commonwealth on November sixteenth one thousand nine hundred forty-six in accordance with public law five hundred forty-nine of the seventy-ninth congress of The United States but shall not include any person who while in the employment of The United States Government with respect to such employment became a member of any retirement or pension system financed in whole or in part by funds of The United States Government and continued to receive credit in such other system for such service after his employment by the Commonwealth

Section 2 (a) Any State employe who was loaned to the United States Government as hereinbefore defined and who has returned to State employment may elect to pay into the State Employes' Retirement Fund a sum equal to what would have been his total salary deductions during the said period of [loan to] employment by the United States Government calculated on the basis of his salary on the [date of such loan] first date of his employment with the United States Government Such election shall be in writing on the form prescribed by the board and it shall be filed with the board within [sixty (60) days] six months after the effective date of this amending act The amount of said back payments may be paid and credited to the annuity savings account either in a lump sum or by future increased deductions from his salary in such amounts as may be agreed upon by the State employe and the board but in no event shall such increased payroll deductions be in amounts less than sufficient to pay such total back payments by the time the member reaches superannuation retirement age

(b) If wage records are not available for the entire time of the person's employment the deductions for the period for which records are not available shall be computed by using the average of the earliest two year period for which records are available

(c) The period of service of any State employe to whom this act applies while in the employment of the United States Government shall not be included in determining additional State annuity on retirement under the provisions of clause (d) of subsection (2) of section 13 of the act to which this is a supplement as added by the act of January nineteenth one thousand nine hundred fifty-two (P. L. 2176)

Section 3 Moneys required to build up the reserves necessary for the payment of State annuities of such employes [loaned to the Federal Government] who take advantage of this act shall be payable from the [Administrative] Administration Fund created under section six hundred two of the Unemployment Compensation Law approved the fifth day of December one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (P. L. 2897 1937) The right of any State employe to take advantage of the provisions of these amendments shall be contingent on moneys in the Administration Fund being available for the payments required by this section

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

All such claims for reimbursement shall be made upon a form to be furnished by the Board of Finance and Revenue and shall include in addition to such other information as the board may by regulation prescribe the name and address of the claimant the period of time and the number of gallons of liquid fuels used for which reimbursement is claimed a description of the farm machinery aircraft or aircraft engine in which such liquid fuels have been used and the purposes for which such machinery aircraft or aircraft engine has been used the size of the farm and part thereof in cultivation on which such liquid fuels have been used Each such claim shall contain statements that the liquid fuels for which reimbursement is claimed have been used only for purposes for which reimbursements are permitted that records of the amounts of such fuels used in each piece of farm machinery aircraft or aircraft engine have been kept and that no part of such claim has been paid except as stated Each such claim shall contain a declaration that it and accompanying receipts are true and correct to the best of claimant's knowledge and shall be signed by the claimant or the person claiming on his behalf Every claim shall be accompanied by receipts indicating that the liquid fuels or excess liquid fuels tax was paid on the liquid fuels for which reimbursement is claimed All records of purchases of liquid fuels and use in each tractor or powered machinery aircraft or aircraft engine shall be kept for a period of two years Every such claim shall be made annually for the preceding year ending on the thirtieth day of June and shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue not later than the thirtieth day of September of each year and the board shall refuse to consider any claim received or post-marked later than such date The claimant shall satisfy the board that he has paid the tax and that the liquid fuels have been consumed by him for purposes for which reimbursements are permitted under this section The board may require any claimant to furnish such further information proof or fuller explanation as it shall deem necessary The action of the Board of Finance and Revenue in granting or refusing reimbursement shall be final The board shall deduct the sum of one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) which shall be considered as a filing fee from every claim for reimbursement granted Such filing fees are hereby specifically appropriated to the Board of Finance and Revenue and to the Department of Revenue for expenses of any nature whatsoever incurred in the administration of the reimbursement provisions of this act The Board of Finance and Revenue shall have the power to refer to the Department of Revenue for investigation any claim for reimbursement filed under the provisions of this act and it shall be the duty of the Department of Revenue to investigate such application and report to the Board of Finance and Revenue relative thereto Any person making any false or fraudulent statement for the purpose of obtaining reimbursement shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1000) or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both

All refunds and reimbursements of moneys allowed hereunder shall be paid from the Motor License Fund and the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund in amounts equal to the original distribution and payment of such moneys into said funds Provided [however] That reimbursement for taxes paid on liquid fuels consumed in the operation of tractors and powered machinery for purposes relating to the actual production of farm products and reimbursement for taxes paid on liquid fuels used in aircraft or aircraft engines shall be paid out of the Motor License Fund

As much of the moneys from time to time in the Motor License Fund and the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund as may be necessary is hereby appropriated to the Board of Finance and Revenue for the purpose of making refunds and reimbursements as herein authorized Estimates of the amounts to be expended from these funds for refunds and reimbursements from time to time by the board shall be submitted to the Governor for his approval or disapproval as in the case of other appropriations to administrative departments boards and commissions and it shall be unlawful for the Auditor General to honor any requisition of the Board of Finance and Revenue for the expenditure of moneys hereunder in excess of the estimates approved by the Governor

The provisions of this section relating to partial reimbursement of taxes paid on liquid fuels consumed in the operation of tractors and powered machines for purposes relating to the actual production of farm products shall apply only to liquid fuels purchased on and after the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-nine and before the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-five

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I first want to apologize to the Members for having to listen to this horrible voice of mine, but there is not much I can do about it. I have been doing my best to rest it and not speak much the last three days, but I have not suceeded very well.

The bill now before us, and House Bill 1942 following it, are companion bills and they relate to the aviation gasoline tax. They would change the law of Pennsylvania to impose a tax of 1.5 cents per gallon on all liquid fuels used as fuel in aircraft or aircraft engines in place of the present six cent tax. This sounds like a drastic reduction which would result in a drastic reduction in revenues from this source, but according to the memo which was forwarded to me by General Biddle, the Chairman of the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission, that is not so.

I would like to read to you for your information parts of this memorandum in order that you might better understand what these two bills do. He states:

> "These bills levy a permanent tax of 1½ cents per gallon on all liquid fuels used as fuel in aircraft or aircraft engines. Aviation fuel is not adequately defined under the present law to include kerosene and other fuels now used to propel jet aircraft. Also under existing law, the scheduled airlines are permitted to become Licensed Distributors of Liquid Fuels and thereby to purchase tax free gasoline and subsequently pay the tax only on the number of gallons consumed within the borders of the Commonwealth. Millions of tax free gallons were purchased in Pennsylvania for use in other states.
> Pennsylvania is entirely surrounded by states which place absolutely no tax on aviation fuel or else refund the full amount of the tax.
> As a result, the scheduled airlines as Licensed Distributors purchase more gasoline in the Commonwealth than they otherwise would, but such procedure is manifestly unfair to the private aircraft owner who cannot qualify as a Licensed Distributor and therefore has to pay the present six cents per gallon tax on every gallon purchased whethehr he uses it in Pennsylvania or beyond in surrounding tax free states.

These two bills—I am not quoting now—are designed to correct this situation. It is my understanding that if this bill were in effect during the year 1955 at 1.5 cents per gallon there were 25.5 million gallons sold for these purposes and the revenue would have been $382,000. It has been estimated that in 1956 under this law 30 million gallons will be sold, with a revenue of $450,000. I believe the revenue during the year 1955 from this source was about $520,000, so there will be a reduction of some $100,000 in revenue immediately, or in the year 1956, but in the years to come with this change in the law it is hoped the revenue will increase.

He states further in his memo:

> "It should be noted that even at the six cents per gallon tax rate that revenue from aviation fuel taxes falls far short for the purpose of matching Federal and local funds under the Federal Airport Aid Program. These matching funds by the Commonwealth have come from specific General Fund Appropriations for this purpose.
> "Should increased sales of aviation of fuel produce in 1956 more revenue than estimated based upon current gallonage sold, it is planned to recommend to the 1957 General Assembly a further reduction of the tax rate per gallon on aviation fuel.

It is his opinion, I gather from this memo, that the aviation program, aircraft program, in Pennsylvania will not be hampered or made to suffer in any way by this change.

Therefore, I ask the membership to vote for both House Bills 1941 and 1942.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I was going to try and save the Majority Leader's voice. I think this needs just a little bit more explanation.

I am going to support the bills on the assumption that the information we are getting is correct, but I do think the Members, particularly in the rural districts, should know a little bit more about this bill.

Under the present six cents a gallon tax the airlines do not pay that tax for any gas consumed outside of Pennsylvania. I think that should be known. They buy gas in Pennsylvania, but they only pay for the gas used in flying over Pennsylvania, they do not pay for any gas they do not consume in Pennsylvania.

Something else I think we have to be very careful about is this—and I can only say that the figures the Majority Leader has are figures which have been given to him as an estimate, they are estimated figures. The present tax money which is collected goes back to the municipality where the tax is collected, one-half of it. That has been a policy of the Commission. When this bill goes into effect, we will be collecting 1.5 cents per gallon and your municipality which collects the money will be getting a refund of three-quarters of a cent per gallon, which will be used on a matching basis on a safety program that the Aeronautics Commission has. Whether or not the money is coming in, that again is an estimate, and you have to keep that in mind. We have never had enough money come in from the gas tax to operate the Aeronautics Commission. I happen to be a Member of it and I say with great pride that I think the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission has done one of the best jobs in the nation. We have more airfields, smaller airfields, in Pennsylvania than any state in the nation. We have always had to have a fund—I should not say that. Last year I do not believe we had any contributions from the General Fund, if I am correct, or the biennium before, we had enough money coming in from the tax. This will mean, and the bill has to ride with it, an appropriation bill of around $2 million coming from the General Fund, which money is used on a matching basis with the Federal Government for construction of airports. Now if these two bills, 1941 and 1942, and the appropriation bill which goes along with it for $2 million, remain as is and the estimates which have been given the Majority Leader and myself are accurate estimates, I do believe there will be sufficient funds for the rural areas to get safety programs for their airports. But if these bills are changed in any way so that these things would vary, I would say if they come back to us with any changes as a matter of policy the House should seriously consider the change before we concur in any amendments. We believe they are honest estimates which have been given to us, but keep in mind they are estimates.

I only bring this to your attention so that if anything happens in the future we do not say we should not have done it. They are estimates given to us by the departments, and we hope they are true.

There is going to be more fuel consumed on the basis of all airlines who are now using jet airliners which will use kerosene. The information they give us is that they use two gallons of kerosene for every gallon of gasoline they used to use. Of course, keep in mind too, you are not going to get three cents out of it because you are losing six cents on every gallon of gas they used to use, so you are only getting half as much back from them even though they are burning twice as much fuel.

I think I am right in those statements, am I not, Mr. Majority Leader?

I just bring this out to clarify it for the rural Members, because they have been down to my desk wanting to know if this is going to hurt their airports. If the estimates are true, we will be short $100,000 on our safety program. Whether it will hurt you remains to be seen, I cannot tell you.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1942, as follows:

An Act to amend the title and sections two and four of the act approved the fourteenth day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two (1951-1952 P. L. 1965) entitled "An act imposing a permanent and temporary

State tax on fuels used within the Commonwealth in internal combustion engines for the generation of power to propel motor vehicles using the public highways providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring dealer-users to secure licenses and to file bonds as a guarantee of payment of taxes penalties interest fines uncollectible check fees and Attorney General's fees to file reports and to compile and retain certain records requiring registration of carriers for hire imposing duties on such persons requiring persons selling or delivering fuels to licensed dealer-users to furnish information imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on State officers and departments providing for refunds of taxes penalties and interest illegally or erroneously collected from licensees and providing penalties" by imposing a tax on fuels used in aircraft or aircraft engines fixing the amount thereof and changing definitions of dealer-users fuels and use

Section 1 The title of the act approved the fourteenth day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two (1951-1952 P. L. 1965) entitled "An act imposing a permanent and a temporary State tax on fuels used within the Commonwealth in internal combustion engines for the generation of power to propel motor vehicles using the public highways providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring dealer-users to secure licenses and to file bonds as a guarantee of payment of taxes penalties interest fines uncollectible check fees and Attorney General's fees to file reports and to compile and retain certain records requiring registration of carriers for hire imposing duties on such persons requiring persons selling or delivering fuels to licensed dealers-users to furnish information imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on State officers and departments providing for refunds of taxes penalties and interest illegally or erroneously collected from licensees and providing penalties" is hereby amended to read as follows

An Act imposing a permanent and a temporary State tax on fuels used within the Commonwealth in internal combustion engines for the generation of power to propel motor vehicles using the public highways imposing a permanent tax on the fuels used in aircraft or aircraft engines providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring dealer-users to secure licenses and to file bonds as a guarantee of payment of taxes penalties interest fines uncollectible check fees and Attorney General's fees to file reports and to compile and retain certain records requiring registration of carriers for hire imposing duties on such persons requiring persons selling or delivering fuels to licensed dealer-users to furnish information imposing certain costs on counties confering powers and imposing duties on State officers and departments providing for refunds of taxes penalties and interest illegally or erroneously collected from licenses and providing penalties

Section 2 The definitions of "Dealer-User" "Fuels" and "Use" in Section two of said act are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 Definitions The following words terms and phrases when used in this act shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section except in those instances where the context clearly indicates a different meaning

"Dealer-user" shall mean and include any person who delivers or places fuels into the fuel supply tanks or other fueling receptacles or devices of an aircraft or aircraft engine or of a motor vehicle or who uses fuels within the meaning of the word "use" as defined in this section

"Fuels" shall mean and include all combustible gases and liquids used for the generation of power in aircraft or aircraft engines or used in an internal combustion engine for the generation of power to propel vehicles of any kind or character on the public highways except such fuels as are defined as liquid fuels by the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 149) known as "The Liquid Fuels Tax Act" and its amendments

"Use" shall mean and include (a) the importation into this Commonwealth of fuels in the fuel supply tanks or other fueling receptacles or devices of a motor vehicle in excess of fifty (50) gallons and (b) the delivery or placing of fuels into the fuel supply tanks or other fueling receptacles or devices of an aircraft or aircraft engine or of a motor vehicle in this Commonwealth for use in whole or part for the generation of power in the aircraft or aircraft engine or in whole or in part for the generation of power to propel such motor vehicle on the public highways of this Commonwealth The delivery of fuels into such supply tanks or other fueling receptacles or devices shall constitute a conclusive presumption that the fuel so delivered is to be used in propelling such motor vehicles on the public highways of this Commonwealth or for the generation of power in aircraft or aircraft engines

Section 3 Section four of said act as last amended by the act approved the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred fifty-five (Pamphlet Laws) (Act No. 30) and the act approved the third day of September one thousand nine hundred fifty-five (Pamphlet Laws) (Act No. 138) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4 Imposition of Tax Exemptions A permanent excise tax at the rate of three cents ($.03) a gallon or fractional part thereof is hereby imposed on all dealer-users upon the use [as herein defined] of fuel within this Commonwealth except the use of fuel in aircraft or aircraft engines to be computed in the manner hereinafter set forth The tax herein imposed shall not apply on fuels not within the taxing power of this Commonwealth under the Commerce Clause of the Constitution of the United States The tax herein imposed and assessed shall be paid to the Commonwealth but once in respect to any fuels used within the Commonwealth No tax is hereby imposed upon (1) any fuel that is used by or sold and delivered to the United States government when such sales and deliveries are supported by documentary evidence satisfactory to the department or (2) upon any fuel not in excess of fifty (50) gallons brought into this Commonwealth in the fuel supply tanks or other fueling receptacles or devices of a motor vehicle or (3) upon any fuel used by or sold or delivered for use in farm machinery or equipment engaged in the production or harvesting of farm or agricultural products involving the use of the public highways within a ten (10) mile radius of the domicile of the owner of the machinery or equipment when such sales and deliveries are supported by documentary evidence satisfactory to the department or (4) upon any fuel used by or sold or delivered to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and its political subdivisions when such sales and deliveries are supported by documentary evidence satisfactory to the department

In addition to such tax an additional State excise tax of two cents ($.02) a gallon or fractional part thereof is hereby imposed and assessed on all dealer-users upon the use [as herein defined] of fuel within this Commonwealth except the use of fuel in aircraft or aircraft engines within the limitations of the provisions of this section for the period beginning February first one thousand nine hundred fifty-two and ending on the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred fifty-seven

In addition to the foregoing taxes a further additional State excise tax of one cent ($.01) a gallon or fractional part thereof is hereby imposed and assessed on all dealer-users upon the use [as herein defined] of the fuel within this Commonwealth except the use of fuel in aircraft or aircraft engines within the limitations of the provisions of this section for the period beginning the [tenth day after the effective date of this amending act] thirteenth day of September one thousand nine hundred fifty-five and ending at the end of two years thereafter

In lieu of the foregoing taxes a permanent excise tax at the rate of one and one-half cents a gallon or fractional part thereof is hereby imposed on all dealer-users upon the use of fuel in aircraft or aircraft engines to be computed in the manner hereinafter set forth The tax herein imposed shall not apply on fuels not within the taxing power of this Commonwealth under the Commerce Clause of the Constitution of the United States The tax herein imposed and assessed shall be paid to the Commonwealth but once in respect to any fuels No tax is hereby imposed upon (1) any fuel that is used by or sold and delivered to the United States government when such sales and deliveries are supported by documentary evidence satisfactory to the department or (2) upon any fuel brought into this Commonwealth in the fuel supply tanks or other fueling receptacles or devices of an aircraft or aircraft engine or (3) upon any fuel used or sold or delivered to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and its political subdivisions for official use when such sales and deliveries are supported by documentary evidence satisfactory to the department

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2024, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Forests and Waters for the development of Erie harbor and land adjacent thereto

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 In order that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as a whole and the counties of western and northwestern Pennsylvania may through the port of Erie be placed in a position to take full advantage of economic benefits envisioned from the St. Lawrence seaway project the sum of one million seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($1,750,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Forests and Waters to be expended for dredging excavation and fill in and adjacent to the harbor at Erie and for the payment of all costs and expenses incurred in connection therewith

Section 2 Expenditures of the funds appropriated in section 1 shall be made by the Department of Forests and Waters for the general purposes identified as stage 1 in the engineering study made for the city of Erie and titled "Port of Erie Study November 1955" and consisting of dredging in the port of Erie and excavation and fill of lands adjacent thereto to be used for a marine terminal and industrial development area

Section 3 Expenditures of the funds appropriated by this act shall be contingent upon the city of Erie Erie County or the inhabitants thereof arranging for the financing and construction of the wharf mooring fixtures and fendering also included in stage 1 of the aforementioned engineering study and estimated to cost approximately four hundred and sixty

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, just to bring to the attention of the Members on this side of the House especially, this bill is to provide funds with which to develop the Erie Harbor. As you know, with the Seaway coming in it is vitally important that we do enact this bill.

I do know there had been some misunderstanding in the beginning with regard to it, especially on our side of the House, but that has been all cleared up by amendments.

I certainly hope the Members on this side will give it their solid support. I imagine that "Julian" has taken very good care of the other side of the House. It is certainly very much needed legislation.

Mr. Speaker, we would be perfectly willing to take the last roll call on this bill.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, our present plans call for no session tomorrow, not even a consent session. We are planning to have a two-day meeting next week, both of which days will be consent calendar days.

However, I am requesting every person who has been appointed to a Conference Committee to attend the session next week and get together with the other conferees in order that decisions might be made and conference reports prepared.

At the present time the House leadership is planning to have a four-day working session starting on April 3rd, which is Tuesday of the following week.

Unless the conferees come here next week and meet and either adopt a report or decide that they cannot do so, we will not be prepared to do business as we should on April 3rd. If we do not get a lot of business done the week of April 3rd, I am afraid we will be here until the end of April instead of the middle of April.

If things can be carried out as planned, I think we can safely count on getting out of this House finally sometime around April 11th or 12th. It will take some work and I am begging every Member of a conference committee to be here next week even though it is a consent calendar.

We have requested the leadership of the Senate to make a similar statement, and I know it is being done. I know the Senators will cooperate, those that are on conference committees, and they will attend the sessions.

I want to reiterate that next week's session will be a two-day session and that it will be a consent calendar.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2055, as follows:

An Act to amend section 9 of the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2057 as follows:

A Supplement to the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred seventeen (Pamphlet Laws 1043) entitled "An act establishing a Public School Employes' Retirement System and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon boards having the employment of public school employes exempting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" by permitting any State employe who is a contributor under the provisions of the State Employes' Retirement System and who was an employe under the Public School Employes' Retirement System and made contributions to the Public School Employes' Retirement Fund on account of such public school service to obtain credit for such service to become a member of and a contributor in the Public School Employes' Retirement Fund and to receive credit for such State service under certain conditions

Section 1 Any State employe who is a contributor on July 1 1956 who as an employe under the public schools was a contributor under the provisions of the Public School Employes' Retirement System and who made contributions and on account of whose service contributions were made by the State and by any school district to the Public School Employes' Retirement Fund on account of the service credited to him under the Public School Employes' Retirement System may request in writing the State Employes' Retirement Board to certify to the Public School Employes' Retirement Board the period of service for which credit has been allowed and to transfer to the Public School Employes' Retirement Fund a sum equal to all contingent and State annuity reserves and the accumulated deductions to the credit of such employe in the State Employes' Retirement Fund as determined by the State Employes' Retirement Fund for the purpose of establishing credit in the Public School Employes' Retirement Association as a public school employe for the service credited under the State Employes' Retirement Fund under the following conditions

(1) There shall be furnished to the Retirement Board of the Public School Employes Retirement System a statement certifying all such service heretofore credited under the State Employes Retirement System which hereafter is to be considered as having been rendered as a public school employe

(2) There shall be transferred to the Public School Employes' Retirement Fund from the State Employes' Retirement Fund an amount equal to all contingent and State annuity reserves and the accumulated deductions to the credit of such contributor in the State Employes' Retirement Association as determined by the State Employes' Retirement Board

(3) The payment into the Public School Employes' Retirement Fund of a sum equal to the amount of back payments which would have been made by such contributor under the rules of the Public School Employes' Retirement Board fixing the entry age and the percentage of salary deductions required of such contributor because of such previous service toward which sum the amount of transferred accumulated deductions shall be applied but any unpaid balance of such back payments may be made in a lump sum or by future increased deductions from the salary of the contributor and such amounts as may be agreed upon by the contributor and the Retirement Board but in no event shall such increased salary deductions be in amounts less than sufficient to pay such balance of back payments by the time the member reaches superannuation retirement age or if the member has reached suprannuation retirement age by payment of such balance of back payments within six months of the date of such transfer and

(4) Further a sum shall be paid into the Public School Employes' Retirement Fund by the contributor sufficient to provide the cost of the additional State annuity related to such previous service for which credit may have been allowed under this act less the sum and the accrued interest thereon transferred from the State Employes' Retirement Fund as the amount equal to all contingent and State annuity reserves to the credit of such contributor Until such further sum is applied towards providing such additional State annuity it shall be separately credited to the account of the contributor in his Member's Annuity Savings Account subject to the rules governing members' accumulated deductions Such further sum may be paid in a lump sum or by future increased deductions from the salary of the contributor in such amounts as may be agreed upon by the contributor and the Retirement Board provided however that in the event the entire amount so paid does not equal the total sum required to provide such additional State annuity related to such previous service such additional State annuity shall be reduced proportionately

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, to preside.

Mr. LOPRESTI IN THE CHAIR.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2096, as follows:

An Act amending the act of June 1 1889 (P. L. 420) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" requiring additional reports and changing the due date of certain payments of capital stock tax and franchise tax and changing the gross receipts fraction applicable to foreign corporations

The General Assembly of the Comomnwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 20 act of June 1 1889 (P L 420) entitled "A further suplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" amended May 16 1945 (P L 606) is amended to read

Section 20 That hereafter except in the case of corporations of the first class nonprofit corporations and cooperative agricultural associations not having capital stock and not conducted for profit banks savings institutions title insurance or trust companies building and loan associations and foreign insurance companies it shall be the duty of every corporation having capital stock every joint-stock association limited partnership and every company whatsoever now or hereafter organized or incorporated by or under any laws of this Commonwealth and of every corporation joint-stock association limited partnership and company whatsoever now or hereafter incorporated or organized by or under the law of any other State or Territory of the United States or by the United States or by any foreign government and doing business in and liable to taxation within this Commonwealth or having capital or property employed or used in this Commonwealth by or in the name of any limited partnership or joint-stock association company or corporation whatsoever association or associations copartnership or copartnerships person or persons or in any other manner to make annually on or before the fifteenth day of March for the calendar year next preceding a report in writing to the Department of Revenue on a form or forms to be prescribed and furnished by it setting forth inaddition to any other information required by the Department of Revenue

First The amount of its capital stock at the close of the year for which report is made together with the highest selling price per share and the average sellinf price thereof during said year

Second Its debt account

Third Its income account together with the disposition of any net income and its profit and loss statement

Fourth Its general balance sheet

Fifth Its real and tangible personal property if any owned and permanently located outside of the Commonwealth and value of the same and the value of the property if any exempt from taxation

Sixth A valuation and appraisal in the manner hereinafter provided of the capital stock of the said corporation company joint-stock association or limited partnership at its actual value in cash as it existed at the close of the year for which the report is made

The affidavit of two of the officers of such corporation limited partnership joint-stock association or company shall be attached to said report Such affidavit shall be in the form required by the Department of Revenue but shall state in addition to any other averments required by the department that with fidelity and according to the best of their knowledge and belief the affiants have estimated valued and appraised as shown in said report the capital stock of the said corporation at its actual value in cash as it existed at the close of the year for which report is made taking into consideration first the average which said stock sold for during the year and second the price or value indicated or measured by net earnings or by the amount of profit made and either declared in dividends expended in betterments or carried into the surplus or sinking fund and third the actual value indicated or measured by consideration of the intrinsic value of its tangible property and assets and of the value of its good will and franchises and privileges as indicated by the material results of their exercise taking also into consideration the amount of its indebtedness

For the purpose of making payments on account of tax payable under this act for the taxable year one thousand nine hundred fifty-six and thereafter it shall also be the duty of every corporation liable to pay tax under this act to transmit in like form and manner an additional tentative report on or before the thirtieth day of April one thousand nine hundred fifty-six and annually thereafter which report shall set forth (1) the capital stock tax or the franchise tax estimated by the corporation to be due for the taxable year next preceding and reported to the department under the provisions of this act (2) the amount of the latest setlement or resettlement of capital stock tax or franchise tax made against the corporation for a preceding year and (3) such other information as the department may require The additional tentative report of any corporation which reports on a fiscal year basis shall be due not later than four months after the end of the next preceding fiscal year Upon the date its tentative report is required herein to be made every corporation shall pay on account of the tax due for the current year either (1) eighty per cent of the amount of the estimated tax as reported for the preceding taxable year or (2) eighty per cent of the amount of the tax last settled or resettled against the corporation for a preceding taxable year whichever amount is greater If the "preceding taxable year" is a portion of the year the eighty per cent payment on account of the current year shall be computed against such multiple of the tax estimated settled or resettled for such preceding taxable year as the entire year bears to the portion of the preceding year for which the tax was estimated settled or resettled

The remaining portion of the tax due for the current year shall be paid upon the date the corporation's annual report thereof is required herein to be made In the event that the tax paid on account with the tentative report is in excess of the amount of tax finally determined to be due the department shall grant a credit to the corporation for the amount of such excess

Interest or penalty assessed by reason of failure to file a tentative report or make a payment on account of the tax shall be assessed in the same manner as now provided by law for capital stock and franchise taxes but such interest and penalty shall not exceed an amount equal to interest and penalty computed on eighty per cent of the tax liability for the current year as finally determined Any interest or penalty imposed in excess of this amount if unpaid may be stricken off or if paid may be credited to the account of the corporation

The time for filing annual reports may be extended taxpayers may be permitted to file their annual and tentative reports on a fiscal year basis the procedure in case the Department of Revenue is not saitsfied with the appraisement made by the officers of the taxpayer and the penalties for failing to file reports and pay taxes shall be as prescribed by law

Section 21 * * *

(b) Every foreign corporation joint-stock association limited partnership and company whatsoever from which a report is required under the twentieth section hereof shall be subject to and pay into the treasury of the Commonwealth annually through the Department of Revenue a franchise tax at the rate of five mills upon a taxable value to be determined in the following manner The actual value of its whole capital stock of all kinds including common special and preferred shall be ascertained in the manner prescribed in the twentieth section of this act and shall then be divided into three equal parts

(1) Of one third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the taxpayer's tangible property not actually and exclusively used in manufacturing situated within the Commonwealth and whose denominator is the value of all the taxpayer's tangible property where ever situated

(2) Of another third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the expenditures of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employes not exclusively engaged in manufacting in this Commonwealth and assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the total expenditures of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to all its employes

(3) Of the remaining third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross recepits from business not strictly incident or appurtenant to manufacturing in this Commonwealth assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from all its business For the purpose of this section gross receipts heretofore or hereafter received shall not include receipts from the sale redemption maturity or exchange of securities except those held by the taxpayer primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of its trade or business

The sum of the amounts determined in accordance with the foregoing three rules shall be the taxable value In case where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable the remaining third equal part of the value of the entire capital stock shall be divided into two equal parts each of which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules If only one of the three rules is applicable that part of the entire capital stock attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth shall be determined solely by that rule

The amount assignable to this Commonwealth of expenditures of the taxpayers for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employes shall be such expenditures for the taxable year as represent the wages salaries commissions or other compensation of employes not chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth

The amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth shall be (1) the amount of its gross receipts for the taxable year except those negotiated or affected in behalf of the taxpayer by agents or agencies chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth and except rents and royalties and interest and dividends (2) rentals or royalties from property situated or from the use of patents within this Commonwealth and (3) dividends and interest except such dividends and interest attributable to the business conducted on premises maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth If a taxpayer maintains an office warehouse or other place of business in a state other than this Commonwealth for the purpose of reducing its tax under this subsection the Department of Revenue shall in determining the amount of its gross reciepts from business assignable to this Commonwealth include therein the gross reciepts attributed by the taxpayer to the business conducted at such place of business in another state

In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office in the State of Pennsylvania but performed outside the State the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable outside the State except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the State and partly outside the State such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in Pennsylvania under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office outside the State but performed in the State the gross reciepts under such contract shall be assignable to the State except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross reciepts are attributable shall occur partly within the State and partly outside the State such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in the State under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total cost incurred thereunder for the taxable year

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all the tangible property or the expenditures of a taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation or the gross receipts of the taxpayer are found to be situated incurred or received without the Commonwealth

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subsection (b) the franchise tax of five mills imposed by subsection (b) on reports filed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one one thousand nine hundred fifty-two one thousand nine hundred fifty-three one thousand nine hundred fifty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-five and one thousand nine hundred fifty-six and for fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one one thousand nine hundred fifty-two one thousand nine hundred fifty-three one thousand nine hundred fifty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-five and one thousand nine hundred fifty-six shall apply to the taxation of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors without excluding from the numerators of the applicable fractions tangible property actually and exclusively used in manufacturing compensation of employes exclusively engaged in manufacturing and gross receipts from business strictly incident or appurtenant to manufacturing

After said ten year period the provisions of this subsection shall apply to the taxation of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes

Section 3 This amending act shall take effect as of January 1 1956 for corporations reporting on a calendar year basis or as of the first day of any fiscal year beginning in the calendar year 1956 for corporations reporting on a fiscal year basis

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I request the Chair to return to page 10 of today's calendar, House Bill No. 1387.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1387 as follows:

An Act amending the act of May 13, 1915 (P. L. 286) entitled "An act to provide for the health safety and welfare of minors By forbidding their employment or work in certain establishments and occupations and under certain specified ages by restricting their hours of labor and regulating certain conditions of their employment by requiring employment certificates for certain minors and prescribing the kinds thereof and the rules for the issuance reissuance filing return and recording of the same by providing that the Industrial Board shall under certain conditions determine and declare whether certain occupations are within the prohibitions of this act requiring that certain minors shall during the period of their employment attend certain schools to be established as herein provided and to be approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and regulating the conditions of such attendance authorizing the State Board of Education in certain cases to appoint attendance officers to aid in enforcing the provisions of this act and creating the salary and expenses of such officers a charge against the school district wherein they are employed requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry the attendance officers of school districts and police officers and defining the procedure in prosecutions thereunder and establishing certain presumptions in relation thereto providing penalties for the violation of the provisions thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith" regulating the employment of minors on farms

Section 1 The first paragraph of section 1 act of May 13, 1915 (P. L. 286) entitled "An act to provide for the health safety and welfare of minors By forbidding their employment or work in certain establishments and occupations and under certain specified ages by restricting their hours of labor and regulating certain conditions of their employment by requiring employment certificates for certain minors and prescribing the kinds thereof and the rules for the issuance reissuance filing return and recording of the same by providing that the Industrial Board shall under certain conditions determine and declare whether certain occupations are within the prohibitions of this act requiring that certain minors shall during the period of their employment attend certain schools to be established as therein provided and to be approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and regulating the conditions of such attendance authorizing the State Board of Education in certain cases to appoint attendance officers to aid in enforcing the provisions of this act and creating the salary and expenses of such officers a charge against the school district wherein they are employed requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry the attendance officers of school districts and police officers and defining the procedure in prosecutions thereunder and establishing certain presumptions in relation thereto providing penalties for the violation of the provisions thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith" amended May 21 1943 (P. L. 409) is amended to read

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That wherever the term "establishment" is used in this act it shall mean any place within this Commonwealth where work is done for compensation of any kind to whomever payable Provided That this act shall not apply to children employed on the farm or in domestic service in private homes except as provided in section 8.1 of this act

Section 2 The act is amended by adding after section 8 a new section to read

(c) The Special Farm Permit shall authorize employment of the minor on a farm during school vacations and outside school hours It shall be issued for a period of six months only on forms supplied by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and shall contain the nature of the work for which the Special Farm Permit is legal the minor's name address date of birth proof of age and parents' (or legal guardian's) names the issuing and expiration date of the Special Farm Permit and shall bear a number and be signed by the issuing officer Every permit shall be signed by the minor for whom it is issued in the presence of the issuing officer The permit shall be presented to the employer by the minor before starting work It shall be valid only when signed by the employer and shall show his address and the dates of the beginning and the ending of his employment of the child The employer shall return the Special Farm Permit to the child when the employment is ended

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WORLEY. I would like to ask for a slow roll call on this bill and only those answering to their names be recorded.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I want to call the attention of the Members of the House to this bill, which is important in that it provides for the health, safety and welfare of minors. If there were any objections to this bill, they have been eliminated.

You will note this bill does not apply to small farms, it does not apply to farms that have less than twelve employes. You will also note the age has been changed so that it now applies to minors under twelve years of age. It, therefore, has eliminated any problems which may exist as to boys or girls of thirteen or fourteen years of age. It still preserves the School Code provisions relating to certificates.

I therefore feel that all of the Members can safely vote for this bill which is of considerable importance to the labor movement.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to oppose House Bill 1387, Printer's No. 1547. The present School Code provides the following:

1. No person shall employ anyone under the age of eighteen years during school hours unless he has an employment certificate.

2. Every person employing a child between the ages of fourteen and eighteen must file a report to the supervising principal semi-annually, stating the name, age, address and other information of every child in his employ.

3. Any person employing children between the age of fourteen and eighteen must post a list of such children at a conspicuous place.

4. Non-resident children sixteen years or under are prohibited from being employed in any fruit or vegetable growing or harvesting process during the time in which the state requires that he be in school. And before any child under sixteen years of age, not a resident of Pennsylvania, may be employed, his employer shall have received a school requirement certificate issued by the principal of the school attended by the child.

In addition to these present provisions of the School Code, the bill sets up certain inequalities as stated below:

Section 8.1 (a) (1) discriminates against the farmer, who, by his type of enterprise, be it fruit or vegetable, needs large requirements of labor for his operation. He would be unable to employ anyone under twelve years of age, while his neighbor, with a requirement of less than twelve employes, could use these workers under twelve years of age. This also tends to prohibit employment rather than encourage full employment. Some of the best peach or apple pickers today are youngsters, working for the going rate per bushel, earning a good wage, and getting some of the best training available for young folks today. To prohibit this would only be robbing them of useful spending money and forcing them to have more free time to be part of our fast increasing juvenile crime crisis.

Although the bill provides that the provisions do not apply to a minor employed by his parent or guardian, it still prohibits the useful training and utilization of farm boys.

Farmers do not and cannot work entirely on an hourly basis. The entire industry depends on the weather. When a crop is ripe, it must be harvested lest it spoil on the tree or vine. Some days require more than an eight hour day, and likewise there are days when much less than eight hours can be worked. We do not believe that you can legislate against the weather.

In summary, the Public School Code of 1949 clearly specifies proper educational requirements for farm employes. We do not believe that Legislators should decide whether or not youngsters should work in the summertime. This decision should be left up to the individual and his parents for they are in a position to know whether or not working on a farm will be harmful or helpful to the health, safety and welfare of their child.

I respectfully recommend that you vote "no" on House Bill 1387.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call to the attention of the House the fact that this bill would change some of the fees to be charged and collected by the Secretary of the Commonwealth for some of his functions.

As I recall, the bill was before us one time before and was defeated. I believe the Secretary of the Commonwealth has prepared a memorandum and sent information out concerning the need for this to various Members. It is my hope that the bill can be passed.

None of the changes are unreasonable in my opinion, and some of them have been in the books at their present figure for many years. If we are going to have the Commonwealth departments perform various functions for business, and so forth, I think the people who require their services should be requested and made to pay an honest and fair fee for their work. That is what this bill seeks to do.

I hope that we can pass the bill today.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Messrs. GOLDSTEIN and AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 14, page 8, lines 18 and 19, by striking out "six thousand dollars ($6,000) for each odd-numbered year and"; Amend Sec. 14, page 8, line 20, by striking out "even-numbered".

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, this amendment relates specifically to the salary and expense allowances contemplated in amended Senate Bill 317.

As presented to us today, we would obtain in the next biennium in the odd-numbered years a salary of $6,000, in the even-numbered years a salary of $3,000, with an expense account annually of $3,000, or a total take-home pay of $15,000.

The purpose of this amendment is to reduce the amount we will receive from both sources to $12,000. I call to your earnest attention that when we were elected our salary and expense allowance was $6,000, it was later increased to $9,000, and now we are asked to increase our salary and our expense allowance to $15,000.

I do not wish to engage in argument with those who believe we are entitled to extra sums of money, nor do I depreciate the work done by many of us on both sides of the House. However, I believe that a salary increase in less than two years of almost 250 per cent is not warranted in view of the extremely tight budget which faces Pennsylvania today.

In so far as my own situation in Allegheny County and the city of Pittsburgh is concerned, if we would eliminate this $3,000, it would amount to 260 times $3,000. or $768,000, enough to give the city of Pittsburgh public schools the revenue which they need for the school children of our district.

I thank the Members for their applause. I do not introduce this particular amendment with any desire to be a Sir Galahad or in any spirit of bravado, but because I believe that in the interest of economy and in the interest of sound judgment, if we are paid a salary and expense allowance of $12,000 that is sufficient.

If a time in the future would indicate we are to have annual sessions, I say we should face that particular situation when we do have annual sessions However, the sum of $12,000 is ample compensation for the men who are in the House today.

The best indication that $12,000 is ample compensation is that the great majority of us filed our petitions for reelection and renomination when the base salary and expenses account was $9,000. We are men who must vote upon our own increases, and I say we have to be critical of ourselves. I believe we should economize at home first.

I. therefore. ask the Members on both sides of the House, including those who applauded me, to vote for this amendment.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, speaking on these amendments, I speak as an individual Legislator and not as the Flood Leader. I think this is a matter which must be decided individually by each Member of this House. I am now asking the membership to vote against these amendments

As the gentleman from Allegheny has pointed out, if the bill remains as it is now before us in its amended form, we would receive in a two-year period total compensation and expenses of $15,000, $9,000 in the odd-numbered years and $6,000 in the even-numbered years.

His amendment, which is before us for consideration at the moment, would cut that total compensation to $12,000 at the rate of $6,000 each year.

I would like to call the attention of the membership to the fact that this Senate Bill 317 repeals certain laws which are now on the books concerning special sessions.

As you know, if the Governor calls us into a special session and it lasts less than one calendar month, we receive $500 compensation. If it goes beyond one month. it is $750 per Member. If we would accept the amendments of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, and there was a special session, you would have a net gain of about $2,250 because the difference in the compensation we would receive for a special session and the amount he would allow us would leave a difference of $2,250.

At any rate, he says to deal with this matter of annual sessions when they arise. I would like to point out to the membership that not because of this unusually long session, but because of the way the economy of Pennsylvania has developed over the years and the fact that the Senate has bottled up our resolution, which would put on the ballot this coming November the question of whether we should have annual sessions, I think we are going to have annual sessions from now on.

I think the time has come when we should reappraise our own worth to the people of Pennsylvania as Legislators. It is true if we did not pass this bill changing our salaries we would save some money. We would not spend that money paying men and women who come up here a salary increase. Perhaps the school districts could be taken care of with that money, but by the same token if we had been paid over the years what we should have been we probably would not have needed the sales tax to finance the Commonwealth, we would have had so much money in the treasury.

I think we simply have been very, very reticent as Members of a legislative body in recognizing what we are worth as Legislators.

I am not sure what will happen to this bill when it gets back to the Senate by way of remaining as it is now written or being changed. I do know it is intended to place this into a Conference Committee by the Senate refusing to concur in whatever amendments we make to it. You must remember it started out as a bill relating solely to judges' salaries and there has been a change made in that phase of the bill, also. The original bill provided for $4,000 increase to some judges and $5,000 for others. It has been amended here in the House to provide for $5,000 for all judges.

It has also been amended to include an increase in some of the executive salaries, salaries which should have been raised years ago but never were. Some of those increases will affect those who are now holding office, if they resign and are reappointed, and some of the increases will not go into effect until the present incumbent of the executive office is replaced by somebody else

I am hoping that today we can keep Senate Bill 317 intact as it has been amended. We can pass it and have it put into a Conference Committee so this whole matter can be discussed more fully. Frankly, I do not know what the Governor of Pennsylvania, will do about these increases. I do not know whether he will agree to them, whether he will veto them, or what he will do, but I think it is about time we indicated to the people of Pennsylvania that we do think we have been underpaid and are underpaid.

With all due respect to the gentleman from Allegheny, maybe he thinks we are now going to overpay ourselves.

It is an individual matter. Some Members will vote against this bill today because they are afraid they will go back to their districts and somebody will say, "Why you voted to increase your salary." Some people will not be afraid to do that, and others will honestly vote against it because they do not think we are worth what we are getting today. I hope there are not many of those, but there probably are some.

There were several times around here when I looked around for some Members and could not find them and I began to think they were not worth what they are getting now. But that is beside the point.

I think the time has come, despite all the editorial comment—and take it from me, we are going to have some adverse editorial comments. No matter whether we raise our salaries by $5.00 a month or $5,000 a month, there are going to be those who will harp, and pick, and say, "You are not worth what you are getting now."

You have read the same editorials I have probably, in which the writer said that because we "fumbled around" here, as he called it, for fourteen months trying to agree on some tax program we are not worth our own salt, we are not worth what we are getting paid now, but I say comments like that do not disturb me.

We have been here, many of us, for years, we know how many hours we put in, we know how much real hard work is done here. If we are not willing to appraise our own dignity and worth at a higher figure than we are now being paid, then I say we underestimate ourselves.

I can well remember when Congressmen were paid $10,000 a year and they met about the same length of time we did, four, or five, or six months. They are now meeting eight, or nine, or ten months a year, but they did raise their salaries, as I recall, to $22,500. I think they are worth it, I think it should have been done. There was a lot of adverse criticism then on the part of the Press and on the part of many individuals.

The day does come when we should take a stand on these things, and I am asking that these amendments be defeated today and that Senate Bill 317 be passed as it is written.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, as cosponsor of this amendment with my colleague from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, I rise to speak in favor of it.

We who favor this amendment favor every other feature of Senate Bill No. 317. We believe the Governor of the Commonwealth, being the chief executive of the largest business in Pennsylvania, should receive a comparable salary with other chief executives of large businesses. He should get at least $35,000 a year. His cabinet officers are well deserving of their increases. The judges for the courts of common pleas in the Commonwealth, because of their social, economic and professional status in the community, to say nothing of the service they can and should render in the community, are well deserving of their increases in this bill.

Mr. Speaker, we did not submit these amendments reducing the total compensation in a biennium for Legislators from $15,000 to $12,000 because we wanted to win a popularity contest in this House. We knew it was an unpopular amendment, but I think we must be honest with ourselves and we must be fair with the people.

We are part-time Legislators during a part of the biennium and $15,000 for the bennium is a full-time salary. I do not see how it can be justified.

When we started this biennium our total compensation was $6,600 for the biennium. We have already increased that, Mr. Speaker, by $100 a month. Now to increase it to $15,000 a year is approximately a 235 per cent increase in one biennium. We are asking for a reduction of $3,000 in this amount, and we will vote for that. We believe Legislators should have their compensation increased, and that is an 85 per cent increase in one biennium. I think it is sufficient to take care of our needs, to adequately compensate us for the time we spend away from our businesses and to compensate us for our expenses in coming down to Harrisburg and staying here.

I ask the Members of the House to favor this amendment. I think we have to be honest with ourselves and fair with the people when we vote for our own pay bills.

I would say just one more thing. There is a very strong rumor in this House that the amount is going to be reduced to $12,000 in Conference Committee, anyway. Why do you want us to go on record for $15,000 when it is going be reduced to $12,000 in Conference Committee? What are you up to?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to caution the gentleman from Allegheny and the other Members not to pay too much attention to rumors. I hear rumors every day and sometimes they are true and sometimes they are not true. I do not even know who will be on the Conference Committee on this bill, if it ever gets to one. I repeat, do not think the gentleman should be too concerned about rumors. I think he can conscientiously vote for this bill at $15,000 if the amendments go down, because it puts into operation the machinery by which a final determination can be made on this matter.

Personally, I think $15,000 is not too high. He thinks it is and that $12,000 is the right figure. I say it is an honest difference of opinion. Let us each vote our own opinion on the matter. If he wins, he wins; if he loses, he loses. I still would like to see him vote for the bill because in principle he agrees that we should have an increase in our compensation.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, this Senate Bill 317, Printer's No. 595, as rewritten by the Democratic controlled Appropriations Committee of this House, is the Leader administration's raid on the public treasury of this Commonwealth.

I am very glad that I did not vote for the new taxes signed by our Governor when I see bills like this.

Mr. Speaker, I request that I be recorded as voting "no."

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I am at a complete loss to understand the gentleman's last statement. He is very happy that he did not vote for any tax bills when he sees bills like this, but I would like to know how he saw this bill when it was not even written at the time he voted against all the tax bills.

Mr. Speaker, I do not want to make an issue of that, but I could not let such a statement go by unchallenged.

I expect anybody who wants to speak against this bill in principle and state why he thinks it is not good, and so forth, to get up on the floor and do so. Just because it increases our compensation, in addition to the executive and the judicial offices, is no reason why anybody should feel he should not take the floor in opposition. Certainly not all of us believe that we are so wonderful that we are entitled to more money.

I would request the membership to not applaud so loudly when somebody gets up to oppose this. I think the members are entitled to be heard and should be heard.

Mr. BAZIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, for one minute, please.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BAZIN. Mr. Speaker, I just heard the Majority Leader say this bill was not written at the time the sales tax and the other tax bills were passed. I also understand that the passed tax bill was insufficient to take care of the Governor's requested programs. Now, how much money, additional money, is this increase bill going to take?

Mr. POLEN. You mean so far as the legislative salaries are concerned?

Mr. BAZIN. So far as everybody is concerned, Mr. Speaker? I am not a lawyer, I do not have to apologize to the judges.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I do not have the figures here for the amount it will cost for all of the items included, but it is an easily calculated matter so far as the Members of the Legislature are concerned. I believe there are 260 Members at $6,000 additional, that is $1,560,000.

Mr. BAZIN. Mr. Speaker, is that just for the Legislators?

Mr. POLEN. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BAZIN. Mr. Speaker, I imagine, then, the judges' increase would be much greater than that?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I think the judges' increase is approximately $210,000, as I recall it. I do not have the figures available.

I think I can get them, if the gentleman wants them. I understand the judges' increase is over a million dollars, Mr. Toll has told me, per year.

Mr. BAZIN. That will be a figure at this point. I am not allergic to an increase myself, believe me.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the gentleman wish to interrogate the gentleman from Washington further?

Mr. BAZIN. Yes, Mr. Speaker, just one more question, please.

If this bill is passed, is there any other bill being considered to take care of this increase?

Mr. POLEN. Any other bill to take care of this increase, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. BAZIN. Any tax bill, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. POLEN. I do not know of any additional tax bill that is being considered at this time. There is approximately $150 million of tax bills which the House has passed now in the Senate, which they can act upon.

Mr. BAZIN. That will be all, thank you.

Mr. Speaker, I believe the Majority Leader made a statement, I do not know how many members picked it up, to the effect that there presently was no money available to pay this increase. That means we are going to have come back and vote for some additional taxes. I am not allergic to an increase, but I sure am allergic to voting for any further taxes until some tax program is devised to take care of this large increase.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. BAZIN. At this time I wish to make a motion that the bill be recommitted to the Appropriations Committee until a tax program suitable to cover the expenses of this bill is brought out on the floor.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman's motion is in order.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BAZIN. I will ask for a roll call, if some brave man will second it.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair hears no second for a roll call.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to point out that any increase for Legislators would not take effect in this biennium. It does not affect any person who is now in office as a Legislator. It will take effect and be effective as to anybody who is elected in November of this year and to no other ones.

The only money required in this biennium, and the gentleman has raised the question concerning the amount of taxes available, and so forth, would be for the executives whose salaries are raised from $15,000 to $20,000 and who might see fit to resign from office and be reappointed and reconfirmed by the Senate. In some cases that may be done, and in other cases it may not be done. If it were not done then none of the executives who have been appointed for a certain definite term of office would be affected. The money needed would be required to pay the judges who under the law may have their salaries changed while they are in office.

Depending upon the time when this might go into effect, the amount of money necessary to pay them for this biennium could be computed. I believe the bill is effective as to them as of June 1, 1956, so there would be one year's salary for the judges involved in this biennium.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the motion to recommit was not seconded and is not now before us and the bill on final reading is now before us.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is in error. The motion was a roll call was not seconded. The motion to recommit does not require a second.

Mr. MOSCRIP. I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader, please, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOSCRIP. I want a point made clear, Mr. Speaker. I am asking this question for information only and not to try to trap the Majority Leader.

The Majority Leader stated there would be no funds required in this biennium to pay the increase in legislative salaries. I wish the gentleman would explain to us, please, where the money will come from to pay us—or whoever is back here in our place—for the months of January through May, inclusive, 1957.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman's question is well put. I am afraid I have been making some misstatements without intending to do so. I forget that we come back in January of 1957 and that we will have to be paid. To that extent there will be six months of increased salary as provided for in this bill which would be paid to us during this present biennium.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, just briefly, I am very happy to inform the Majority Leader, the gentleman from Berks, that my cosponsor to the amendment which was just defeated, Mr. Goldstein, and I will be very happy to vote for this bill as a means of expediting it through the House and the Senate. We will do that with a certain amount of reluctance, however, and with the sincere hope that the Conference Committee will reduce it to the figure we mentioned in our amendment.

Mr. VARNER. I was sitting here listening to the debate, Mr. Speaker, and I got the idea that one way we might help provide for the increase in salaries for future Legislators would be to find someone who is on the state payroll in our respective counties who is not necessary. I think I can find a couple in my county, and the saving could be applied then to my successor, who may be myself.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, perhaps I am not in order, but this is a matter which is receiving considerable comment throughout the Commonwealth, particularly from school teachers and other people interested in salary increases. I think it is in poor taste that we pass this on a fast roll call, and for that reason I will ask for a slow roll call, if it is in order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For the information of the gentleman, the Chair was about to request a slow roll call with only those answering to their names being recorded.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. WALSH filed the following reasons for his vote.

Mr. Speaker. In explanation of my voting against Senate Bill No. 317 which raises the salaries and compensation of the Judges of the Commonwealth, of certain State Officers, and of the Members of the General Assembly, I wish to have printed in the Journal my petition for doing so.

Let me state at the outset that while I heartily approve the salary increase for certain Judges and some Governmental Offices designated in Senate Bill No. 317, I vehemently disapprove the exhorbitant and unreasonable increase contained in the same bill for Members of the General Assembly. I am not voting against my fellow members, since the bill should it become law, would, under the Constitution, be applicable only to future Legislators elected to the General Assembly.

The effect of this bill by its outrageous increases for the General Assembly would lower the dignity of the high office of a Legislator and measure it for its monetary value in place of its position of service and duty for the general welfare of the Comomnwealth.

To me, holding the position of Legislator and serving the Commonwealth is a great honor and one of deep pride. The greatest thing a person can do is to serve his Government and when I took the oath as a Legislator I did so not for the salary it was then paying but because I have certain deep convictions that would enhance the Government of the Commonwealth and provide better services for the people. To vote for higher raises is repugnant to my political philosophy and my sincere convictions of holding the office of Legislator.

Furthermore, I am opposed to this bill now and have been opposed to it since I was elected because I have always fought for economy in Government. While I am for increased services and facilities for the people of the Commonwealth I do not believe that increasing salaries of the Members of the General Assembly would be beneficial to the general welfare of the people.

I am informed that tax legislation, as now passed, is close to $100 mililon short of what the Adminitsration feels is necessary to carry out our Mental Health and Welfare and Hospital Program and at the same time provide for our educational needs. It becomes evident that some part of our program must suffer. . . . and I do not feel that in view of the fact we have a waiting list of close to 600 unfortunate children waiting for admission to Polk and other institutions, that I could in good conscience vote for any legislation that would endanger any part of this necessary program for self gain.

While the sponsors of the bill may disagree with my philosophy and position on this bill, I nevertheless am firmly convinced that I could not conscientiously vote for this bill and must therefore vote against it.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 318, as follows:

An Act pertaining to the payment of compensation to judges upon retirement under certain conditions and imposing duties on certain State officers

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 In this act (a) "judge" shall mean the Chief Justice and any judge of the Supreme Court the President Judge and any judge of the Superior Court and any judge of any court of common pleas or orphans' court and any judge of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia the County Court of Allegheny County and the Juvenile Court of Allegheny County holding any such office at any time on or after the effective date of this act regardless of whether or not he holds such office at the time he otherwise becomes eligible for the benefits of this act

(b) "Final salary" shall mean the salary received by a judge during the last twelve months of his active service as a judge

Section 2 Any judge who has served at least one full elective term or ten years in the aggregate continuously or otherwise in one or more of the judicial offices referred to in section 1(a) hereof shall upon attaining the age of sixty-five years or thereafter at such times as he shall otherwise qualify be paid annually in equal monthly installments during the remainder of his life a sum equal to two and one-half per centum of his final salary for each year he served as a judge subject to the deductions therefrom provided in section 5 of this act

In order to qualify for such payments the judge must

(a) Give to the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the written notice required by section 3 of this act and

(b) Hold himself in readiness to advise his successors in judicial office and their colleagues and to perform such duties as special master referee auditor or examiner in such ways as he may reasonably be able to do

No judge shall be eligible to receive such payments so long as he is in active service as a judge

Section 3 Any judge who becomes eligible for and desires to obtain the benefits of this act shall file with the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a written notice of his election to receive the benefits of this act accompanied by a statement in writing of his willingness to hold himself in readiness to advise his successors and their colleagues and perform such duties as special master referee auditor or examiner in such ways as he may be able to do He shall simultaneously therewith file executed copies of the notice and statement with the State Employes' Retirement Board He shall be entitled to and receive payments under this act from the date the notice is received by the Governor

Section 4 Any judge who shall become incapacitated while in judicial office by reason of his health or physical disability and for this reason shall not be able to render full and efficient service to the Commnowealth in his judicial capacity shall be eligible to receive the payments provided for in this section if he has served at least one full elective term or ten years in the aggregate as a judge and shall have attained the age of sixty years or if he has served at least two full elective terms or twenty years in the aggregate as a judge and shall have attained the age of fifty years and otherwise qualifies under section 2 upon receiving notice of such judge's election to receive the benefits of this section the Governor shall appoint three physicians who are residents of this Commonwealth who shall examine such judge and report to the Governor as to the applicant's incapacity by reason of his health or physical disability and if they find the disability exists whether in all reasonable probability it will continue permanently and does and will continue to prevent the applicant from giving full and efficient service to the Commonwealth in the regular performance of his judicial duties If it is made to appear by such report that the disability exists and that it will in all reasonable probability continue permanently and if the Governor approves the report the Governor shall file it with his approval endorsed thereon with the Secretary of the Commonwealth and a copy thereof with the State Employes' Retirement Board as of the date of such approval the applicant shall be retired from further active service as a judge and he shall be paid annually in equal monthly installments from the date of his retirement for disability until he attains the age of sixty-five years a sum equal to one-third of his final salary subject however to deductions therefrom as provided in section 5 of this act Thereafter he shall be entitled to a continuation of such payments during the remainder of his life or to the payments provided in section 2 of this act whichever shall be greater

Section 5 The annual payments provided in this act to be paid to any person qualified under sections 2 or 4 hereof shall not exceed eighty per centum of his final salary and shall be reduced by the amount of the total payments if any he is entitled to receive annually as a member of the State Employes' Retirement System as State and members' annuities on the basis of the full superannuation allowance to which he is entitled or disability allowance in accordance with the provisions of the State Employes' Retirement Law act of June 27, 1923 (P. L. 858) as amended and in no event shall supplemented and the payments that he is entitled to receive under this act together with his state and members's annuities exceed eighty per centum of his final salary any judge who is not a member of the State Employes' Retirement System shall in no event receive under the provisions of this act more than he would have received had he been a member of the State Employes' Retirement System during the entire period of his eligibility for such membership the State Employes' Retirement Board upon receipt of its copy of the judge's notice of election to receive the benefits of this act shall forthwith certify to the State Treasurer and Auditor General whether or not he is a member of the State Employes' Retirement System and if he is a member the total annual amount from all annuities to which he is entitled as a member of the State Employes' Retirement System and if he is not a member the total annual amount from all annuities to which he would have been entitled if he had been such a member during the period of his eligibilty for such membership the calculation and determination of the payments to be made under the provisions of this act and the distribution and payment thereof to the judges entitled thereto shall be made by and under the supervision and direction of the State Employes' Retirement System

Section 6 No judge while accepting payments provided for in this act shall be entitled to any additional compensation for the performance of any duties assigned to him under this act but such judge shall not be obliged to accept an assignment or duty from any court other than the court of the judicial district of which he was a member at the time of his resignation or retirement

Section 7 This act is intended as additional legislation and shall not be construed as repealing the act of June 27, 1923 (P. L. 858) establishing a State Employes' Retirement System or the amendments and supplements thereto All other acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are repealed

Section 8 This act shall take effect June 1, 1956

On the question,

Wil lthe House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, this Senate Bill 318 is the judges' retirement raid on the public treasury.

By means of this bill the Leader administration will place the judges in a better position financially when they are retired than when they are on the judicial bench. This is all done for the purpose of baiting our judges to retire so that the courts can then be packed with Leader administration appointments.

This bill, if enacted into law, will damage the taxpayers and citizens of this Commonwealth in three ways.

First, it will waste the taxpayer's money for the reason that the judges now receive more than plenty;

Second, it will create a non-experienced flow of patronage into the judicial chambers of this Commonwealth;

Third, it will give the control of Pennsylvania's judiciary to Pennsylvania's chief executive and thereby threaten the separation of powers between the judicial and executive branches of this government. This would fast put us on the road to a government by the will of men rather than a state government wherein the law itself is supreme.

In the interest of the constitution and in the interest of saving thousands and millions of dollars for the taxpayers of this Commonwealth, I ask you to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I gather from the remarks of the gentleman from Adams, that he does not like judges. What the reason for that might be I do not know, but I am convinced he probably has some reason for not liking certain judges and he would like to spread that feeling to the whole judiciary.

This bill will improve the judges' pension system, and in my opinion it is a well deserved change. The gentleman says it is designed in some diabilical way to retire certain judges and so forth. He may say it, but that does not make it so.

Certainly there will be some judges who will retire. There will be some judges who retire whether this bill passes or not. In my opinion a lot of them have served long and well and they deserve retirement, some ease in their old age. We will all get old too some day and we will want to retire. We hope we can retire under an adequate retirement system.

I think the requests made in this bill as it is now before us are reasonable and deserved. I think we should recognize the fact that we must attract good men to the Bench if we are going to have even-handed and proper administration within the judiciary.

I think we can be very proud of the way our judiciary has performed since it was created. I say to you it is highly important that we continue to get good men on the Bench. The way things have been going in this state the last ten years it is getting more difficult all the time to attract the best men to run for judicial office.

This is definitely a step in the right direction and I hope we can pass this bill with an overwhelming vote.

On the question, recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS ON THIRD READING POSTPONED

TIME EXTENDED ON BILLS

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend the time five days on House Bill No. 1240, Printer's No. 1419, on page 15 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. READINGER.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1839 as follows:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905) entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety regulating the use of highways and the operation of vehicles tractors street cars trackless trolley omnibuses bicycles pedestrians and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth providing for the titling including liens encumbrances and legal claims registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof upon payment of prescribed fees prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Department of Highways peace officers mayors burgesses magistrates aldermen justices of the peace the courts and the clerks thereof owners of vehicles and garage keepers providing that records are admissible as evidence imposing upon owners counties cities boroughs incorporated towns townships within the Commonwealth liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles imposing penalties imposing certain costs upon counties providing for the disposition of fines forfeitures fees and miscellaneous receipts making an appropriation and providing for refunds changing the definition of the word "chassis" to include a rear bumper and requiring passenger motor vehicles to be equipped with certain types of exhaust pipes

Section 1 The definition of the word "chassis" in section 102 act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905) known as "The Vehicle Code" amended May 18, 1949 (P. L. 1412) is amended to read

Section 102 Definitions The following words and phrases when used in this act shall for the purpose of this act have the meanings respectively ascribed to them in this section except in those instances where the context clearly indicates a different meaning

"Chassis" The chassis of a motor vehicle to be propelled by an internal combustion or steam engine shall consist of an assembly of all essential parts with protective housings ready for operation on the highway including as minimum equipment a set of tires attached to wheels driver's seat including cab (except in the case of commercial motor vehicles designed for a maximum gross weight of five thousand (5000) pounds or less where the cab shall be excluded) front wheel fenders running board or mounting step tool compartment priming coat on all parts to be painted pair of front lamps and one rear lamp license brackets jack and a set of tools commonly used for making adjustments and minor repairs on the highway water oil and fuel and in the case of passenger motor vehicles except motor buses and motor omnibuses a rear bumper attached to the body

Section 2 The act is amended by adding after section 808.1 a new section to read

Section 808.2 Exhaust Pipes Construction (a) All new passenger motor vehicles except motor buses and motor omnibuses an application for registration for which is made on or after the effective date of this act shall be equipped with an exhaust pipe extending to the rear portion of the chassis and shall be of solid construction pipe or tubing

(b) When any exhaust pipe is replaced on any passenger motor vehicle except motor buses and motor omnibuses it shall be replaced with a solid construction pipe or tubing extending to the rear portion of the chassis

(c) The secretary shall refuse to title or issue registration for any new motor vehicle that does not meet the requirements of this section

Penalty Any person being the owner of any motor vehicle and any person engaged or employed by him who causes to be replaced or replaces an exhaust pipe in violation of subsection (b) of this section shall upon summary conviction be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one hundred ($100) dollars and in default of payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than thirty (30) days

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inform the Members of the House that this is the so-called "short tailpipe bill." The Secretary of Revenue of the Commonwealth thinks it is a good bill. He thinks the present law should not allow a certain type of car to have the kind of tailpipe it has.

I leave it to the Members' good judgment to decide whether it is good or bad.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, very briefly, I should not be pleading for my competitors, but there is really not a thing wrong with the tailpipe on the 1956 Chrysler, I assure you. Of course, it might better be a Buick they are driving, but if they insist on driving a Chrysler I still say that there is nothing wrong with the tailpipe, and the Attorney General says the same thing.

They tell me that the Cadillac also uses it, but that being a cheap car I did not want to mention it.

However, if they want to know anything, if there is anything that is not clear on it, I have all the dope from the different testing "labs" here and I will be very glad to go to great lengths to explain why this is not needed legislation and should be defeated.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, since the gentleman is so well-informed, I drive one of those cars with the short tailpipe. The only thing I object to is the fact that every time I look at the bumper in the back it is always dirty, smoky, and smudgy, from the fumes of the exhaust pipe. If he can correct that, I will vote "no" on the bill.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Erie have a correction for the malady from which the gentleman from Allegheny suffers?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker. Buicks do not do that. He might try a different gasoline. You know, I had a little trouble with the machine we had in here last evening. I tried the wrong kind of gas in it. If he and I can get together later on, I will tell him what to do. I hate to say it before the House.

Mr. READINGER. If I may coin a phrase, Mr. Speaker, after last night's delightful party and staying up quite late at night, my tailpipe is dragging. Can we not end this debate?

The SPEAKER. That suits the Speaker.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. To take the Majority Leader off the hook, I think we should vote on this bill and kill it, because otherwise he might have an undesirable name attached to him.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

APPROPRIATION BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1675, Printer's No. 1614

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1904, Printer's No. 1612 and

House Bill No. 1984, Printer's No. 1572

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2051, as follows:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" changing the powers and duties of the county board of school directors removing certain merger provisions and changing the procedure in the formation of union districts

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Subarticle (e) of Article II and sections 251 252 253 and 254 act of March 10 1949 (P. L. 30) known as the "Public School Code of 1949" are repealed

Section 2 The act is amended by adding after section 243 a new subarticle to Article II to read

(e) Union Districts

Section 251 How Formed Any two or more school districts or parts thereof may form a union school district in the following manner

A petition requesting the submission of the question of forming the proposed union school district to the electors of the respective districts shall be directed to the court of quarter sessions Such petitions shall be signed by (1) at least a majority of the members of the board of school directors of each of the respective school districts or (2) any elector of either district and at least twenty-five per centum of the registered voters of each district or (3) by at least a majority of the members of the county board of school directors

Such petitions when approved in writing by the county board of school directors and by the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be presented to the court of quarter sessions by the county board of school directors In cases where the school districts or parts thereof are situated in more than one county the petitions shall be presented to the court of quarter sessions of the county containing the largest proportion of the population of the proposed union school district as determined by the last United States census and shall be presented by the county board of school directors of such county which court and county board of school directors shall have exclusive jurisdiction over the matter

The petition shall request the submission of the question whether or not the respective districts or parts thereof shall be united into a union school district to the electors of each school district affected thereby at the next general or municipal election to be held at least ninety days after presentation of said petition to the court The question to be submitted to the electors shall be framed by the court and be by it certified to the county commissioners for submission to the electors of each district affected thereby The question shall be submitted in the form and manner provided by the general election laws of the Commonwealth for the submission of similar questions

Section 252 Returns of Election A certificate of the returns of the election shall be filed with the Superintendent of Public Instruction the clerk of the court of quarter sessions of the county having jurisdiction the county board of school directors and the board of school directors of each of the school districts affected thereby. The union school district shall be established if a majority of the total number of votes cast in each school district by the electors voting on the question shall be in favor of forming the union district

Section 253 When Effective Classification Whenever any union school district is authorized by the electorate as herein provided the district shall become effective for operating purposes on the first Monday of July following the authorization The members of the boards of directors of the component districts shall constitute an interim union board which shall organize during the month of December following the authorization of the union district by electing a president vice-president and secretary each of whom shall serve until the first Monday of July when the newly created district becomes effective at which time the union district board shall be organized The interim union board shall with respect to management of the affairs of the union district have the same powers and duties as are now conferred or imposed by law upon school boards generally

The classification of any such union school district shall be determined by the combined population of all of the districts united as shown by the last census of the United States

Section 254 Assets and Liabilities of Component Districts Whenever any union school district is formed as herein provided all debts and liabilities of the several component districts shall become the debts of the union school district unless otherwise provided by an agreement in writing approved by a majority vote of each board of school directors prior to the time said question of forming a union school district is submitted to the voters All rights of creditors against any of the component districts shall be preserved against the union district All property heretofore vested in the several component districts shall become vested in the union district and all debts and taxes owing to and uncollected in the several component districts and all moneys in the treasuries of the several component districts shall be paid to the treasurer of the new union district In cases where only a part of a component district is included in the union district the adjustment and apportionment of assets and liabilities of the part included and the part excluded from the union district shall be made as hereinafter provided

Section 3 The heading of subarticle (f) of Article II and section 261 of the act are amended to read

(f) [Merger of] Reorganization of School Districts

Section 261 Standards and Regulations Approval of Plans The State Council of Education shall adopt and prescribe standards and regulations for the [merger] reorganization of school districts or parts thereof and for the reorganization of attendance areas Such standards and regulations shall take into consideration the following factors topography density of population community interests facility of transportation of pupils financial ability of the district school organization and existing school plants Such standards and regulations may be revised from time to time by the State Council of Education as the need therefor appears

The State Council of Education shall review and approve or disapprove all plans for the [merger] reorganization of school districts or parts of school districts and for the reorganization of [administrative units and] attendance areas submitted by county boards of school directors in accordance with the prescribed standards and regulations

Section 5 The act is amended by adding after section 261 two new sections to read

Section 262 County-wide Plans for Reorganization The county board of school directors shall submit to the State Council of Education countywide plans for the reorganization of school districts or parts thereof and for the reorganization of attendance areas in accordance with the standards and regulations adopted by the State Council of Education In cases where administrative units would include school districts situated in more than one county the plan shall be developed jointly by the respective county boards of school directors and the administrative unit shall be included in the plan for the county containing the largest proportion of the population of the proposed administrative unit as shown by the United States census

Section 263 Submission of Plans to Electorate In the event that any county-wide plan or any component thereof proposing to combine two or more existing school districts into a single administrative unit has been approved by the State Council of Education but has not been approved and assented to by the electors of the school districts affected thereby prior to the effective date of this amendment the county board of school directors shall petition the court of quarter sessions to have the question of forming a union district submitted to the electors as hereinbefore provided at the general election in 1958 Provided however That the county board of school directors may if deemed advisable request the State Council of Education to approve a revision of the plan before presenting its petition to the court

In cases where County-wide plans or any component thereof are approved by the State Council of Education subsequent to the effective date of this amendment the county board of school directors shall within one year from the date of approval by the Council petition the court of quarter sessions to have the question of forming a union district submitted to the electors of the respective districts if the plan proposes to combine two or more existing districts into a single administrative unit

In cases where county-wide plans or any component thereof shall have been submitted to the State Council of Education prior to the effective date of this amendment but has been disapproved by the Council the county board of school directors shall prepare revised plans and submit them to the State Council of Education on or before the first Monday of July 1957 and thereafter as the State Council of Education may direct

In the event the electors do not give assent to the formation of a union district as hereinbefore provided the county board of school directors shall either cause the question to be re-submitted within three years or submit a revised plan to the State Council of Education in accordance with the foregoing procedure

Section 6 Clause (5) of section 925 of the act is amended to read

Section 925 Powers and Duties The county board of school directors [in respect to school districts under the supervision of the county superintendent] shall have power and its duty shall be

(5) To prepare county-wide plans for the [merger] reorganization of school districts or parts of school districts and for the reorganization of attendance areas [and administrative units] and to submit the same to the State Council of Education as hereinbefore required and

To petition the court of quarter sessions to submit the question of forming a union school district in cases where the approved county-wide plan or any component thereof proposing to combine two or more existing school districts into a single administrative unit has been approved

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, yesterday the Pennsylvania State Asosciation of School Directors along with the gentleman from Bradford, Mr. Moscrip, and myself met and amended this bill to take the provisions out of it which were objectionable to him regarding the forming of union districts.

The bill now has been changed to remove the two-thirds majority, which was the main objection. The bill will permit the question to be placed on the ballot for a vote.

Where the bill did provide in the past that if the merger or the union fell on the vote, it could be repeated the second year, it has now been amended to be three years. Where the bill calls for 1956, it has been amended to 1958.

I believe the verification of this statement can be made by Mr. Moscrip, who will certify that this bill now is non-objectionable to all of the teachers, the State School Directors Association and everyone else concerned.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, as far as I am concerned, what Mr. McCann said is true. The basic objection we had was the two-thirds majority. There may be others who have points on which they might feel it is objectionable.

I feel the bill's main objections have been ironed out and, as Mr. McCann says, I think it is all right now.

On the questoin recurring,

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. PETROSKY. I rise to a question of personal privilege, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, during today's session the House acted on House Bills 1941 and 1942 relating to the liquid fuels tax act, on page 11 of today's calendar.

At the time of the consideration of these acts the House Appropriations Committee was meeting and a goodly number of Members were present at that meeting.

I know it was an oversight on the part of the leadership in not having the calendar marked that I wanted to be recognized on the two bills in question, because I spoke to the Majority Leader about it on Tuesday.

However, due to this oversight I was not here and I am assuming that possibly I was voted with the mass membership of the House on these two measures.

I want the record to show that in the event I had been here I would have voted "no" on both the measures which I have specifically mentioned, House Bills 1941 and 1942.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, March 21, 1956.

CONGRATULATING WILKES-BARRE

Mr. Readinger called upon and asked and obtained unanimous consent for the consideration of House Resolution (not printed) in re the 150th anniversary of Wilkes-Barre.

In the House of Representatives, March 20, 1956.

March 17, 1956 marked the 150th birthday anniversary of Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania. It was on this day in the year 1806, that the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania passed the act of March 17, 1806 (P. L. 529) which incorporated the town plot as a borough. The Sesquicentennial observance which shall continue throughout the year with at least a dozen or more separate events, has for its basic theme the "beautification of the valley, its entrances, its homes—the entire area." The seal adopted by the citizenry for this anniversary is "Acclaim the past—proclaim the future."

Although Wilkes-Barre was not incorporated until 1806, it was in the year 1769 that Major John Durkee led a large group of settlers from Connecticut and New York to the valley of Wyoming where they joined the settlers who had previously arrived there in 1762. Immediately upon their arrival, they built Fort Durkee near the river bank upon the site which is now known as West River Street. Shortly after the completion of the fort, Major Durkee, a profound admirer of two Britons, John Wilkes and Col. Isaac Barre, compounded their names into Wilkes-Barre and applied it to the territory in the fort area. Wilkes, a former member of the British Parliament and Col. Barre, who had been an officer in the British army and also a member of Parliament, were defenders of the oppressed American Colonies and denounced the British Parliament's unfair measures in the Colonies. The name "Sons of Liberty" was adopted by the colonists from Col. Barre's speech in violent opposition to the Stamp Act. In commemoration of these three great men, a portrait of Barre was hung in Faneuil Hall (the Cradle of Liberty), a monument of Wilkes and Barre stands today on Public Square and a monument of Major Durkee, Founder of the City, stands upon the site of the original Fort Durkee, on the River Common near South Street and West River Street.

From its humble beginning in 1769, through the trying times prior to and during the American Revolution when the citizens of Wyoming Valley were identified as lovers of liberty and the progressive years thereafter when the borough was recognized as the hub of economic, educational, social and cultural development, the citizens of Wilkes-Barre and the Wyoming Valley have always looked and moved forward with vision to make Wilkes-Barre a leading community in this great Commonwealth. At the official ceremonies to begin the 150 anniversary, highlighted by Mr. Douglas F. Stoner, president and owner of the newspaper feature "Believe It or Not" presenting an article to Mayor Kniffen which stated "Wilkes-Barre furnished more volunteers for the United States Navy than any other city in the U. S. A.," Mayor Kniffen issued his Sesquicentennial proclamation with the keynote that it is time "to reorient ourselves and to prepare for the future in order that Wilkes-Barre may truly take its rightful place in this modern 20th century and make a major contribution in this Atomic Age,"; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives are happy to share the satisfaction and pride of the citizens of Wilkes-Barre in the history of their fair city and extends to the people of Wilkes-Barre its warmest congratulations upon the celebration of the one hundred and fiftieth birthday anniversary observance of the incorporation of their city. It extends congratulations also to Mayor Kniffen and those on the planning committees for their efforts in making this anniversary a successful one; and be it further Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives transmit a copy of this resolution to Luther M. Kniffen, the Mayor of the city of Wilkes-Barre.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Jump.

Mr. JUMP. Mr. Speaker, I want to take this opportunity to thank the Rules Committee and the Members of this House on behalf of the Mayor of the city of Wilkes-Barre and the committees that are working so hard to make the 150th Anniversary the Sesquicentennial Anniversary, at Wilkes-Barre a success.

I want to thank each and every one of you.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, March 26, 1956 at 1:00 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 7:05 p. m.) the House adjourned.
